AUTO INDUSTRY PREDICTS VAST SALES IN PEACE

Prices to Advance 25 to 40%.

[This is the fourth in a series of articles on a Tribune survey of the post-war outlook.]

BY HAL FOUST.

The pleasure driver will return to the highway soon after this war is ended. This morning, we're able to report that the new automobile, new tires, and full gas tank are not as remote as the public heretofore has been led to fear.

The number of recreational drivers on the highway is going to increase rapidly, once the war is over. Their roadside spending is going to become a major factor in national economy, even greater than in the pre-war era, when their annual expenditures were estimated at 3 billion dollars.

Industry's Own Analyses.

Our cheerful contradiction of gloomy statements from burocrats and industry leaders was obtained from a survey prepared by tire, petroleum, and automobile interests for their own information only. It's a basis for their post-war planning, not for any publicity campaign and not for any appeals to congress for help. They're not kidding themselves.

Here are the predictions, skeletonized:

Cars — Two million automobiles will be manufactured the first year after the war is ended. Thereafter, the annual production for at least two years will be an all-time high of between 5 and 6 millions.

Expect Huge Tire Output.

Tires — Seventy-five million tires will be manufactured the first year after the war, 50 per cent more than the pre-war rate.

Gasoline — Automobile fuel consumption in the first post-war year will be 10 per cent higher than in 1941; 16 per cent higher in the second post-war year than in '41, and 20 per cent higher in the third year of peace. There will be no peace time rationing.

Touring — In volume without precedent, without waiting for new rubber and new machines.

As has been published, the car factories to get under way promptly will duplicate 1942 models when the assembly lines start moving. It has not been published heretofore that the prices are likely to be 25 to 40 per cent higher than the pre-war lists.

Simple Improvements to Come.

For competitive advantage, better alloys in bearings and other friction parts are expected promptly. Higher pressure ratios also will be a simple improvement. Major improvements probably will be introduced when sales begin to slacken.

The 28,800,000 passenger cars in use on that fateful Dec. 7, 1941, has dropped to 24 million now and will slump to between 20 and 23 millions, if there is no production before the end of 1945. Three years after the war is ended, the total is expected to exceed 29 millions and still continue to increase.

The closest approach to a 5 mil-

Wins Vacancy for Democrat Seat in House

Denver, Colo., March 7 (AP).—Denver voters elected Republican Dean N. Gillespie, 59 year old business man, to congress on the basis of unofficial returns from today's special election.

Gillespie was given a margin of 2,978 votes over his Democratic opponent, Maj. Carl E. Wuertele, wounded and retired veteran of the South Pacific war.

The vote was Gillespie, 41,418; Wuertele, 38,440. Wuertele announced he conceded the result.

Gillespie amassed an initial lead of 500 votes but was quickly overhauled by the retired army air forces major, who at one time was out in front by more than 1,000. Late counting saw Wuertele's margin steadily eaten away.

Run for Democrat's Seat.

The contest was for the unexpired term of the late Rep. Lawrence Lewis [D.], who carried the district by 5,000 votes in 1942, an unexpectedly small margin which disclosed a Republican trend.

Gillespie, an automobile dealer and oil man, campaigned on a demand for a rapid return to peace time economy after the war with private industry carrying the ball. Wuertele also asked a green light for private enterprise and stressed full employment for war veterans. Wuertele was discharged from the army in January because of battle wounds and wears the silver star and distinguished flying cross with two oak leaf clusters.

Stigler Wins in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 7 (AP).—William G. Stigler, once president pro tem of the Oklahoma senate and former state department commander of the American Legion, was nominated Democratic candidate for 2d district congressman on the basis of unofficial returns from today's special primary election.

Reports from 235 precincts of 331 in the eight eastern Oklahoma counties gave him 3,490 votes to 2,390 for Fred P. Branson, former jurist and legislator. James A. Nevins, out and out New Deal supporter, was running a poor third.

Stigler, attorney for the Choctaw Indian tribe and recent member of the state pardon and parole board, will oppose E. O. Clark, an attorney who won the Republican nomination without opposition and who came within 385 votes of defeating the Democratic candidate in November, 1942.

Pendergast Machine Lags.

Kansas City, Mo., March 7 (AP).—The Nonpartisan Citizens' ticket, headed by Mayor John B. Gage, tallied a lead of more than two to one over the slate indorsed by the old Pendergast Democratic organization in today's city primary election, which contained few contests.

The Citizens' ticket amassed substantial leads for Mayor Gage in all but one of the eight councilmanic races and both Municipal court judgeships on the ballot. Gage had 33,059 votes to 15,597 for A. J. Stephens, with all but 10 of the 454 precincts counted.

ARMY VOTE BILL READY; FEDERAL BLOC TO FIGHT

Want Roosevelt to Veto Measure.

BY PHILIP DODD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—A soldier vote bill calling for the use of state absentee voter ballots by military personnel but permitting the use of a short federal ballot under limited conditions was approved today by a conference committee of the house and senate.

Four weeks of conference discussion produced the measure which has undergone numerous revisions. As approved by the conferees the bill directs that the federal ballot, providing an opportunity to vote for Presidential electors and members of congress, would be furnished to service men outside the United States who certify they have applied for a state ballot before Sept. 1 but have not received one by Oct. 1. Personnel serving within the United States would receive federal ballots only if their home states do not provide state absentee ballots.

Goes to Senate Tomorrow.

The revised bill will be presented to the senate Thursday, Sen. Connally [D., Tex.], who will sponsor the measure in the upper chamber, said following today's meeting of the conference committee. House consideration will follow senate action.

The conferees, before approving the long contested measure, voted down an amendment suggested by Sen. Green [D., R. I.], chairman of the conference committee, which would have made the federal ballot available to all military personnel from states not having absentee voter laws or states providing insufficient time for the delivery and receipt of absentee ballots.

Sen. Green's amendment would have authorized the use of the federal ballot regardless of whether state laws provided for the federal method of voting by military personnel. The bill as approved by the conferees today stipulates that the use of federal ballots must be authorized by state laws.

Green Opposes It.

Sen. Green told reporters that he could not conscientiously support the conferees' bill, and that Sen. Connally would sponsor it in the senate. He asserted it would allow fewer service men and women to vote than are able to under the present law, passed in 1942.

Sen. Hatch [D., N. M.] also was opposed to the measure today. Absentee voting is prohibited under the New Mexico constitution, he said, adding that any certification by the governor of his state that federal ballots would be counted would not be upheld by the state's Supreme court.

Both Hatch and Green said they believed the President should veto the bill approved today, if it reaches him.

Best Possible: Connally.

Sen. Connally said the bill was the best that could be devised under the circumstances.

"To my mind it was either this bill or nothing," he said. "Every effort has been made to stimulate voting of soldiers under state laws and provision also has been made

MICKEY ROONEY PUT BACK IN 1-A CLASS BY HIS DRAFT BOARD

Los Angeles, Cal., March 7 (AP).—Screen Actor Mickey Rooney was reclassified 1-A by his draft board today. Rooney, who is 22, previously was classified 1-A but was rejected by the army last March 15. At that time army induction officials refused to give the reason for Mickey's rejection but his mother, Mrs. Nell Pankey, said he suffered from "heart flutter and high blood pressure." The actor, single, is the divorced husband of Actress Ava Gardner.

In Dublin, Axis Gets U. S. Gas, British Coal

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Ireland, March 7.—The Nazi swastika flies from the German legation on Northumberland st. in Dublin, near which an Irish police car always is parked. Thus the traveler is immediately reminded that both Germans and Japanese are in good standing, diplomatically and socially, to a degree, in this capital only 75 miles across the Irish sea from embattled Britain.

The brains of the German staff is said to be Consul Hans Thompson, who is Nazi party representative. He is a loud, aggressive, Nazi type, complete with a dueling scar on his cheek. Wearing a white stock, he makes frequent appearances in bars of expensive hotels.

The German press attache is Carl Petersen, who was before the war a DNB [German news agency] correspondent here.

Picks Up Broadcasts.

Petersen edits a mimeographed weekly news review consisting mainly of dispatches picked up from the German radio. In Catholic Ireland, the Nazi propagandists bear down heavily on such incidents as the destruction of Mount Cassino abbey.

The United States attempts to counteract the German propaganda with a weekly "letter from America," published by an office of war information representative here who also has the title of press attache to the United States legation.

Beside the usual OWI propaganda the letter carries a number of articles on the theater, music, and literature, in which there is considerable interest in Dublin.

Contents Not Restricted.

Altho the Irish press is heavily censored, neither the German nor the American publication is restricted as to editorial content. Both weeklies are given away. It is unnecessary for the British to have a similar publication since London papers circulate freely in Ireland, some having special Irish editions.

The Japs don't print a propaganda pamphlet but Consul S. Beppo occasionally types out Tokio military bulletins and takes them around to the Dublin newspapers. Beppo's vice consul is Ichi Hashi, referred to by the allies in Dublin as "Ichi Scratchi." The Japanese "colony," whose interests they represent, consists of one dock worker living in Cork.

Frozen out of the Grange Golf club, the Japs applied for membership in the new Kilcroney club. When the members threatened to quit if they were admitted, the government intimated that the club's attitude might embarrass it in its relations with Japan, and the Japs got in. One of the less edifying sights in Dublin is Beppo and his wife driving to the golf club in a car powered by American gasoline, which both the Germans and the Japs obtain under diplomatic privileges. Both axis outfits heat their offices and homes with coal from Britain.

The Germans, who entertained widely in the early days of Nazi military successes, have curtailed their social activities recently, altho German Minister Edward Hempel still gives an occasional cocktail party. Most Irish, who despite their neutrality are pro-ally, give the Nazis the social cold shoulder.

Short of Cash?

Meanwhile suits filed by the Nazi legation here to collect money owed to a number of German firms by Irish importers have stirred speculation as to whether Hitler's diplomats in this capital are getting hard up for cash.

Since the transfer of funds between Dublin and Berlin is difficult, if not impossible, the Irish and Germans early in the war agreed to pay the expenses of each other's diplomatic corps. This takes care of the running expenses of the German minister and his staff, but does not provide funds for expensive espionage activities which the Germans widely are believed to be carrying on in Ireland.

HORMONE GIVES HOPE OF ADDING INCHES TO STATURE OF DWARFS

Berkeley, Cal., March 7 [Special].—Isolation in the pure state of the growth hormone, a step that gives hope of adding stature in extreme cases of dwarfism, was announced today by the University of California.

Dr. Herbert M. Evans, director of the institute of experimental biology, who, with Dr. Choh Hao Li, research associate, had obtained the substance from beef pituitaries, said that the hormone would be too expensive to use except in extreme individual cases, as the process of isolation is long and tedious.

Dr. Li, who disclosed that hormone injections had produced growth in rats which had stopped growing, said that use of the hormone might influence the growth of older human dwarfs as well as young ones.

OPA Woman Held in Sale of Gas Coupons

Lansing, Mich., March 7 [Special].—A woman civic leader who last summer directed a campaign among housewives "to black-out the black market" was revealed here today as herself a black market operator whose activities included the sale of thousands of gasoline ration coupons.

She is Mrs. Dorothy Gertrude Martin, 36, chief clerk of one of Lansing's two ration boards and hitherto regarded by local ration board officials as one of the most trustworthy and competent employes in the Lansing organization.

Mrs. Martin was taken into custody after a night raid on her home by secret service operatives and police. Chief of Police John O'Brien said that she threw $1,920 in currency under a sofa when the raiding party entered and that investigation established she had just received this sum from a Detroit gasoline station operator in exchange for gasoline coupons representing 19,200 gallons of gasoline.

100,000 Gallons Involved.

William A. Carlson, secret service district supervisor, said he has information Mrs. Martin sold at least 100,000 gasoline coupons within the last few months, most of them going to Detroit purchasers.

A search of Mrs. Martin's home uncovered several caches of currency, according to police. They found a total of $9,000, including two $1,000 bills. A safety deposit box owned jointly by Mrs. Martin and her husband, a local theater manager, was examined and found to contain cash, stocks, and bonds amounting to an additional $9,000.

Mrs. Martin, whose maiden name was Berneske, came here several years ago from Detroit to work in a loan office, and married the theater manager in 1939.

Helped Set Up Board.

When a ration board was established in Lansing she became one of its first employes and took an active part in setting up the organization and in representing the board in its dealings with the public, it was said.

When a second rationing board was authorized for Lansing, Mrs. Martin took charge of its establishment. She was a frequent speaker before civic groups, urging coöperation by the public with those attempting to administer rationing regulations. She urged housewives to be alert for indications of black market operations and to report all violations.

Awaiting arraignment here on federal charges, Mrs. Martin refused today to talk with officers or personal friends.

Fears Allies Handing Finns Over to Russia

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Fear that Finland is about to be "sold down the river" to Russia in defiance of the principles of the Atlantic charter was expressed in the senate today by Sen. Bridges [R., N. H.].

"Finland's case is a test case," he declared. "If Finland is sold down the river, it will set a precedent for all nations and all peoples in the future. It will mean turning our backs on the principles of the Atlantic charter. It would confirm the already deepening fears of some that Russia has intentions other than have been publicly revealed."

[Finland's answer to Russia's truce offer reported to have been delivered. Details on page 3.]

Bridges said he was elated when the Atlantic charter was written, believing that great nations had put into words a charter which held out hope and justice to the peoples of all nations.

Senses Gradual Drift.

"As the months have gone by, I have seemed to sense a gradual drifting away from the charter's principles," he said, "but I do hope that the first test case will show that we still stand for its principles.

"Finland is a democracy as pure as any nation. She is at war because she was attacked. She never has allied herself with the axis powers, but she feared Russia more than she did Germany.

"We now know the armistice terms that the soviet union has handed to Finland. Finland is invited to risk a new war without being informed about the final peace which would be negotiated in the future and only after Finland has fulfilled the other conditions of the armistice.

Defense Stake Held Vital.

"Among them are the probably impossible ones of interning a German army of more than 100,000 men and of giving up places in parts of the country vital to Finland's own defense.

"It also appears that Finland may be forced to give up the only ice-free port she has on the Arctic ocean.

"It is not hard to see why a nation should hesitate to talk herself into an unpredictable situation without any complete or final knowledge of the peace she would get after these acts.

"Finland is a nation that has displayed character and integrity. She has stood out among all nations in honoring her obligations in this country. She recently made an interest payment on her debt. Justice and fairness demand that Finland be allowed to make an honorable peace."

EASTER LILIES? YANKS SENDING ORCHIDS INSTEAD

NAPLES, Italy, March 7 (AP).—A lot of American women are going to wear orchids Easter Sunday if the efforts of two American Red Cross girls in Italy, Helen Turner of Birmingham, Ala., and Helen E. Irwin of Granville, O., are an indication.

The girls are intermediaries in placing Easter flower orders for American troops at a Red Cross club. They take the orders and air mail them to the United States.

Altho lilies, gardenias, roses, and other flowers are listed, the G. I.'s have shown a positive preference for orchids as the expression of their devotion, the girls say.

Conshohocken, Pa., March 7 (AP).—After 6 year old Lee Scott Campbell was taken to a hospital on Feb. 24, with severe burns suffered when his cowboy suit was set ablaze by a bonfire, Lee's mongrel dog Woodsie refused to eat. Lee died Sunday night. Woodsie died two hours later at the Campbell home.

YANKS 110 MILES NEARER RABAUL ON NEW BRITAIN

Win Control of Isle in Admiralties.

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, March 8 [Wednesday]—(AP).—United States marines have landed near Talasea, on Willaumez peninsula nearly midway on the north coast of New Britain, Gen. MacArthur announced today. The peninsula is 110 miles nearer to Rabaul than Cape Gloucester, where the Americans hold a beachhead, and is about 160 miles south of that battered Jap base.

The marines swarmed ashore from Higgins boats Monday morning at Bolumi plantation, five miles northwest of the town of Talasea, and quickly smashed the initial opposition. Airacobra bombers strafed ahead of the landing forces while motor torpedo boats shelled the beaches before the landing.

While the marines were landing, army troops on the south coast of New Britain also moved eastward as far as Amhorning, 24 miles from Arawe.

Close in on Gasmata.

Thus on the north and south shore of the huge island, marines and soldiers are creeping closer to such important enemy bases as Gasmata, on the south coast, and Rabaul. Bombers pounded four points on the island.

Gen. MacArthur also announced that American troops now are in control of Los Negros Island in the Admiralties, having captured the west beach of Seeadler Harbor and occupied the town of Porlaka, west of Momote air field, which is now used by our artillery observation planes and is ready for our bombers and fighters.

Capture Naval Guns.

Heavy gun duels have developed between the Japanese batteries on the nearby island and our destroyers and our newly landed 105s.

First cavalry dismounted invaders captured Japanese 4.7 inch naval guns in concrete emplacements south of Momote and in expanding their holding found 479 more dead Japanese. Counting the 700 enemy dead found around the perimeter of Momote field after the Nipponese made their final effort to recapture the air strip last Friday night and Saturday, the Americans have had the job of burying 1,200 Japanese bodies in recent days.

Bombers Pound Rabaul.

Rabaul itself again came under allied bombsights, with the township and Tobera airdrome receiving 98 tons of explosives. Fires flared along the water front and five enemy planes were destroyed on the ground. Two small ships in the harbor were hit and beached, and six barges were destroyed or damaged.

Other points on New Britain which were bombed were the airdrome at Cape Hoskins, where 32 tons were dropped, and Riebeck and Stettin bay, all on the north coast and in the vicinity of Willaumez peninsula.

Yanks Gain in Guinea.

American troops of the 32d division which landed at Yalau behind the Japanese on the northeast coast of New Guinea, have expanded their positions to Bibi on the east and Ganglau to the west. This landing put the Americans 30 miles west of Saidor on their way to Madang, the enemy base on Astrolabe bay. Allied air patrols shot down two Japanese planes in the Madang area.

Allied planes attacked Hansa bay and Wewak, shooting down three enemy bombers and two fighters. The attackers lost one aircraft.

Japanese around the perimeter of the American beachhead at Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville Island were hit with 111 tons of allied bombs. The movement and grouping of enemy troops around the perimeter has been noted for several days, and allied aircraft and artillery have been heavily pounding the concentrations.

Ponape Bombed Again.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, March 7 (AP).—Japan's bases of Ponape and Kusaie in the eastern Carolines, its island of Nauru and four enemy-held atolls of the eastern Marshall Islands were bombed and strafed Sunday by American planes. Two raiders were lost.

Announcing the raids today, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said pilots reported heavy explosions on the airfield at Ponape, where ground installations and the harbor area were damaged. Moderate ground fire was encountered.

Thirty tons of bombs hit targets on Kusaie and Ponape. It was the sixth time a heavy tonnage of explosives had been reported dropped on those islands since mid-February. Aviation facilities, ground installations and harbor areas at Kusaie were damaged. Two navy hellcat fighters were lost in the attacks in the Marshalls.

Yanks Occupy Majuro.

MAJURO LAGOON, Marshall Islands, Feb. 12 [Delayed]—(AP).—The Japanese let American forces walk in and take this valuable shipping anchorage without a fight. In capturing Majuro atoll during the Marshall operations, a detachment of marines found only four Japanese.

A naval chief petty officer was captured the first day. Three civilians hid out. Just as the marines started out the second morning to hunt them, the civilians appeared at the dock with packed suitcases, ready to go wherever the Americans wanted.

When the Marshalls were held by the Germans before the first World war, Majuro was the Germans' major base.

The Japanese left intact the nearly finished concrete headquarters building, equipped with electric lights, cement bath tubs, and toilets. The windows, net yet installed, were stacked against the building walls. Evidently when the Nipponese left they took all the native men and women between the ages of 20 and 40 to work on other Marshalls bases.

See Japs Disappear.

The Japanese took supplies and equipment from the remaining oldsters and the children. Kerosene lamps, used for night fishing, were among the things confiscated.

The chief reported his people knew the Americans would come to the island. He said the natives at first had seen all Japanese planes. Then they began seeing American planes and fewer Japanese. Finally no Japanese planes flew over. What the natives saw in the sky convinced them the Japanese would be driven out.

Majuro should prove valuable to the Americans as a staging and concentration point for attacks on other enemy held Marshall bases. Majuro, located between Jaulit and Mili, has an excellent anchorage suitable for all classes of warships. It was used by German cruisers in 1914. The lagoon area is about 90 square miles. Majuro islet has a long, narrow strip occupying most of the southern side of the atoll which may prove suitable for building an air field.

The atoll is about 21 miles long and six miles wide. Majuro at one time was the most populous Marshall atoll, inhabited by 1,600 persons, nearly all natives.

SUBMARINES KEY TO PACIFIC WAR, NIMITZ ASSERTS

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—American submarines already appear to have forced the Japanese fleet to retreat, and undersea operations promise to reshape the whole course of the Pacific war, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

The commander of the Pacific fleet was a shade regretful over one phase of his submersibles' success, exemplified in the light naval opposition at Truk.

"Submarines for many months," he told a news conference, "had worked day and night putting Japanese tankers and supply ships down. I believe the Japanese were beginning to find maintenance of a fleet at Truk without supplies of fuel very difficult. Perhaps they already have decided to withdraw their heavy units."

SETS AUSSIE'S AID TO U. S. AT MILLION A DAY

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—Australia is furnishing goods and services to the United States under reverse lend-lease at the rate of a million dollars a day, Col. Spencer B. Eddy, acting general purchasing agent for United States forces in the Southwest Pacific area, testified today.

Speaking before the house foreign affairs committee, which is considering legislation to extend United States lend-lease authorization for the next fiscal year, Eddy declared that "today we get under reverse lend-lease practically all the supplies, and with only an exception or two, all of the facilities and services that are available in Australia."

YANKS HAMMER 2,000 JAPS ON CHINESE ANVIL

NEW DELHI, India, March 7 (AP).—American troops fanned out from captured Walawbum, 10 miles behind the Japanese lines in North Burma, today to trap 2,000 of the enemy caught between American forces and Chinese troops steadily advancing from the north.

Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's bulletin indicated the Americans were hammering the Japanese against the Chinese anvil in continuing fighting. Gen. Stilwell said a road block had been established two miles west of Walawbum, and that all enemy vehicles attempting to escape southward to join the main body of Japs near Mogaung and Myitkyina were being methodically destroyed.

The presence of American infantry in Burma under Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill was a secret until yesterday.

"Oh, if I only had more units like Merrill's," Lt. Gen. Stilwell said.

The Chinese and Americans are only 15 miles from Jambu Bum, a bottleneck pass where the Hukawng valley ends and the Mogaung valley begins. They are likely to encounter the stiffest opposition there because the pass is ideal for Japanese defense.

Altho Walawbum was announced as in American hands, there was evidence that suicide squads of Japanese within the town were putting up last-ditch resistance. The bulletin said "enemy troops trapped in the strong defenses of Walawbum are the object of concentrated offensive action."

American-trained Chinese troops were pressing southward on a broad front in the Maingkwan area, compressing the Japanese against the Yank road block.

Kill 101 Jap Troops.

Gen. Stilwell's headquarters also reported the Chinese spreading out, with drives in progress toward Nritu Ga and Saintawng Ga, 15 miles east of Maingkwan.

In other engagements 101 Japanese were killed, 74 by Chinese forces who crossed the Idi river in the Maingkwan area, and 27 by allied patrols who ambushed an enemy column in the Fort Hertz sector, south of Sumprabum. In western Burma two Japanese raids were beaten off by British troops west of the Mayu range.

Allied troops also made a successful raid south of Maungdaw. The bulletin said enemy opposition increased in the Kaladan valley "and our West African troops have made adjustments in their positions."

Enemy positions and communications were among the targets of raids by allied fighters and dive bombers Sunday and Monday in Arakan, Kaladan, the Chin hills, Chindwin, and Northwest Burma. Air fields in the Rangoon area were strafed.

1,500 SEABEES GET BACK HOME FROM PACIFIC

San Francisco, Cal., March 7 (AP).—Fifteen hundred sun-tanned Seabees of the 1st and 2d battalions, the first two navy construction units organized, landed in San Francisco this afternoon after 23 months in the South Pacific.

Greeting the cheering, yelling, grinning men as their ship nosed into the dock to the accompaniment of three bands, were San Francisco's Mayor Roger Lapham, Rear Adm. C. H. Cotter, director of the Pacific division, yards and docks, and other navy officials.

Following official greetings from Adm. Cotter, the Seabees were taken to Camp Parks. From there they will be granted leave.

TRIES TO HITCH A RIDE; KILLED AS AUTO SKIDS

Albert W. Jones, 60, Summit st., Wheaton, was killed yesterday at Bloomingdale and Geneva rds., Du Page county, by an automobile whose driver, George M. Elliott, 39, West Chicago, he had signalled to stop. Elliott said his car struck Jones as it skidded on the icy pavement. Jones, a longshoreman, apparently wanted to hitch-hike a ride, Elliott told police.

Albert Schryver, 78, of 216 3d av., Joliet, died in St. Joseph hospital, Joliet, of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile at 4th av. and Sherman st., in that city. The driver was Harold Gans, 924 Spencer rd., Joliet.

Daniel Dubinski, 29, of 731 W. 60th pl., arrested as the driver of a hit and run truck which Monday killed James Palm, 7, of 1624 N. Halsted st., at North av. and Halsted st., was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Arthur Krechman, 33, of 7218 St. Lawrence av., driver of a car that killed Mrs. Mary McGrath, 70, of 324 W. 61st st., on Oct. 24 at 62d and Halsted sts., was fined $5 and costs by Judge Cecil C. Smith for driving without a safety sticker.

World War Vets Recall Old Leader, Gen. Swift

Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift, commanding the 1st cavalry division, part of which is now fighting in the Admiralty Islands, is well known to thousands of World War I. veterans of the midwest, because he served as adjutant of the 86th [Blackhawk] division, which was trained at Camp Grant. The division was composed of men from Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin. At that time, Gen. Swift was a lieutenant colonel. He was born in 1882 at Fort Laramie, Wyo., and was graduated from West Point in 1904.

BRITISH SEE U. S. PLEASED BY NEW JAP WAR PLEDGE

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 7.—While most members of parliament expressed gratification over the announcement in the house of commons by First Lord A. V. Alexander that U-boat sinkings had dropped to one in 1,000 ships, they appeared particularly delighted at his assurance that the entire strength of the royal navy would go into action for the death blow at Japan.

James Griffiths, Laborite, said Alexander's speech today "will satisfy America that it is our intention to go all out to win the war in the Pacific as well as the war in Europe."

Tells Navy's Loss at Nettuno.

Vice Adm. Ernest A. Taylor, Conservative, cautioned that "however great may be the desire to increase our offensive operations against Japan, the overriding consideration" must be defeat of Germany first.

Alexander revealed the British navy's share at the Nettuno beachhead had cost two cruisers—the Spartan and the Penelope, the latter a "great ship with a wonderful record in this war"—and two destroyers, the Janus and the Inglefield, and five major assault vessels. Since the beginning of the Sicilian campaign two cruisers, one minelayer, 10 destroyers, two submarines, and 10 minor war vessels were sunk by the enemy, he said.

Reviews Progress in Atlantic.

Illustrating progress against the U-boat, he gave these figures on allied losses:

1941—One ship lost out of every 181 that sailed, 1942, one out of every 233, and 1943, one out of every 344.

Despite the successes, he said, the Germans even yet have probably as many U-boats as in the beginning of 1943, and still are making every effort to improve performances and equipment.

Thirteen British warships have been sunk on Russian convoy duty, he said, but 80 per cent of the cargoes got thru.

REDS SEIZE GRIP ON 26 MI. OF RAIL LINE TO ODESSA

Armies Push on Tarnopol from Two Sides.

LONDON, March 8 [Wednesday] —(AP).—The German army, perilled by the new soviet smash toward Rumania and southern Poland, launched a series of counter-attacks with large forces of tanks and infantry today but were beaten back with "heavy losses in man power and equipment," Moscow announced early today.

Unchecked, the Red army continued advancing and captured the old Polish border station of Podvolochisk and 200 other localities, Moscow said.

Podvolochisk is eight miles west of Volochisk, Russian border station on the Odessa-Lwow trunk railway which was taken on Monday. The capture extended the Russian held sector of this vital supply line to 26 miles and placed the Russians about 25 miles east of the important junction of Tarnopol. Other forces captured a hamlet 11 miles north of Tarnopol and 32 miles inside Poland.

Gain 15 to 30 Miles a Day.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's forces were advancing 15 to 30 miles a day in some areas and threatened to hurl the Germans pell mell back into Rumania.

After putting themselves firmly astride the most important strategic railroad in southern Russia, the Russians sought to extend their hold eastward toward Proskurov and westward toward Tarnopol, and thus seize the heads of two of six tributary railways which ramble thru rough country into Rumania.

The six are single track roads winding generally southwestward, and lead to bases in Rumania believed to be greatly inferior to those the Germans have in Poland. Heavy rains having turned much of this region into mud, the rail routes became especially important.

Cause Anxiety in Berlin.

The Germans' 50 or more divisions have been shunted roughly into a triangular area of the southwestern Ukraine, with their backs against the Dniester river and the Carpathian mountains.

The German controled Scandinavian Telegraph bureau said in a dispatch to Stockholm from Berlin that the sudden Russian advances had caused apprehension in German official quarters in the capital. These quarters were said to have described the battle as a final Russian attempt to annihilate the German army.

Moscow said the Germans were bringing heavy air reënforcements to the north where the Red army was battling to enlarge its Nrova river bridgehead in Estonia. Fifty-five German planes were reported brought down during the day. The Russians said they captured several strong points and beat back ten counter-attacks in one sector.

NAZI WAR BULLETIN

Tuesday's German war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press said:

"On both sides of Krivoi Rog our troops yesterday [Monday] again repelled violent enemy attacks in bitter fighting. Some attacks were held at points of penetration in the area of Zvenigorodka and Shepetovka. Heavy fighting continues.

"Strong enemy attacks alternated with determined counter-thrusts by our divisions against advancing soviet spearheads.

"On the Smolensk-Orsha road the soviets continued their breakthru attempts on a narrow front, attacking in several waves. The attacks broke down after bitter fighting.

"North of Pskov and at Narva soviet attacks with tank and air support failed against the determined resistance of our troops. Our own counter-attacks took a favorable course in the far north. Mountain troops repelled several soviet attacks with heavy enemy casualties in the Louhi [Finnish] sector."

Report Russia Rejects Polish Boundary Proposal

New York, March 7 (AP).—London press commentators were quoted in a British radio broadcast tonight as saying that "the soviet government has now replied to the Polish proposals sent to Moscow some days ago regarding governmental and boundary questions with a declaration they do not suffice. "According to the Polish proposals, final settlement could be postponed until after the war, but in the meantime the Curzon line should be accepted as a temporary boundary," BBC said.

BRITISH AROUSED BY PROPOSAL TO 'SET UP FASCISM'

M.P.s Demand Debate on Minister's Ideas.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 7.—When Home Secretary Herbert Morrison, in one of his series of speeches outlining his ideas on post-war Britain, recommended a government by Whitehall administrators with parliament being consulted only on main principles, he opened a hornets' nest.

Members of parliament today demanded a debate on the subject before Easter vacation. It was reported feeling was running so high that Prime Minister Churchill may have to advance the debate. He will be asked in the house of commons whether Morrison's proposals represent the views of the cabinet.

Form of Fascism Charged.

A charge that the home secretary was recommending a modified form of fascism has been raised and is expected to be repeated in the debate.

Rowland Evans, prominent Liberal, in a long letter of protest to the Daily Telegraph, said there is nothing new in the Morrison proposals. He said they constitute the policy recommended by Labor party leaders, and particularly expounded and advocated in a book, "Problems of Socialist Government," 10 years ago.

The book is a symposium to which Deputy Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee and Aircraft Production Secretary Stafford Cripps were the principal contributors.

Recalls Step by Hitler.

After quoting the similarity of ideas from this book and those expounded by Morrison, Evans said: "The proposal for the 'emergency powers bill' had its parallel in an enabling act which Hitler forced thru the reichstag in 1933."

A group of Conservatives, headed by Herbert Williams, will meet tomorrow to discuss the campaign to fight Morrison's proposals. More than 140 Conservatives are supporting a motion calling for the restriction of government orders and regulations.

BRACKEN LAUDS FRONT LINE WAR WRITERS' WORK

LONDON, March 7 (AP).—Brendan Bracken, minister of information, today praised the authenticity of front line news dispatches and the courage of the men who write them and said they keep the public "far more in touch with the troops than the war office."

"A dispatch from a war correspondent from the battle front is a hundred times more valuable than all the handouts of the ministry of information or the war office about campaigns," he told the Press club. "The stuff from the field of battle bears the mark of truth."

The British government and public owe the correspondents a very great debt, he said, adding: "Correspondents take even greater risks than soldiers because all they have is a pen or a camera."

COMDR. LONG LAUDS PICTURE COVERAGE OF NAVY'S PART IN WAR

Comdr. E. John Long.

American newspapers and magazines are getting the finest possible picture coverage of the navy's part in the war, in the opinion of Comdr. E. John Long, chief of the picture desk of the navy bureau of public relations, Washington, D. C., who was in Chicago yesterday en route to visit naval installations in the South Pacific.

Photographers aboard cruisers and battleships never have passed up a chance to make battle pictures, even at the risk of their lives, said Comdr. Long, who left the editorial staff of the National Geographic magazine in 1940 to set up the navy's picture department.

Comdr. Long said news photographers are not limited as to subject matter and that the only censorship exercised by his office is to prevent publication of pictures showing any secret device, knowledge of which might be of aid to the enemy. Restrictions on these devices disappear within a few months after they have been used in battle.

MADRID, March 7 (AP).—United States Ambassador Carlton J. H. Hayes called on Spanish Foreign Minister Francisco Gomez Jordana on invitation today, perhaps to receive the Spanish reply on allied negotiations with Spain.

REDS REPORTED TO HAVE FINNS' PEACE ANSWER

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 7 (AP).—Finland's answer to Russian peace terms has been sent to Moscow and a reply is expected momentarily, the Helsingfors correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet reported today.

Particulars of the Finnish reply were not made known. The Finnish diet [parliament] met at 2 p. m. for an hour's session, but there was no indication whether it had received new word from Moscow.

[Informed persons in London speculated that Finland's message to the Kremlin was more likely to have asked clarification of certain phases of Russia's six point peace program than to have contained outright acceptance or rejection of the soviet terms.]

Finns Let Story Be Sent.

It was significant that the dispatch from Aftonbladet's correspondent was passed by the Finnish censorship. This was the first direct word from Finland supporting reports that the Finns had acknowledged Russia's peace proposal.

"One therefore is waiting with increased interest the second phase of the Finnish-Russian question," the dispatch concluded. "That is the Finnish government reply to Moscow and the expected answer."

"Peace Machinery" Moving.

The Helsingfors correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter wrote that "peace machinery is in movement among higher officials."

[A British broadcast heard in New York quoted a neutral correspondent in Berlin as saying: "Hitler has personally intervened in the Russian-Finnish situation. The Germans say that further decisions can only be taken in absolute agreement with Berlin."]

Twenty-five Russian dive bombers attacked Kotka, southern Finland port, Monday afternoon, a Helsingfors dispatch said today. It reported casualties and damage.

3 FIND TRAFFIC COPS ARE THE SAME IN NAPLES

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, March 2 [Delayed]—(AP).—William Strand of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Gordon Gammach of the Des Moines [Ia.] Register and Tribune, and Charles Seawood, Acme photographer, all were shaken to their innermost souls the other day down in Naples. They were driving along a street thousands of miles from home when a motorcycle pulled up beside their command car and an MP pushed his face in thru the curtain and bawled: "Where you think you're going?" To a fire?"

The three ex-police court newsmen looked at one another in stunned silence.

"It makes me homesick," said Gam. "Me, too," said Charley. "Civilization finally has come to Naples," said Bill.

Sued for Divorce

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Alice de Tarnowsky McIntosh

Capt. Alexis de Tarnowsky, now with the army overseas, has filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court against Mrs. Alice Rand de Tarnowsky McIntosh, Barrington heiress, raising a question as to the legality of her marriage to Charles L. F. McIntosh, an army private now under a seven year military sentence.

The suit, filed Monday by Attorneys Joseph H. and Norman Becker, but suppressed for service until yesterday, charged that Mrs. McIntosh, from July 11 to Sept. 1, 1943, traveled across the country with one John Doe and lived in adultery with him. De Tarnowsky asked custody of three children and obtained an injunction from Judge Robert J. Dunne restraining her from removing the children from Illinois.

Mrs. McIntosh on July 11 left her Barrington home and, it was later revealed, traveled in McIntosh's company until his arrest Sept. 1. On Nov. 8 she obtained a Mexican divorce from Capt. De Tarnowsky and four days later became McIntosh's wife. On Dec. 21 McIntosh was convicted by a court martial at Fort Sheridan for violating army regulations. He is under a seven year sentence, but has a chance by summer to rehabilitate himself and wipe out the sentence and a dishonorable discharge.

Order Ostend Residents to Evacuate Part of City

LONDON, March 7.—Ostend, the most important town on the Belgian coast, has been ordered partially evacuated, reports reaching London said today. Its inhabitants have been given until Sunday to get out. It is believed that most of the coast line is now clear, as is the valley of the Meuse.

NAZIS MAKE LAST EFFORTS TO END STRIKE IN ITALY

AT THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, March 7 (AP).—German military and Fascist provincial chiefs tonight were making a last-ditch effort to end the workers' strike in Lombardy before the Nazi fixed deadline tomorrow. Gen. Zimmermann, Nazi military commander, and Fascist Provincial Chief Pietro Parini met with a Milan workers' committee in a conference aimed at ending the walkout. The wehrmacht threatens severe measures if the strike continues.

Milan workers are said to have demanded an end to deportation of workmen to Germany. Other demands included cessation of obligatory military service, improved food supplies, freedom for arrested strikers and return of workmen deported to Poland. Bologna, Turin and Genoa, workers were reported making similar demands.

There was evidence of increasing tension, and a Nazi agency dispatch said 100 anti-Fascist "plotters" were arrested, including the editor of the underground paper Liberia.

MAJOR SHAKEUP IN KING PETER'S RULE FORECAST

CAIRO, Egypt, March 7 (AP).—A major shakeup in Jugo-Slav governmental affairs, including the possibility that King Peter's present government in exile may find it necessary to resign or drastically reorganize is forecast by recent developments in the Balkans and middle east.

Barring some hitch in the present trend, outright British recognition of Marshal Josip Broz [Tito], leader of the Partisans, is generally considered here as a likely prospect. This could be brought about thru a reconciliation between Tito and King Peter. There is reason to believe a major effort to this end is under way.

The presence of Capt. Randolph Churchill at Tito's headquarters is highly significant.

The son of the British prime minister most likely carried a message from his father intended to promote maximum coöperation against the Germans within Jugo-Slavia.

U.S. BIG BOMBERS RAID NAZI BASES IN FRANCE, ITALY

Submarine Pens and Piers Blasted at Toulon.

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, March 7 (AP).—American heavy and medium bombers based in Italy struck powerful blows at the Germans in Italy and southern France today as ground fighting on the Italian peninsula bogged down in the mud.

Flying Fortresses escorted by Lightnings cracked at the Toulon naval base in France, from which the Germans have been operating submarines and surface raiders in the Mediterranean. Liberators escorted by Thunderbolts attacked Nazi held air fields and railway installations near Rome.

Mitchells and Marauders bombed the Littorio and Ostense railway yards in Rome on the main route of German supplies to the battle areas in southern Italy. It was the sixth raid on Rome.

Nazi Opposition Weak.

Crews returning from the diversified attacks reported good results and said Nazi opposition generally was weak. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered over Toulon.

The bombers blasting the yards on the outskirts of Rome, destroyed railway tracks and rolling stock.

[The German controled Rome radio claimed the bombers flew low and dropped bombs on "inhabited districts of Rome," naming the Ostiense and Trastevere areas, which are near railway yards. The Germans asserted the number of casualties "appears to be very high."]

Flyers returning from the Toulon raid said a number of ships in the harbor were hit and one medium size vessel was seen to explode. Lightnings drove off about 15 German fighters which attempted to intercept the bombers. Hits were reported on submarine pens, storage areas, and piers.

Blast Fighter Plane Bases.

Liberators blasted German fighter plane bases at Orvieto, Fabrica di Roma, and Viterbo. The crews reported many hits on the main airfield at Viterbo, 40 miles north of Rome, and a nearby auxiliary field. A dozen German fighters attempted to engage the bombers over Orvieto, but were driven off.

Another group of Liberators with an escort of Lightnings bombed freight yards at Certaldo, 20 miles southwest of Florence. They also attacked rail installations at Pontassieve, 10 miles east of Florence, and at Prato, 10 miles to the northwest.

With rain falling steadily and Italian streams leaving their banks, fighting on the Anzio beachhead and on the lower Italian front was reduced yesterday to patrol clashes. The Rapido river rose three feet.

Yanks Make Several Jabs.

Allied artillery took heavy toll of two small German attacks near Cisterna on the beachhead. Another minor Nazi thrust southwest of Carroceto on the other side of the beachhead also failed.

American troops made several jabs at German positions inside the battered town of Cassino and drew intense fire from the defenders. Cassino, the key to the entire Italian situation, remains as hard a nut as ever to crack.

U.S. MARAUDERS BOMB GERMAN BASE IN FRANCE

No Planes Lost in Raid on Air Field.

LONDON, March 7 (AP).—American Marauders bombed a German air field near Conches, northern France, by daylight today without a loss. The attack followed a heavy R. A. F. night blow on railroads near Paris and Monday's mammoth American raid on Berlin. That raid accounted for 176 German planes and was reported to have left a great many fires still burning today.

Small forces of British, dominion and allied Bostons, Mitchells and Mosquitos joined the attack on military objectives in northern France. Conches lies 75 miles south of Dieppe. Two enemy aircraft were destroyed.

Tonight R. A. F. bombers again attacked targets in Europe. German controled radios in Paris and Bordeaux left the air.

Take Nazis by Surprise.

The Marauders hopped the English channel's "rocket gun" coast in the wake of night air fleets that smashed railway targets at Trappes, 15 miles southwest of Paris, serving the main line route to fortifications at Brittany. German defenses were light and not a bomber was lost.

Describing the blow, the British air ministry said the Germans were so taken by surprise that the bombers were able to drop explosives for nearly half an hour with "little or no interference."

But the success of the first mass attack by United States bombers against Berlin—proving that the 8th air force could hit Germany's best defended target by daylight—overshadowed today's operations.

Report Flames Still Burning.

Travelers arriving in Stockholm by plane from Berlin said flames set by American bombers during the two hour alert were still burning when they left the German capital.

The mission took a record toll of 68 four engined bombers, plus 11 fighters, but American airmen bagged 176 German planes.

By tonight, the German radio had admitted that "several hundred" of the four engined craft had reached Berlin thru the walls of anti-aircraft fire and clouds of defending fighters. The Germans claimed as many as 140 raiders downed, including 118 bombers.

The German-controled Oslo radio said the assault on Berlin was described in a German dispatch as "a catastrophe for the Americans" and "bloody Monday" to Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commander of the 8th air force.

ARGENTINA HIT ON O. K. OF NAZI NEWS AGENCIES

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, March 7 (AP).—The newspaper La Razon, commenting on Argentine measures against United States news organizations, said today it was surprising to see Nazi news agencies in Buenos Aires apparently working unhindered.

"The Argentine government contradicts itself," the Montevideo publication asserted. "At the same time it is formulating promises of American solidarity, the Argentine military government takes action contradicting such statements.

"Most Severe Sanction."

"Some days ago, alleging purported administrative irregularities which were truly nothing more than tacit government consent which harmed nobody, Argentine authorities applied a most severe sanction, accompanied by gratuitous insults and terrible threats, to the news agency United Press.

"Now they have done the same things with the Associated Press, which like the former is an American organization of well known material and moral solidity and of world-wide activities and prestige.

"Meanwhile Nazi news agencies continue operating freely in Argentina, much the same as before the rupture of relations with the axis despite a decree which right after the rupture put a ban on them."

AP Still Reaches Argentina.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 7 (AP).—Associated Press news continued to reach papers in Argentina and Uruguay today despite communication restrictions imposed last night by the Argentine government.

Wireless facilities by which Associated Press news normally is received in Buenos Aires were ordered closed on charges of a technical violation of radio and telegraphic regulations in a measure similar to one taken Saturday against Prensa Unida, affiliate of the United Press.

The ban did not restrict use of cable and telephone facilities by the Associated Press itself, however, and by these means the AP continued to maintain service in Argentina.

The suspension of wireless reception was ordered on a charge that it evaded payment of duties provided in radio and telegraphic regulations.

Churchill Sees No Change Likely in Pay of Army

61 SEAMEN CLING TO SINKING SHIP IN STORM; SAVED

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 7 (AP).—Rescued after clinging 33 hours to the after section of a torpedo sundered ship in an Atlantic blizzard, 61 allied seamen have been brought to this port aboard a rescue vessel.

Besides the sailors landed here, 11 other survivors of the torpedoed merchant vessel have been taken to an American port by a British cargo ship which picked them off life rafts and boats. All crew members were saved and none was injured seriously.

The sailors said their vessel broke cleanly in halves two minutes after the torpedo hit. Hero of the experience, said O. G. Haggert of Harbor Beach, Mich., a survivor, was Charlie Cleveman of Boston, Mass., the vessel's utility boy, who jumped from the ship onto a tossing raft while holding the ship's cat in a pillow slip.

RIPS UNRRA PLAN TO SEND EUROPE WHAT U. S. NEEDS

Look After Home Folks, Reynolds Pleads.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York was attacked in the senate today by Sen. Reynolds [D., N. C.], for proposing, as world director of the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration, to send tens of thousands of tractors and other farm implements to foreign lands while American farmers beg for machinery to till their crops.

While UNRRA, under Lehman, strips our economy to aid alien farmers, those same nations have shipped us 600,000 of their citizens, Reynolds noted.

"They are here to stay, to take the jobs of our boys in uniform, to bask here in the sunlight of safety and prosperity, while our boys are bleeding and dying for their countries," Reynolds said. "I protest against their continued admission."

Expect More and More.

The world's 2 billion people have been led to expect the United States to feed them, Reynolds remarked.

"And when the war is over, the 2 billion people will be waiting for us to put up the money of the tax payers of this country to rehabilitate them," he said. "When that is over, they will insist that we put them into business in competition with our own farmers and manufacturers in this country."

American farmers are in dire need of the farm machinery which Lehman plans to send to Europe, Reynolds declared.

"A farmer in Maryland complained to me that he rode all over the county to get a steel tooth harrow and couldn't even borrow one," he said. "The Lehman plan proposes to send 6,000 of these harrows to France, 4,100 to Poland, 2,300 to Jugo-Slavia, 300 to the Baltic states.

Can't Buy Them in U. S.

"We are sending 16,585 tractors under 30 horsepower and 13,415 tractors over 30 horsepower. Show me one out of 50 American farmers who have been able to buy a tractor or even a part of a tractor within the last two years and I will eat the tractor.

"It is my contention that we should first look after the interests of our own people at home, particularly the farmers.

"I do not like this attitude of ours, particularly at a time when Russia, one of our most helpful allies, is bidding for a tremendous amount of territory, and when Winston Churchill says that he did not become prime minister of the British empire for the purpose of liquidating that empire."

APPEALS REDUCE PERSONALTY TAX ROLLS $29,402,544

Personal property assessments for 1943 in Cook county were reduced by $29,402,544 as the result of appeals made by 1,378 taxpayers, John Toman and James J. McDermott of the board of tax appeals reported.

The final total of assessments now stands at $1,164,498,213. Approximately 90 per cent of the appeals were filed by corporations. Real estate tax bills normally sent out immediately after April 1 may not be mailed until late May or early June. It is expected that a record number of appeals on real estate taxes will be filed. The top year thus far was 1929, when 102,000 appeals were filed.

One of Edwin Sittig's hens in suburban Berkeley did her share in war production with this 6 ounce egg.

Outsize eggs and lemons stole the show in yesterday's crop of freak edibles. A Rhode Island hen owned by Edwin Sittig of 5903 Burr Oak av., Berkeley, put her sister hens to shame by producing a double yolk egg weighing six ounces and measuring 2¼ by 3½ inches. It made the yield of the other chickens look like pigeon eggs, Sittig said. The lemon, picked in Florida by Mrs. Andrew Nieznanski, 1820 Crain st., Evanston, was of the same gargantuan dimensions.

GIRAUD UPHOLDS TWO POINTS OF PUCHEU DEFENSE

Testifies Ex-Minister Urged Aid to Allies.

ALGIERS, March 7 (AP).—Gen. Henri Giraud, star defense witness in the treason trial of Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy interior minister, today confirmed two points in Pucheu's testimony.

The commander in chief of the French army said Pucheu contacted him in September, 1942, and showed him his report to Marshal Petain recommending aid to the allies, a move Giraud said he supported. Early in 1943 Pucheu wrote to the general from Madrid asking permission to enter North Africa to serve with the army, Giraud said, adding:

"I thought I could not forbid Frenchmen from serving in the army."

Urged Delay in Trial.

When the French national committee discussed Pucheu's case early last summer, Giraud said, "I thought the [treason] charge should not be brought because proofs of such a serious charge were lacking in North Africa. I considered such grave cases should be held until our return into France."

Headed French Police.

Prosecution witnesses earlier had established that Pucheu had been interior minister and ex-officio head of the French police from mid-1941 to mid-1942, during which period hostages were shot, and others were arrested and executed for acts of sabotage.

The trial is being held before a special military tribunal. Three members of the national council of resistance, a French underground organization, are demanding that Pucheu be put to death. The defense will end its testimony tomorrow and the court will recess, possibly to consider further action.

SENATORS READY TO CALL ON F. D. R. IN PROBE OF REA

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Victorious in its campaign to break the secrecy of the White House staff, a senate agriculture subcommittee today served notice that if necessary it will call upon President Roosevelt to produce his confidential file on the rural electrification administration.

The file was demanded of Jonathan Daniels, Mr. Roosevelt's administrative assistant, during a hearing on accusations that the White House "palace guard" had attempted to control 7 million rural votes for the fourth term thru REA. Daniels referred the group to the President.

Daniels, who refused to testify last week on the ground that confidential information between the President and himself was involved, took the stand today after being threatened with a charge of contempt of the senate. The White House saved him from contempt proceedings Saturday night by removing the gag on his testimony.

Hearing Room Jammed.

The hearing room was jammed when Chairman "Cotton Ed" Smith [D., S. C.], who also is chairman of the full committee, called the subcommittee to order. In the midst of the hearing a photographer's flashlight bulb exploded with the bang of a pistol almost in the senators' faces.

Only "Cotton Ed" failed to duck. When Committee Counsel Carroll Beedy got his voice back, he urged Daniels to discredit any reports of "an attempted assassination."

Daniels told the committee that President Roosevelt had instructed him to find out what was wrong with the REA after receiving "a sweet letter" of complaint about the agency.

Won't Produce File.

Beedy asked Daniels to produce the file of his investigation, which Daniels insisted belong to the President.

"It seems to me proper to direct your request to the President," Daniels replied.

"I think you might coöperate with us as a matter of politeness and strategy," Beedy retorted. "If you don't care to produce the file, we will ask the President. We're asking you to ask the President for his permission."

"You are asking me to be a servant of the committee?" inquired Daniels.

"No!" snapped Beedy. "We're asking you to serve the public. You have testified this was all in the public's interest."

Relates Pressure on Slattery.

The gist of Daniels' testimony was that Harry Slattery, whom senators have accused the White House "palace guard" of trying to remove as head of REA for political reasons, was not quite "on top of the ball" as an administrator.

Other points to which Daniels testified were:

Slattery's job was offered to former Sen. George Norris of Nebraska, but Norris declined. Secretary of Agriculture Wickard and others urged Slattery's removal, and President Roosevelt asked that a new post be found for Slattery. Daniels, with the approval of Secretary of State Hull, offered Slattery a position abroad where he would have no administrative responsibility.

Daniels gave negative answers when asked if any one in the White House had suggested that the congressional investigation of REA be "headed off," and if the scheme to send Slattery abroad had not been intended to get him out of the subcommittee's reach as a witness.

Daniel's admitted that he had told Mr. Roosevelt of a letter in which Slattery, protesting the propriety of sending him to Europe, had declined the state department post.

40% OF MISSING FLYERS HELD BY NAZIS, SAYS U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—The casualty branch of the adjutant general's office revealed today that approximately 40 per cent of all American airmen reported "missing in action" over Europe later turn up in German prison camps.

This message of hope was made public as the casualty branch made preparations to handle the casualty notices from yesterday's great raid on Berlin that took a record toll of 68 American bombers and 11 fighter planes—planes missing in action with 700 American airmen aboard.

Officials of the casualty branch said past records indicate that 275 to 300 of these missing airmen will be reported later as prisoners of war in Nazi prison camps. Only an extremely small percentage of them are rescued by the "underground" patriot organizations of the occupied countries.

The casualty lists resulting from the big raids usually are not sent out until about two weeks after the raid occurs, the army reported.

WELSH MINERS STRIKE; 40,000 OUT IN BRITAIN

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 7.—On the eve of Minister of Fuel Gwilym Lloyd George's discussions with coal owners and miners' leaders on the overhaul of the mining industry wage structure, the coal strike, which began in Monmouthshire Monday, spread thruout the Welsh coal field today. At least 40,000 men from 60 pits are now on strike, representing nearly half the entire south Wales coal field man power. Loss of production is estimated at more than 35,000 tons a day.

The unrest is caused by mine workers' dissatisfaction with the terms of wage increases decreed recently by a national tribunal, which skilled workers complain failed to effect any improvement in their pay. Another sore spot is that the men who benefited by the increased wage rates now have to pay 30 cents a week more for coal to heat their own homes.

After pit head meetings men in the Aberdare, Swansea, and Rhymney valleys decided to stop work. The Monmouthshire area, where about 10,000 men are idle, was the worst affected.

Executive Deplores Strike.

The executive of the South Wales Miners federation issued an appeal to the men to return to work immediately, leaving the question of interpretation of the wages award for discussion at tomorrow's meeting with Gwilym Lloyd George. He said the wage award represents "a distinct advance in the struggle of mine workers to improve both their income and status" and "deplores the stoppages and their threatened extension because they jeopardize the principle of a national minimum for the mine workers, secured after long years of struggle."

New Jobs for 374.

Meanwhile, 374 miners at the Easington colliery in Durham, who have been given 14 days' notice to quit by the fuel ministry for deliberately restricting output, were ordered today to report to the local employment bureau tomorrow to be told where new jobs have been found for them.

Asked in the house of commons today what he proposed to do to clear up the disturbances, Lloyd George advised his questioners to await the outcome of discussions with the owners and miners.

The British press was unanimous in condemning the strikes and the slow down policy.

FCC IS ACCUSED OF HIDING BLAME ON PEARL HARBOR

New Deal Fears Inquiry, House Told.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Renewing his attack on the administration's "gag" on the house investigation of the federal communications commission, Rep. Miller [R., Mo.] told the house today that a full inquiry would lead to a disclosure of who was "really responsible" for the Pearl Harbor catastrophe.

Miller, one of the two minority members of a special house committee assigned to investigate the FCC, charged that the committee's work has been stymied by high New Deal officials because "if they permit this investigation to reveal even a small fraction of the corruption which must exist after 12 years of control of this government, they already will have lost the November election."

Fly Quizzed on Broadcasts.

Miller did not amplify his reference to the responsibility for Pearl Harbor in his house speech, but earlier today at a committee hearing he questioned James L. Fly, FCC chairman, about Fly's failure to halt Japanese language broadcasts from Hawaii before Dec. 7, 1941.

Miller said evidence before the committee indicates that the army and the navy wanted to halt such broadcasts before Dec. 7, 1941, but were hamstrung by FCC. Fly denied this, asserting the army and the navy made no such proposal.

Miller retorted that if the administration would permit officials of the navy and the federal bureau of investigation to testify before the committee, their testimony would throw light on the Pearl Harbor disaster.

"If this committee of congress submits to this administrative gag," Miller told the house, "we will find that we have closed the door to the shady corridor which leads to the real truth about which men were really responsible for the horror of Pearl Harbor."

The congressman reviewed what he described as the new deal campaign to halt the FCC inquiry, which led to the resignation last month of Eugene Garey, committee counsel, and three of his aids.

Garey charged the inquiry had become a whitewash after the committee's three man Democratic majority suspended investigation into the sale of radio station WMCA to Edward J. Noble, former undersecretary of commerce to Harry Hopkins. Donald Flamm, the former owner of WMCA, had told the committee he was forced to sell under pressure stemming from the White House or face the lifting of his license by FCC.

Sharing of Fee Hinted.

Miller disclosed today that Noble's attorney in the transaction, Charles S. Guthrie, was a law partner of Thomas Corcoran, a former Presidential adviser. Future testimony will show, Miller said, that "Mr. Corcoran was in the picture to the point where he may have shared in a fee estimated to run as high as $50,000."

Miller and Rep. Wigglesworth [R., Mass.] earlier today protested the committee majority's decision to hear Fly before a new counsel has been appointed to replace Garey. Observing that Fly was being heard at his own request, the two charged in a statement that the decision to hear him now is further evidence of a "whitewash attempt."

Fly's testimony consisted chiefly of a general denial of all charges the committee has heard concerning FCC abuses, including a denial of any FCC connection with the sale of WMCA. He assailed "loose and irresponsible" charges made by Garey.

In discussing communications problems, Fly declared British authorities have "bottlenecked" the relaying of news and other information from parts of its empire by requiring all messages to clear thru London.

INDUSTRY PLAN TO EASE LIQUOR PINCH SHELVED

New York, March 7 [Special].—A plan under which, in the opinion of major distillers, the current liquor shortage could have been eased, a severe blow dealt to the black market and bootlegging made less profitable, was submitted to the federal government two months ago and apparently pigeonholed, it was learned today.

With Joseph Seagram & Sons, Inc., acting as spokesman, the proposal was submitted on Jan. 11 to Sidney Scheuer, director of foreign procurement of the foreign economic administration in Washington. The offer contained the proviso that two proposed contracts be approved not later than Feb. 12.

While the Seagram company submitted the proposal, it is understood all distillers desiring to participate in the plan if consummated would have been privileged to do so.

Confirmed by Schwengel.

The fact that the proposal had been made to the director of foreign procurement was confirmed by Gen. Frank R. Schwengel, president of Seagrams, who said no reply had been received.

Under the proposed plan, which would have made possible a "holiday" to replenish rapidly dwindling liquor stocks, the distillers would have purchased up to 50,000,000 gallons of 190 proof ethyl alcohol from Cuba at 80 cents a gallon.

This was to have been turned over to the government to add to its industrial stockpile at 50 cents a gallon delivered at a Florida or gulf port free of transportation costs.

In turn, it is understood, the distillers wanted to be permitted to withdraw 35,000,000 gallons of grain alcohol for beverage purposes from the present stockpile at a price said to have been 90 cents a gallon. In effect, it was pointed out in the industry, the government's industrial alcohol stockpile would have been enriched by 17,000,000 gallons thru the transaction.

Would Save Grain.

One member of the industry explained that acceptance of the plan would have made the much discussed "holiday" possible without touching any of the present grain supply. He added that if the plan had gone thru it probably would have done more than anything else to "head off hoarding, strike at the heart of the black market, curb bootlegging and hijacking and the growing return of gorillas and gangsters on the fringes of industry."

In addition, this spokesman, who did not wish to be identified, pointed out that the government would have profited by $700,000,000 in taxes thru the deal.

While the transaction would have meant a loss of several millions of dollars to the distillers, the understanding is that they were prepared to shoulder this financial deficit in order to get quality grain spirits for their products.

245 DEFERMENTS SOUGHT BY WPB; 7 ARE GRANTED

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—Out of 245 big and little war production board officials whose deferment as "key men" was sought by the agency, all but seven have been turned down, it was learned tonight.

One official described the situation as "the most serious threat to the WPB organization since start of the war." All the 245 are pre-Pearl Harbor fathers.

Among those whose deferment was rejected, it was understood, were Vice Chairman J. A. Krug, in charge of production programs, chairman of the powerful WPB requirements committee, and director of the office of war utilities, and E. A. Locke, assistant to Chairman Donald M. Nelson and accounted one of the most influential of WPB policy officials.

The 245 names submitted by WPB from among its 17,000 employes were culled out of a group of 700 whose deferment had been proposed.

AMERICAN FLEET CALLED BIGGEST IN U. S. HISTORY

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—The secretary of the navy today said that the American fleet—largest in world history—consists of more than 900 warships.

"This doesn't include any small stuff," he added at a press conference.

He also disclosed that the carrier group of the Essex type will include more than 11 ships originally scheduled for that class, but gave no details on this.

WILL THE REPUBLICANS RE-ELECT F.D.R.?

A SERIOUS CHALLENGE AND A BLUNT ANSWER IN TODAY'S SATURDAY EVENING POST

EDITORIAL IN THE MARCH 11 ISSUE

The Saturday Evening Post Believes:

1 That it is high time for a change in the National Administration.

The Post does not subscribe to the doctrine that any one man, or any group of men, is indispensable to our national welfare, to the prosecution of the war or to the solution of world problems after the war. It does believe that the New Deal has been too long in power; that it has grown arrogant; that its policies of unlimited spending and unlimited bureaucracy eventually would lead to the destruction of democratic government; that its constant encroachment on individual freedom and private enterprise is a growing threat to the American way of life.

2 That an able Republican candidate, standing on a forthright and enlightened platform, would have a better than fifty-fifty chance of winning the Presidency next November.

3 That, despite this hopeful outlook, there is grave danger that Republican leadership may fumble the ball.

Unhappily, there is undeniable evidence that certain G.O.P. leaders have mistaken public impatience with the minor irritations of war for an inexorable tide which will sweep just any Republican, on any kind of platform, into office. This is the sort of complacency which loses elections. It is the sort of thinking which, even in the case of party victory, betrays the nation.

4 That there are, within Republican ranks, several men of courage, intelligence and ability who could lead the party through this political year with honor—and quite possibly to victory.

5 That if, instead of one of these, the G.O.P. compromises on a second-rater and rests its case on a platform of expediency and pussyfooting—or on a program of dreary reaction—then it probably will throw away its best chance in twelve years. And may God help this country!

To those who believe that a Republican victory is practically in the bag, no matter how the party behaves, the Post recommends the blunt logic of Stanley High's article, which appears in the March 11 issue.

EDITOR OF THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

"Demand" Reading for Every American

WHAT man will occupy the White House in this—perhaps the one year of America's greatest crisis? What man will lead this nation through the critical closing years of war—to represent us at the council tables of peace? And what man will direct the destiny of this nation—its returning fighters—its return to peacetime pursuits—the management of its debt—the welfare of its millions?

America and the world search seriously for the answer. For world destiny is involved—and this nation's years of future are at stake.

The editor of the Post, believing it is high time for a candid facing of the facts, has published this editorial in the March 11 issue.

Accompanying this editorial, Stanley High, veteran political observer analyzes the factors that can influence and dictate victory or defeat for the Republican Party.

Mr. High's article is a coldly logical, sobering statement of truths that must be faced. It is a warning against party complacency—against "sit-tight" attitudes. It is a plea for a man of stature and a forthright platform. It is a warning—based on known facts—that Roosevelt can be elected for a fourth term. Stanley High's article is "demand" reading—now—for every voter, every American. Read—in this week's Saturday Evening Post on your newsstand today—

DEFICIENCY BILL CUT 91 MILLION BY HOUSE GROUP

Housing and Federal Works Jolted.

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—A new economy drive by congress was thrown into high gear today as the house appropriations committee recommended a $91,235,064 slash in the funds requested for various federal agencies in the first deficiency supply bill of 1944.

Committee action left the total of proposed new appropriations at $500,103,748.

Biggest cuts by the committee were 22½ million dollars from the 150 million requested by the federal works agency for community facilities; 17½ million from the 25 million sought by the national housing agency for war housing, and rejection of a request for $39,436,884 by the Commodity Credit corporation for restoration of its capital impairment.

Rejects Transfer Requests.

After slashing the requests for new funds the committee turned down requests for transfers of $26,945,000 in funds previously appropriated and for contract authorizations of 10 million dollars.

The committee reduced from 130 million dollars to 120 million the navy's request for authorization to construct additional repair yards.

It granted the full 30 million sought by the veterans' administration for construction of hospital facilities after hearing Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines assert that by 1975 a peak load of 300,000 beds would be filled by 207,000 veterans of this war and 91,400 veterans of past wars.

Plan Hines Expansion.

Among the projects proposed are the extension of facilities at Hines, Ill., to provide 100 beds for general patients at a cost of $750,000, and a new facility for the Wisconsin area, site of which is not determined, to provide 1,328 beds for neuropsychiatric patients at a cost of $4,880,000.

In cutting the funds for community facilities, the committee put a limitation of 4 per cent on funds that may be used for administrative purposes.

In explanation of the 17½ million dollar cut in war housing funds, the committee said the need for such housing was declining.

Refusing the CCC's impaired capital plea, the committee said the CCC had a balance of $25,045,814 on Dec. 31 and is authorized to borrow funds, with repayment guaranteed by the government.

Virtually all of the repair installations sought by the navy would be located on the Pacific coast. A recently completed survey, Rear Adm. Edward L. Cochrane disclosed.

FATHER GOES TO QUAD'S FUNERAL; SEES ITS MOTHER

HEANOR, Derbyshire, England, March 7 (AP).—American Staff Sgt. William Thompson today attended a private funeral service for Macdonald, one of the quadruplets born to him and Norah Carpenter, and then visited the babies' mother in Derbyshire royal infirmary.

To the 23-year-old girl, who was hospitalized Saturday suffering the after effects of multiple birth, he took magazines and a basket of fruit, and spent two hours with her. "Norah is as well as can be expected under the circumstances," he said.

Only Thompson and the babies' grandparents attended the funeral. The baby was buried in a small village cemetery. The three surviving babies were reported doing well and gaining weight.

F. D. R. PROPOSAL FOR CIO SEAT IN ILO ANGERS AFL

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—President Roosevelt ran into stiff opposition from the American Federation of Labor today with his suggestion that the AFL might have to share American representation in the international labor office with the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The consensus among AFL officials appeared to be to give up participation in the ILO rather than relinquish the federation's role of exclusive spokesman.

The President at his news conference said he had begun preliminary discussions on the job of picking one man to represent American labor at the ILO meeting in Philadelphia April 20. He said it might be quite a problem to find a single representative when there are two major organizations in the country.

Green Tests Sentiment.

AFL President William Green, who conferred with the President yesterday, is canvassing the AFL executive council on the question of whether it is willing to share representation.

None of the federation sources available here would be quoted, but their offhand reaction was that they would prefer to withdraw rather than take part on a split basis with the CIO.

The ILO is a government sponsored organization founded as an adjunct of the league of nations after the last war. Its field is an advisory one on such subjects as social security, labor standards, and welfare.

Four U. S. Representatives.

The President pointed out that the United States is entitled to four representatives—two from government and one each from industry and labor.

Altho the appointment of ILO representatives lies within the province of the chief executives of the participating countries, the AFL looks upon the American labor seat with almost proprietary interest because of the part which the late Samuel Gompers, AFL president, took in founding the ILO.

The AFL never has been willing to recognize the CIO except as a "rebel" or "outlaw" organization.

No Finnish Delegates.

Another delicate point in connection with the ILO meeting has been resolved by the Finnish government's decision to refrain from sending delegates.

Since Finland is at war with Britain and Russia, those nations had let it be known that if Finnish delegates participated, Britain and Russia would not send delegates. Russia, not a member of the organization, was specially invited.

STORY OF HITLER FILLS U. S. REPLY IN SEDITION CASE

Bill of Particulars Has Few, if Any, Details.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—The government's first bill of particulars in its sedition conspiracy case against Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, Chicago, and 41 others was filed today in the federal court for the District of Columbia by O. John Rogge and Joseph W. Burns, special assistants to the attorney general.

The bill of particulars, a document that usually sets forth details of the parts allegedly played by defendants in the commission of a crime charged, in this instance contained a lengthy history of the rise of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi party in Germany on 25 of its 32 pages.

Almost three of the seven remaining pages contained lists of publications allegedly used by the defendants for seditious purposes and the names of those defendants who allegedly organized, used and supported these publications. In almost every instance publication and distribution of the allegedly seditious documents has never been denied by the defendants, because the documents usually carried the name of the authors and publishers in bold type.

In their plea for a bill of particulars, the defendants specifically asked what each one said or wrote that the justice department considers seditious. Little or none of this information was contained in the government's bill of particulars filed today. Because of this lengthy arguments are expected on this subject Monday when Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of the District court takes up the defendants' motions. Prolonged argument is expected to delay start of the trial of the case, now tentatively scheduled for March 20.

2 Pages of Details.

The following passages on pages 26 and 27 of the document filed today sets forth the justice department's only description of the way the defendants allegedly joined with the Nazis in the propaganda campaign:

"The aim of the propaganda of the entire world-wide movement was to unite the masses of the people under the single concept of 'Aryanism,' and to arouse in them a hatred of certain alleged enemies, designated by such conveniently broad and simple terms as 'Jews,' 'democrats,' 'plutocrats,' or 'bolshevists,' which as far as possible were to be identified with one another in the public mind.

"Anti-Semitic propaganda in all countries was considered an almost indispensable medium of the movement. By attacking the Jews the Nazi conspirators hoped to destroy the feeling for law and order of the whole world.

Spread Propaganda.

"The conspirators spread their propaganda over the United States, seeking to undermine the faith of the people in their leaders, and to cause unrest and lack of faith in democracy among the members of the armed forces.

"In carrying out this activity the conspirators followed two lines of propaganda at the same time. The first line was intended to promote the Nazi ideology in America, in an effort to build up an American form of national socialism. This part of the movement was based on anti-semitism and opposition to the Negro. They did not attempt to import socialism from Germany without change or adaptation, but tried to conceal their real object by giving every group a slogan expressing its interests and hopes in terms of American traditions and language and by adopting old patriotic ideas and figures such as Washington and Lincoln.

Aimed at Suspicion.

"The second line was distinct from the first, and even used different organizations to carry it out. This line promoted general suspicion between all groups and classes in an attempt to cause national disintegration and paralysis. Suspicion and hatred between various groups, between different economic classes, between different religious groups, between different geographical groups with varying economic interests, were promoted by every means and in every way so that when the proper disintegration had been accomplished, selected persons in strategic positions would then, acting together, be able to seize power."

The aim of the Nazi conspirators in the United States, the bill said, was to establish their "new order"—a national socialist or fascist form of government.

Paratroop Style

Pvt. G. R. Bass fashions his paratroop hair-do for Dorothy Anderson, Chicago model.

The dream girl of a paratrooper was conjured up at the Midwest Beauty Trade show, Hotel Sherman, yesterday by two experts in their own fields. Pvt. Gilbert R. Bass, former Buffalo, N. Y., hair stylist now with a troop carrier squadron at Warrenburg, Mo., created a paratrooper hair-do for blonde Dorothy Anderson, 6363 Ellis av., while Ralph Moni, Chicago dress designer, fashioned a pair of lounging pajamas on Miss Anderson before an audience.

Pvt. Bass said he "thought up" the hair-do while musing in his bunk. The paratrooper costume was copied in the Moni pajamas.

Flatter but not flat hair styles were predicted for the near future by Erich Laetsch, president of the Coiffure guild, New York. The convention closed last night with an Easter parade.

INCOME RETURNS FILED BY 500,000; 2,500,000 TO COME

Income tax returns have been filed by 500,000 of the 3 million taxpayers in the northern Illinois district, and the number arriving by mail has grown to 60,000 a day, Collector of Internal Revenue Harrison said yesterday. Two policemen are busy keeping order among the callers at Harrison's offices in the United States courthouse. March 15 is the deadline for filing returns.

Harrison said that, contrary to the advice of some tax experts, husbands and wives who file separate returns should not offset any overpayment credit of one spouse against the other's tax liability. The law provides, he pointed out, that overpayments be refunded or applied to the estimated tax of the filing taxpayer.

Some 250,000 taxpayers have been given assistance on filing returns by his 39 offices, Harrison said.

FORMER BISHOP NICHOLSON, OF CHICAGO, DIES

Mount Vernon, Ia., March 7 [Special].—Bishop Thomas Nicholson, 82, one of the country's foremost prohibition leaders in the days when he was president of the Anti-Saloon League of America, died here tonight. He had been retired since 1932, when he was relieved of his duties as bishop of the Detroit area of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1932. His wife was at his bedside when he died.

Bishop Nicholson was resident bishop of Chicago from 1916 to 1924 and of Detroit from 1924 until he retired. He was corresponding secretary of the Methodist board of education for eight years before he was named a bishop. He was head of the Anti-Saloon league from 1921 until 1932.

Bishop Nicholson was born in Hamilton, Ont., and became a citizen of the United States while in his teens. He was graduated from Northwestern university in 1893 and from the Garrett Biblical Institute in the same year. After serving in several pastorates he taught at Cornell college here for nine years and later was president of the Methodist college at Mitchell, S. D. He was widely known as a lecturer on the bible.

MAYBE... future cars with Glareless Lighting

BUT... OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE is like outdoing the future—today

3,965,194 people bought the "latest" cars—mostly 1941 models. Twenty-odd million cars are still older. All the probable new car orders—even if dated today—won't be quickly filled. Then what future car improvement is likely to mean more than the instant improvement of your present car's health?

The least you can do for it is to have unsuitable scratchy old Winter oil drained. But get more than an oil change; adopt the major advancement of oil that OIL-PLATES—simply by getting Conoco Nth motor oil for your indispensable Spring oil change. Conoco Nth adds protective OIL-PLATING to working parts by "magnet-like" effect. This comes from the special modern synthetic in Conoco Nth oil...at regular price.

OIL-PLATING defies engine acids. These infest every engine; they're part of every explosion. They tend to corrode metals most when your engine's driven little—not heated throughout—often re-started after full cooling. Yet even for more favorable postwar driving you'll want acid-resistant OIL-PLATING. Why not get it without waiting? Today! Simply change to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco Nth oil for Spring. AUTHOR WARNS OF GLOBALONEY EDUCATION PLAN

Charges Secret Bureau Being Organized.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—In a memorandum entitled "Bureau of Globaloney," John T. Flynn, author and former newspaper man, today warned members of congress that the United States office of education is secretly planning to create a government financed division of international propaganda.

John T. Flynn.

Flynn, a member of the New York City board of higher education, charged that the proposed division would distribute pamphlets to schools, provide lecturers on internationalism, distribute teaching aids to propagate the "globaloney faith," and send representatives abroad "to be indoctrinated with internationalist philosophy."

The author of the scheme, Flynn said, is the Austrian born Dr. Walter Kotchnig, "one of those inevitable emigre professors who has been in this country less than ten years and who is now prepared to take over the formation of the crude, untutored American mind in the interest of his internationalist passions."

Admits Kotchnig Study.

Miss Bess Goodykoontz, assistant United States commissioner of education, admitted today that Dr. Kotchnig, who is professor of education at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., had made a study of international aspects of the office of education program, but she asserted that he had not proposed the international division.

Miss Goodykoontz said that Dr. Kotchnig had made his study at the request of John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education, and that he had not been on the pay roll of the office of education. His recommendations included suggestions to improve the teaching of geography and the extension of the office's international service, Miss Goodykoontz said.

Flynn told the congressmen in his memorandum that Dr. Kotchnig was being considered as head of the proposed international education division, and that Dr. Kotchnig wanted at least two Englishmen on his staff.

"This writer has no objection to the presence in our communities of foreign scholars," Flynn wrote. "We must never close our eyes and ears to the sources of knowledge and wisdom from whatever corner of the globe they may appear.

Raps "Busybody Emigres."

"It is quite another thing to take in these busybody emigres who industriously seek to worm their way into positions of power and put them in charge of the very machinery of education here. It is also another thing to create an immense and expensive propaganda machine for their alien ideologies and put that machine in their hands to use against the minds of our people."

Flynn urged all members of congress to be on guard against any attempt of the office of education to create a division that would be used to spread internationalist propaganda, declaring that such a move would be "un-American and indefensible."

"It is time to call a halt," Flynn said, "to this persistent drive of recently arrived teachers—some of them refugees—who keep everlastingly at the job of inserting themselves into our government, to control its thinking and shape its decisions in favor of objectives which are dear to them not because they are Americans, but because they are the angry or injured or vengeful victims of enemies in other lands."

THE QUESTION.

When is the best time to ask your wife [or husband] an annoying question?

WHERE ASKED.

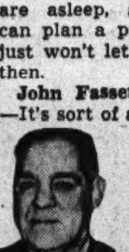
Monroe st. and Wabash av.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Charles B. Watson, 413 S. Main st., Glen Ellyn—The most annoying question I can ask my husband is if he'd like to take our little Pekingese dog for a walk. He's usually in a pretty agreeable mood right after a good breakfast, but sometimes I have to ask him that question whether or not he is in a good mood.

Fred A. Trecker, newspaper truck driver, 1652 N. Washtenaw av. —Whenever I have any important questions to ask I save them all up for the end of the week when I get my pay check. Then right after I hand over the whole check to my wife I start firing the questions and she's usually quite pleasant about it all.

Edwin V. Anderson, salesman, 3717 Ferdinand st.—The best time to approach my wife on a subject that I'm sure won't be pleasant to her is in the early evening. She is always so glad when the day's work is done, the children are asleep, and she can plan a peaceful evening. She just won't let anything disturb her then.



John Fassett, 5403 Carpenter st. —It's sort of a dirty trick but whenever there's something I want my wife to tell me I always buy her a box of candy or a bouquet of flowers first. Then when she's feeling pleasant and happy I ask her where she was the evening before and why she never takes time to cook my favorite dishes anymore.

Mrs. Lawrence Smith, conservation clerk, 2529 Pershing rd.—My husband just naturally has a good disposition, so it doesn't matter much when I ask him annoying questions. He's usually most jovial and talkative right after a couple of cups of coffee in the morning and sometimes I do take advantage of those good moods.

Sidney A. Dennison, superintendent of schools, Glen Ellyn—It usually disturbs my wife a little to be asked how much she paid for something new because she doesn't always consider price. I find the best time to ask her that is right after I've highly approved of her new purchase.

BUTCHER SHORT 8,928 POINTS.

Sam Sawyer, owner of a meat market at 1300 Morse av., was charged yesterday by the metropolitan area office of price administration with a shortage in his meats and fats ration bank account of 8,928 points.

SUBSIDY KILLED, PERILING SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

The national house of representatives yesterday defeated by a vote of 136 to 54 a 50 million dollar appropriation to continue federal school lunch subsidies after July 1. As a result, state subsidies in Illinois also will be discontinued then, the prices charged in city schools' lunch rooms will be approximately doubled, and privately sponsored lunch and milk projects in Cook county will be jeopardized.

The 600 subsidized lunch programs in Cook county can continue to operate unchanged thru the remainder of this school year because the funds already available will last until July 1. Illinois was allocated $2,340,000 in federal money, with about half coming to Cook county. A state fund of 1½ million dollars was voted by the last general assembly to supplement federal funds in lunch programs.

The state funds were to cover needs for two years, but W. A. Stolte, head of the office of distribution of the war food administration here, said the state funds were made available only in connection with federal funds, so that withdrawal of federal support also would eliminate the state aid.

Affects Council Projects.

One effect of the house action will be to hamper or eliminate the Back of the Yards Neighborhood council's lunch programs, which have received more than $20,000 in federal and $7,300 in state money in the four months thru January, Jerome J. Greenberg, county administrator of the program, reported.

Next fall, when neither federal nor state subsidy money is forthcoming city school lunch rooms will continue to operate, a spokesman said, but prices will be about double present ones and penny milk will cost 4 cents. The federal government now pays 2 cents, the state 1 cent, and the pupil 1 cent of the 4 cent price for half a pint of milk. For hot lunches, the federal fund pays up to 9 cents and the state up to 2½ cents of the cost.

Greenberg said 1,542,973 hot lunches were served in January and 1,372,080 bottles of milk were consumed, with about 150,000 children getting either milk or lunch daily.

Favor Localities Paying.

Opponents of the lunch subsidy, offered as an amendment to an agricultural measure, said the school districts desiring to serve lunches are in better position than the federal government to pay the cost.

Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction and state administrator of the program, said that a second bill asking for the same amount already has been introduced into congress. This would place administration under the United States office of education, instead of the department of agriculture, and would provide money for state administration costs, he said.

Nickell said 1,600 Illinois schools have lunch projects.

AUTO INDUSTRY FORECASTS VAST POST-WAR SALES

Analyses Made to Guide Future Business.

lion passenger car year in the history of the motor car industry was in 1929, when an output of 4,587,400 far exceeded market requirements. From 1930 to 1939, inclusive, the average annual production was 2,535,019. Such an upturn as predicted would result in a 5 billion dollar a year business, spreading its benefits thru thousands of subcontractors to the producers of raw materials. In normal times, the automobile maker is America's largest consumer of raw materials.

Synthetic Tires at First.

Tire manufacturing facilities have been expanded to a capacity of 90 million tires a year to meet military and lend-lease demands. American civilians will get only about 20 million tires this year. With the armistice, the public will get what the government is now buying.

The first post-war tires for civilians will be mainly synthetic. These are good tires, as established by a Chicago Tribune road test that also proved that waste from pulpwood mills was a source of rubber raw material as good as the grains and petroleum used under the government program for this purpose.

Rubber Monopoly May Be Ended.

Natural rubber will be available in abundance within six months after the Pacific war is ended. The outlook technologically is that both natural and synthetic rubber will be used for tires. As for price competition between the two materials, it's predicted that the former British-Dutch rubber monopoly will never again be able to inflate prices at the expense of the world's leading consumer, America.

More Gas to Be Available.

Petroleum companies estimate they will have 2 million barrels a day of motor fuel available to civilians immediately after hostilities cease. The pre-war consumption was 1.8 million barrels a day for automobiles.

Gasoline pump manufacturers estimate there will be a demand for 218,500 new pumps, costing 24 million dollars, in the first year of peace.

As for touring, predictions are based upon three factors: [1] the urge to travel will have been accentuated by three or four years of restraints; [2] appetites for travel were whetted by glimpses of distant states obtained by millions of young men away from home for the first time; [3] the public will have more savings than ever before.

The 3 billion dollar a year or more expenditures for recreational touring will begin priming the national economic pump promptly.

[Railroad leaders will discuss the post-war future in their industry in the next article.]

Charge of Robbery Faces Two; Writ Plea Rejected

Raymond Fishell, 40, and Wincel Urban, 48, both of St. Louis, Mo., who were seized 20 minutes after two gunmen robbed the Olson Transportation company, 2222 S. Western av., of $1,177, will be charged with the robbery, Lt. Kyran Phelan of the detective bureau robbery detail said yesterday. Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein dismissed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

STEAL RADIOS FROM HOME.

Mrs. Rosella Reader, 1025 Larrabee st., reported to Chicago av. police yesterday that thieves broke into her home and stole two radios of a combined value of $100.

CHILD DRIVERS' BAN SOUGHT TO CUT CAR THEFTS

Laws to prohibit school children from driving to and from their homes were advocated yesterday by Sgt. John Kelly, head of the stolen automobile section of the state's attorney's police, to save gasoline for the war and reduce thefts by juveniles who steal cars for joy rides.

Sgt. Kelly disclosed that thefts by juveniles increased during the first two months of 1944, despite the fact there now are fewer cars on the street than in 1943.

Juveniles are responsible for two of the average of eight car thefts committed daily in Chicago. Since Jan. 1, 169 youngsters ranging from 12 to 16 years have been arrested for stealing 118 cars.

In 1943, 586 juveniles were seized for the theft of 372 cars.

Kelly said it would be easy for policemen to spot juvenile thieves if a ban were imposed on driving by school children. At present, the minimum age of drivers must be 15, and those between that age and 18 must have the consent of their parents to obtain licenses.

Autoist Halts at Hospital and Dies of Heart Attack

William Vandermark, 39, of 305 Shenstone rd., Riverside, died of a heart ailment yesterday in his automobile, parked in front of the Englewood hospital. He was a record clerk of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company, 1435 W. 37th st. When he was stricken, he was driving his assistant, Miss Mary Jones, 35, to her home at 6049 S. Morgan st., where her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hajick, had suffered a heart attack. Mrs. Hajick recovered.

SOLDIER GETS PRISON TERM ON THEFT CHARGES

Peter Bokun, 25, a soldier who twice was charged with being absent without leave, was sentenced to one to two years in prison yesterday by Judge Rudolph F. Desort in Criminal court when he pleaded guilty to robbing a parking lot office and stealing a car while on an unauthorized trip home from Camp Hood, Tex.

Bokun, who lives at 7130 Normal blvd., entered the army a year ago. Soon afterward he took his first leave without permission to visit his wife, Betty, 753 W. 79th st. On the way back he escaped from military policemen at St. Louis, Mo., and enlisted in the army as Frank Rose.

The army detected his masquerade and again sent him to Camp Hood, but he escaped a second time last Dec. 23. Six days later he was seized for thefts in a lot at 3737 N. Western av. Judge Desort denied army officers permission to discipline Bokun.

LOSES RING VALUED AT $325.

Michael De Tolve, 6200 Kenmore av., lost a ring valued at $325 near Granville and Kenmore avs. yesterday, he reported to police.

WIND WHISTLES FOR 24 HOURS; REACHES 36M.P.H.

Chicagoans continued to hold their hats yesterday in the highest wind since last St. Patrick's day and the longest blow since Armistice day, 1940. The 30 mile breeze had whistled thru 24 hours of steady blowing. A high of 36 miles an hour was recorded Monday midnight and yesterday's maximum was 32 miles.

A high of 37 miles per hour was reached last March 17, while the Armistice day, 1940, wind, which reached a velocity of 42 miles, blew for 24 hours, said Owen T. Lay, meteorologist of the weather bureau.

Temperatures in the low 20s and snow squalls accompanied what the weather bureau classified as a "strong wind" and a temperature of 17 was recorded early yesterday and 15 early today. A cold air mass moving in from the northwest was given as the explanation of the weather.

Comparatively little damage was reported. The stiff wind set a steel chimney on the Poinsettia hotel, 5528 Hyde Park blvd., at a dangerous tilt over the alley, causing police and firemen to block off the area until repairs could be made.

348 Pound Man, Long Idle, Held in Gas Coupon Sale

Joseph Sanko, 49, who weighs 348 pounds and who said he has been idle for the last 10 years, was held to the grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on charges of illegal sale of gasoline ration coupons and sugar and liquor at over ceiling prices. Sanko, who pleaded not guilty, lives at 5124 S. Hermitage av.

FEDERAL BALLOT IS FRAUD SETUP, DEWEY CHARGES

Advances 4 Point Plan for New York.

Albany, N. Y., March 7 (AP).—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, assailing the national administration for what he called an "attempt to force upon the people of this country a blank piece of paper called a 'soldier's ballot,'" advanced today a four-point plan of voting for New York service men.

The Republican governor, in a special message, asked the legislature to approve a program which he declared "seeks no political advantage by any of the tricks or intentions involved in other proposed blank ballots, limited ballots, write-in ballots, party designation ballots, and other well-called bobtail ballots."

Under Dewey's plan, every member of the services wishing to vote would send his name and home and service addresses to New York's secretary of state. The state war ballot commission would forward the information to local election boards, which would mail directly to the voter a ballot and self-addressed return envelope, all of a size and weight complying with army and navy wishes.

No Chance for Fraud.

The service men would mark the ballots for any or every office listed and mail them to the commission, which would forward them to local election boards.

This method, Dewey told the legislature, "provides a ballot about which there will be no constitutional question and with no opportunity for organized fraud, such as might be the case with other proposals."

The governor accused the national administration of having cultivated for 11 years "the concept that state and local governments are trivial and of no consequence."

"It is that concept of the national administration which engendered the attempt to force upon the people of this country a blank piece of paper called a 'soldier's ballot,' limited to the election of federal officials and without provision for the election of state and local officials," he declared. "It is that concept which assumes that the 30-odd governors and all the state legislators to be elected this year are not important enough to affect the interest of the soldier at home or abroad.

Plenty of Room for Ballots.

"It is that concept which propagates the view that the many local officials are all of no import in the life of the American soldier citizen."

The governor said: "Any pretense of overburdening the military or transport service is a sham. Purported literature many times the weight of all the paper ballots under the plan I propose has been shipped regularly abroad at the direction of officials in Washington."

POLICE SCANNING PAST OF SEVERAL DRAKE SUSPECTS

Chicago av. police are inquiring into the activities and pasts of several persons, it was learned yesterday, in their investigation of the strange murder of Mrs. Adele Born Williams in the Drake hotel.

Mrs. Williams, wife of Frank Starr Williams, a diplomatic attache, was shot the night of Jan. 19 in her Drake hotel room by an unidentified woman.

Capt. Frank Reynolds declined to talk about the persons now being investigated. They are among many who have been scrutinized. Police admitted they have little development to report on the case, but insisted that the inquiry will continue until Mrs. Williams' slayer is found.

ARMY VOTE BILL READY; FEDERAL BLOC TO FIGHT IT for a federal ballot under certain conditions."

Rep. Worley [D., Tex.], leader of the house members of the conference committee, said the bill was "not perfect" but represented a compromise between the supporters of the federal ballot and those who battled for state's rights. He said the bill was "discriminatory" in that it gave the federal ballot to some service men within the United States and kept it from others.

Lucas Attacks Measure.

Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.], supporter of the administration scheme to give federal ballots to all military personnel, attacked the revised soldier vote bill on the senate floor today.

"It is so hemmed in with restrictions we might as well not have it," he said.

Lucas' federal ballot proposal was embodied in the Green-Lucas bill which was passed by the senate in January. Passage by the house of a state ballot bill at the same time resulted in referring the whole subject of soldier vote legislation to the conference committee which finished its work today.

Many Classes Covered.

The bill applies not only to members of the army, navy, marine corps, and coast guard, but to crews of vessels operated by the war shipping administration [except those on the Great Lakes and inland waters]. Also included are representatives of the American Red Cross, Society of Friends, United Service organizations, and womens auxiliary service pilots attached to military or naval units.

Hospital Employe Faces Draft Court in St. Paul

United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday ordered the removal of William F. Krebes, 24, to St. Paul, Minn., for his second trial on draft evasion charges. Krebes, employed in Bethany hospital as a maintenance worker, was paroled from prison last November after he had served part of a sentence for failure to report for induction.

REPLACEMENT SCHEDULE.

Obviously the state director cannot review the qualifications or eligibility of each individual registrant on a replacement schedule. He does determine, however, that the periods of deferment indicated are consistent with the type and nature of the job classification and the schedule represents a logical pattern of replacement for the activities and locality. It may happen that deferment of a particular registrant is requested for a period somewhat longer than would normally be considered by the board. In some instances, the local board may be in possession of specific information which would justify the denial of deferment or even the reclassification of a registrant before the expiration of the period of time requested. In such cases, the local board can deny deferment or reclassify the registrant; but before so doing should submit the information to the state director of selective service for his consideration.

* * *

After the employer has filed the replacement schedule with the state director and it has been accepted and he has been given a "state acceptance number," each 42-A form filed with individual boards must show this number. The form 42-A should be filed with the registrant's local board before he is reclassified, whenever possible, but it may be filed and be effective after the registrant has been reclassified to 1-A, provided it is received by the local board before an induction order has been issued to the registrant. If the affidavit is received by the local board after an induction order is issued, the local board may, at its discretion, consider the new form as new evidence—cancel the order to report for induction, reopen the case and reclassify the registrant.

If the local board refuses to entertain a request for the deferment of a registrant when a form 42-A is received bearing a state acceptance number, the employer [or the registrant] may consider it advisable to exercise the right of appeal. The local board reduces to writing and places in the registrant's file any oral statements considered by the local board which do not appear in written form and the file is forwarded to the board of appeals. The appeal [if taken] is considered by the board of appeals in the area where the registrant is principally employed. If the appeals board determines the registrant is not eligible for occupational deferment, this decision shall be final except, [1] when there is a dissenting vote of one or more members of the board and an appeal to the President is taken, or [2] when the following provision is invoked: "The state director, to avoid an injustice or because he is aware of circumstances which, in his opinion, would justify his departing from the recommendation of the board of appeals, may order the local board to delay the issuance of an order to report for induction until such time as he may deem advisable, or the state director may for good cause at any time after the issuance of such order to report for induction, order a local board to postpone the induction of a registrant until such time as he may deem advisable. . . ."

* * *

The issuance of such "stay of induction" or "postponement of induction" does not change the registrant's classification unless the local board reopens the case and reclassifies him. If the local board does not reclassify him, he becomes immediately available for military service when the stay or postponement expires.

U. S. ASKS SOUTH TO LET NEGROES USE ITS SCHOOLS

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—The United States office of education today issued a report recommending that southern universities open their doors to Negroes.

The 407 page report presented findings and recommendations of a national survey of higher education among Negroes undertaken by the office of education in 1939 at the request of congress. Completion of the survey was announced by John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education.

Emphasizing the inadequacy of higher educational facilities for Negroes, Dr. Ambrose Caliver, Negro educator and associate director of the survey, asserted this condition merely is one symptom of the inferior social and economic position in which the Negro has been held by the white majority.

Responsibility Called Heavy.

"The power, the advancement, and the prestige of the majority group in America place upon it a heavy responsibility," Dr. Caliver said. "This is particularly true at the present time, when all the world and especially colored and other disadvantaged peoples are looking to America for help, hope, and leadership.

"Higher educational institutions for white persons in the south have an excellent opportunity to take the initiative and point the way thru gradual and orderly progress toward the realization of the four freedoms and the principles of the Atlantic charter for all mankind."

Research on South Urged.

Among suggestions submitted by Dr. Caliver to white universities was the proposal that they make their facilities available to Negro scholars and research students, coöperate with Negro universities in a program for better race relations, and promote research into problems peculiar to the south.

Dr. Caliver also urged that state, federal, and private funds be provided to assure equality of educational opportunities for Negroes.

A recent bill to provide federal aid for general educational facilities both for white and Negroes has hit a snag in congress because southern congressmen opposed a provision earmarking part of the funds for Negro education.

MacARTHUR'S VETERANS SENT TO BURMA.

The Americans of the 1st cavalry division who seized a landing field on Los Negros Island in the Admiralty group have been reënforced according to dispatches from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters. At the same time units from the 32d division, also under Gen. MacArthur's command, have made a new landing in the rear of Japanese positions on the New Guinea coast.

This sounds as if MacArthur is amply provided with reserves, but the man has been able to accomplish so much with so little that the appearance may be deceiving. Certainly this much is true beyond all question: if a hue and cry had not been raised in this and other newspapers and in congress about the neglect of Gen. MacArthur he would not have had even the limited means with which he achieved the great victories that stand to his credit.

Gen. MacArthur has always been short of troops and supplies and there is no telling what he has available now. The 32d division is not a recent reënforcement; it has been with him for a long time. The cavalry division was first heard from in the Admiralty action, but this accession has been balanced, at least in part, by the loss of some of his veterans who were sent to Burma, as we now learn from the report of their brilliant march around the enemy in the vicinity of the Ledo road.

Mountbatten, in command on the Burma front, is supposed to have something like a million men at his disposal and a vast quantity of supplies. The precise count of his resources is, of course, a military secret, but it cannot be doubted that MacArthur's are almost negligible in comparison. Nevertheless, from MacArthur's few veterans of jungle fighting some were taken away to give added strength to Mountbatten. If the move can be justified at all it is on the theory that they have accomplished about all that has been achieved in Burma in recent months. The rest of Mountbatten's operations have amounted to little more than extricating a portion of his army from the trap into which he allowed it to fall.

Mountbatten, a cousin of King George of England, had a creditable record as a naval officer in minor capacities and was later given charge of the Commandos. He has never, until now, directed a great army and nothing that has happened in Burma since he got there has given any one reason to think he is equal to the larger responsibility. There must be professional officers in the British army and there certainly are a good many of them in our army whose proved abilities exceed his by far. Nevertheless, he is in command of American troops.

It may be somewhat unfair to Mountbatten to call him a royal playboy, but there can be no doubt that he is where he is because he is the king's cousin; and he is commanding Americans because to let him do so serves Mr. Roosevelt's social ambitions. That also is why he was able to get some of MacArthur's few veterans.

THE TAX EXPERT RACKET.

The complexity of the current income tax return has produced a bumper crop of self-styled tax experts, offering for a fee to help the taxpayer make out his return. A walk along Irving Park road the other evening disclosed within three blocks five tax consultants set up for business in vacant stores. The cashier's hut in a loop parking lot advertises "Complete Income Tax Service" within. On the south side a candy kitchen is doubling in tax advice.

A taxpayer who goes to one of these so-called experts runs a chance of buying himself some trouble. The "expert's" knowledge of the subject may be confined to what he has read in a manual purchased in a drug store. Any one who prepares an income tax return for another is required to note that fact on the return, but many of the fly-by-night advisers fail to do so. In any event, it is the taxpayer who is responsible for mistakes. The taxpayer is liable if, in an attempt to cut corners and reduce the tax, the "expert" makes a fraudulent return.

The tax return is formidable, but most of its terrors are dissipated if it is attacked a line at a time. A taxpayer whose principal income is his salary or wages should be able to make out his own return if he is patient and remembers his eighth grade arithmetic. It will do no harm to try, anyway.

If you get stuck, try the revenue authorities. In addition to the regular employes of the collector of internal revenue, most of the revenue agents have been assigned this month to banks, newspaper offices and sub-postoffices to assist in preparing returns. The revenue employe may disallow some of your deductions, but on the other hand, he may suggest some that you have forgotten. In any event, you won't get into trouble on your return.

NO GOOD-BY JUST NOW MR. CHIPS.

Mr. Roosevelt commemorated the beginning of the twelfth year of his rule Saturday, March 4, by celebrating the eleventh anniversary of his coming to power. Until last year these annual memorial ceremonies were held in St. John's Episcopal church. For the 1943 occasion the East room of the White House was used and this year Mr. Roosevelt invited the specially chosen to join him there again. Included were his proteges of the Supreme court in whom he takes a paternal interest and Princess Martha, Prince Olaf, and the little Prince Harald, Princess Ragnhild, and Princess Astrid, all of Norway, in whom he takes an interest.

The end of 11 years in the White House and the dawn of the twelfth, contemplated by the tenant in a gilt chair before the improvised altar in the East room, must have flooded the chief celebrant with emotions. Many of his one-time fellow citizens might also be overwhelmed. Eleven years' tenure, the first tenancy of the sort, the longest rule in the nation's history, the greatest depression, the greatest debt, the greatest wars, the furthest departure from the country's customs, the furthest deviation from its republican laws, personal government nearing its zenith, constitutional government its nadir.

As the chief celebrant listened to the vested choir ushering in his twelfth year as herald angels, he looked ahead to four more years. It is not yet the First Consul sitting in the gilt chair. He is still dreaming of the 18th Brumaire. Beyond that is the plebiscite, consul for life, and the right to appoint his successor. Further than that? The royal family of Norway is at his elbow.

The elderly and reverend Dr. Endicott Peabody, former headmaster of Groton, now present in the circle, must have as many emotions as the tenant. Dr. Peabody is our Mr. Chips. He saw the youthful Franklin come to school and he must ask himself if it is possible to read destiny in any young, shining countenance. Was there any premonition which might have illumined the thoughts of our Mr. Chips in days gone as he observed the successive waves of small fry whose lives he was to influence? They come and go. For most of them it's good-by, Mr. Chips. They bob up here and there later. As the good Dr. Peabody ushers in the twelfth year for his former urchin he must wonder. Is it wholly credible?

Many paths lead to the White House. Heretofore no one has been able to predict where any path would start. Genuine barefoot boys have started on it. Some of them were startled when the great opportunity was presented to them. By tradition their ambition when awakened was to be self-disciplined. As pedagog and pupil look at each other in the East room, our Mr. Chips may or may not realize that the pupil did not absorb self-restraint. To that the venerable doctor may now be indifferent. He contemplates a phenomenon.

One thing he knows. It is not good-by, Mr. Chips, on this occasion if the tenure of the celebrant in the gilt chair can be extended as the First Consul extended his own in what had started as another republic.

No good-by, Mr. Chips. It's stick around, Mr. Chips.

LEPKE AND BIDDLE.

Louis [Lepke] Buchalter, the murderer, died in Sing Sing prison's electric chair the other night. Lepke was a gangster whose organization, known as Murder, Inc., did homicide on order. Early in Mr. Roosevelt's administration the New Dealers began to organize labor for political purposes. Union officials who were drawing their pay from the members of their organization went to work for Mr. Roosevelt's party. Lepke was in the labor racket, too. It was inevitable that the paths of labor hoodlums such as Lepke and the labor politicians of the Roosevelt administration should cross.

About the time that New York state courts caught up with Lepke and convicted him of murder the gangster ran into a convenient federal rap that got him salted away in Leavenworth penitentiary on a narcotics charge. Lepke was aware of his danger, and let word seep out that he would talk sooner than fry.

Repeatedly, Gov. Dewey of New York requested custody of Lepke so that the state might electrocute him. Repeatedly, Atty. Gen. Biddle refused. Had Lepke been an ordinary hoodlum, his transfer to New York would have been a matter of routine. If the protection of this convicted murderer by federal officials had not been exposed in the newspapers, he might never have been released to New York state.

There has been a lot of speculation about whether Lepke talked before his death, and, if he did, what he said. The records of this phase of the case are in the hands of New York officials and no doubt will become public property when their value in any criminal prosecution that might arise from them no longer is impaired by such a release. Meanwhile, congress should interest itself in seeing that some other people connected with the case talk, specifically the New Deal attorney general. Congress should determine whether Mr. Biddle's conduct in the Lepke case merits his impeachment.

HOW DID HE GET A COMMISSION?

Beaufort G. Swancutt, a second lieutenant in the army, stationed at Riverside, Cal., ran amok with a pistol and before he was shot himself killed three persons and wounded five others. The circumstances give evidence of mental aberration; his record in civilian life raises doubts as to the efficiency of the army in investigating officer candidates.

Swancutt, in his home town of La Crosse, Wis., had been convicted of larceny, arrested several times for drunkenness, and was in the county jail on a charge of vagrancy when he was released to his draft board for induction. He served overseas, but not in a combat area.

The army is engaged in weeding out its excess officers. The Swancutt case emphasizes the necessity of allowing it to clean house without interference. While it is an obvious injustice to some thousands of officers who will be asked to resign to bracket them with Swancutt, since it is their efficiency principally which is in question and not their morals or mental stability, the Swancutt case does demonstrate a lack of investigation of qualifications under the pressure of war conditions that would never arise in the army in normal times. The only proper remedy for this indiscreet commissioning of officers is to let the army weed them out by the fairest system it can devise.

CROCODILE TEARS.

Zero in anguish was registered by this column when it read in the papers that the Germans had chased all aliens except themselves out of the principality of Monaco, thus depriving pilgrims of the pleasures of the card tables and roulette wheels in the Monte Carlo casino. Spokesmen for civil liberties may howl their heads off over this outrage, but our notion is that the dismissal should have taken place 80-odd years ago and made permanent. The world's chief loss would have been several hundred novels about high life on the Riviera, most of them by E. Phillips Oppenheim.

* * *

Our ambition concerning Monte Carlo has been a dream of saying haughtily to a hotel chauffeur: "No, not to the casino, but to the museum of oceanography." This institution is the only reason, aside from the views and the climate, why we would like to cross the Monacan frontier.

* * *

The late Albert I., prince of Monaco, spent about 25 years in plumbing, dredging, sampling, and otherwise investigating the waters of the earth, and his contributions to science are highly respected. He used his yacht like a philosopher, and the museum that he founded is the only worthy monument to gambling that was ever erected. His charts of sea depths, published in Paris, form a classic of oceanography.

* * *

Gambling was established as a public utility in Monaco in 1861 by a Frenchman named François Blanc, who had previously operated at the German spa of Homburg. Perhaps this is why Novelist Oppenheim put so many Homburg hats into his Monte Carlo scenes. Citizens of the principality have always been barred from the joints and have enjoyed immunity from taxation because of the national "take" from supersophisticated suckers.

WILL THEY COME BACK?

Will they who lived with clouds come back to gardens
When life returns to quietness and peace,
They who have climbed the Milky Way to heaven
And found that boundless space was theirs to lease?
Will they sit down to candlelighted tables
Who have known closely bright the sun and moon,
And be content with bird song in the maples
When winds have sung to them their gypsy tune?
Will they come back to country lanes and meadows
Who nightly parried death among the stars,
And roared along the airways chasing shadows,
Who long have lost the feel of earthly bars?
And if they do, some day, return to hearthstones,
Are satisfied with days of checkered light,
Will not those who are akin to eagles
Hear always in their dreams swift wings in flight?

The Tribune Gets Around.

Some small boys called for papers to help win the war. We donated a stack of old TRIBUNES, which they carried to the alley and placed in their little wagons. A 40-mile gale lifted the papers on high, and in less time than it takes congress to override a Presidential veto The Tribune Family was scattered all over "Sherman's definition of war's" half acre.

Andy Gump was perched upon sundry garage roofs, Dr. Cutter was making numerous calls up back steps, Mr. Collins' Line was adhering to its slogan and letting the quips fall where they may, Dick Tracy was wedged under garbage boxes from whence he really couldn't escape, McCutcheon was unperturbed, as he is the originator of the Changing World; Front Views and Profiles was transformed into No Views from Behind Projectiles, Arch Ward's column was impaled on pickets and appeared more asleep than a Wake, Horse Sense was to be found in more places than ever before in the vicinity, and the Neighbors were on every back porch.

Then from all directions came the Voice of the People. W. L. Hudson.

THE RETURNED PRISONER OF WAR.

WHAT will be the future of our American boys who, as prisoners of war, are fortunate enough to survive until the end of the conflict or who break away or are exchanged? Will they be able to take up life where they left off?

No one of us is competent to judge unless he has gone thru the harrowing experiences to which many have been subjected. We can draw some conclusions, however, from the reactions of those who have escaped. An account of what is termed "Barbed wire disease" was written by a physician who was allowed to visit German prison camps during World War I.

As we would expect, some will make adjustments sooner than others. By and large, the first few weeks following incarceration are the most trying for the majority. Mental anguish is acute and much difficulty will be encountered by many in adapting themselves to conditions which involve exposure and barely enough food to keep body and soul together. Friends and associates have been lost and each individual may be exposed to insults and slights, even physical hazards. Ofttimes guards exhibit sadistic tendencies.

The victim must be strong indeed if he can reconcile the failure of his own command which has permitted him to fall into such a plight. Furthermore, he may be forced to perform menial and exhausting labor, which seems designed to wear him down and bring on prostration. Then it is that depression may deepen to the point of melancholia and a certain percentage will sink into despair from which there seems no possible return.

After a few months, however, constitutional stamina comes to the fore and pride will assert itself. Resigned to his immediate surroundings, he will fix his eyes on the future and learn to bide his time. Meanwhile he will take more interest in his surroundings and in himself.

Much will depend upon companions and it is not uncommon to find in every group a dispenser of cheer who possesses an abiding sense of humor and is able to laugh even in the midst of want. Such a chap leavens the whole. On the contrary, there will always be some who are certain that they have been forgotten. Such persons require a substantial amount of bolstering and moral support. If their fellow prisoners can furnish the energy from their reserves, well and good. If not, mental deterioration is likely to ensue.

Let us assume that in an exchange agreement Soldier Blank is to return home. The stimulus which follows the announcement that he is to depart with the next batch lifts him to unbelievable heights of joy. But when he reaches his own fireside, will he find any one willing to listen, understand, and sympathize? If he is made a hero for a few days and then dropped, the task of rehabilitation will be greater.

He doesn't want a quiet life. He wants to be busy, to take his part with those about him. And he needs to work in a gainful occupation—one in which he can have the satisfaction of accomplishing worthwhile tasks. Unless such a state of affairs can be brought about he will become restless, irritable, disrespectful, and an easy prey to bizarre political doctrines and affiliations. Sometimes social contacts will be shunned. He must be drawn out of himself, firmly but kindly.

About the worst thing that can be done for one of these victims whose restoration to normalcy has been delayed is to label him a psychopath and spread the word that he is "queer." As one writer remarked, "If I had my way about it I would establish a prisoner of war club in every large community." Centers much like the USO would help these individuals to find jobs, provide recreation and vocational guidance, and de-emphasize heartaches and suffering.

DISCHARGED VETERAN.

J. B. writes: Six months ago I was given a medical discharge because of psychoneurosis. Is rehabilitation offered by the army doctors for such cases as mine?

REPLY.

It should be—thru the Veterans administration. Return to normal can best be accomplished in your home environment. The first move is to get a job within your capabilities.

NERVE POISON.

D. S. R. writes: In wrist-drop, is it the muscle or the nerve that is affected?

REPLY.

The nerve. As a rule, some poison has so injured the structure that it is unable to carry messages to the muscles.

GLAMOROUS LASHES.

A. D. writes: Is there something that I can use on my lashes to make them grow real long?

REPLY.

The local application of "fertilizer" will not help. The best stimulant is buoyant health.

UNSTABLE.

J. K. writes: Is emotional instability a mental disease?

REPLY.

No. Largely a personality characteristic. Sometimes it indicates lack of good training.

Why Not?

Suppose two poets, guest and host,
Should mutually rack their brains
And each to each compose a toast:
Would they say, "Let us clink quatrains?"

Sweet Old General.

From a man recently back from Sicily and Italy comes more on Gen. Patton and his proclivities. The story about his antics in the Sicilian hospital [s] was minimized. He actually spoke notable words to three sick and wounded men that day. The first, a boy just in from the front, still bloody and covered with mud, he praised, telling him "You have killer's eyes—like mine!" The second, a boy who had been in the hospital three hours, long enough to be bathed and dressed in clean pajamas, was sitting up in bed. Patton attacked him verbally as being yellow. Had he bothered to turn the blanket back, he would have seen that the boy had two broken legs. The third, the publicized one, had malaria as well as shell shock. Patton not only screamed at him and hit him, he kicked him bodily out of the tent. This is one reason why the American soldiers in that area now refer to the general as "your blood and my guts Patton" and sing: "Pistol packin' Patton. Lay that private down."

Note on Allies.

The American invasion of England has reached such heights, a British friend says, that Trafalgar square now is called Eisenhowerplatz and the song about the nightingale has been changed to "and an Englishman's voice will be heard again in Berkeley square."

Nature Lover.

Miss Mabel W. Binner, administrator of the Children's Memorial hospital, was making her hospital rounds the other day and paused beside the bed of a 6 year old child who was teaching nursery rhymes to a smaller child in the next bed. At that moment she was reciting:

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary
How does your garden grow?
With silver bell and cockroach shells
And three little mazina row."

The Gentle Sex.

A saleswoman who has been in what is known as the ladies-ready-to-wear business for a quarter of a century has been keeping a record of how her customers get out of making a purchase. Her favorites are:

"This just isn't my day."

"Well, I'll have to sleep on this."

"I'm looking for my daughter," after examining every dress on the rack. "If I see anything, I'll bring her in."

"This just doesn't feel like my dress. I'll know it when I see it."

"I want something different."

"This doesn't do a thing for me."

"Will this be on sale soon?"

"O, I'm just looking around to get an idea. I'm not ready to buy yet."

"I want to see a cute little dress in size 40."

"Now, that is just what I want, but I'll look around and see if I can find something else."

"I'll go out and eat my lunch over it, and then decide."

"I never have anything altered," in tones of outrage. "I have a perfect figure."

Education Is Severe.

This war is educational. Heretofore we, the untraveled, had always thought of Nautch dancing girls as being covered with bracelets and bangles of gold and silver of the finest workmanship. A girl on the staff of the Chicago public library has received some Nautch bracelets and anklets from an American warrior roaming in the Nautchy area. They are made of small metal sleigh bells, the kind we buy for Christmas decorations, and are fastened to bands of cheap, pink elastic.

CALL A COP.

Chicago, March 3.—From a half-page advertisment in recent Chicago newspapers I noted the lines: "Chicago taxicab operators have kept faith with the people of Chicago." According to the published data they have, but according to the way the figures were obtained they haven't.

Several weeks ago I had to go to 23d and Whipple street from 79th and Ashland av. After standing on the corner for some time a Yellow cab came along and stopped for the light. I got in, gave the driver my destination and received a quick, not courteous, reply: "Can't take you, I'm going in." I got out and as I did so a Checker pulled up to the lights. I got in, gave him the same direction. I also got a quick reply: "The other cab wouldn't take you, why should I?" I tried to talk to him but to no avail. I live at 94th st. and Vincennes av., and occasionally I need a cab to go there from 63d and Halsted sts. Four times that I can remember I have been refused. The excuse is "I'm not going south" and that "I'm going in."

Taxicab mileage is down because they won't make long trips. Passenger count is up because cabs play the loop, short hauls and lots of them. Revenue per passenger is down because of the short haul and tip percentage is up. Last but not least, the disgraceful overcharge of our boys in service by some cab drivers is certainly no record to be proud of.

A PATRIOT.

GRATEFUL AUSTRALIAN.

The Basin, Bayswater, Victoria, Australia, Jan. 25.—Just a few lines from an Australian to express high appreciation and heartfelt thanks for America's grand and quick move to save us from Jap invasion. But for the United States' timely intervention Australia would certainly have suffered invasions of the brown devils. When things were looking very, very black, we were heartened and cheered when we saw the first American soldiers in our streets. An old man assures you that a wave of gratitude swept thru the gladdened hearts of our people. We were now safe. Thank you, Uncle Sam. Our soldiers get on well with yours and hold each other in the highest respect. American soldiers are splendidly and smartly uniformed. Our boys are to be turned out in similar uniforms when present stocks run out. That is a splendid compliment to your fine boys.

THE SOLDIERS' VOTE COMPROMISE.

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 3.—It is deplorable and humiliating to Americans to listen to the squabbling and rag chewing about the soldier vote now going on in Washington. It is more humiliating, however, to think that soldiers abroad will automatically be deprived of their right of franchise as a result of such squabbling. The complications embodied in the compromise as it now stands will result in confusion, discontent, and disgust in the minds of soldiers and voting will be as distasteful and confusing as the present New Deal income tax ordeal, which no one likes.

Again, THE TRIBUNE comes to the front with the true version of the compromise service ballot law in its editorial of March 2, entitled: "The Old Fraud in a New Dress." It seems a pity that a copy of this editorial cannot be placed in the hands of every soldier abroad.

IN JOHN ADAMS' DAY.

Chicago, March 3.—The address of the house of representatives to John Adams, President of the United States, when war threatened contained the following:

"Disdaining a reliance on foreign protection, wanting no foreign guaranty of our liberties, resolving to maintain our national independence against every attempt to despoil us of this inestimable treasure, we confide under Providence in the patriotism and energies of the people of these United States for defeating the hostile enterprises of any foreign power."

President Adams in replying said that this expression "will meet the full approbation of every sound understanding and exulting applause from the heart of every faithful American."

What's wrong with this? Is it outmoded or is it still good Americanism? Can we not applaud this sentiment and also continue to coöperate with other nations in the interest of peace?

HARRY BIERMA.

THE JOB SHIFT SQUEEZE.

Chicago, March 1.—I am a machinist with 12 years' experience in various machine shops, married and 35 years old. About two months ago I heard of serious man power shortage in the west coast navy yards and I inquired at civil service about a job at one of the navy yards. In order to get the job I had to get a release from my employer and an approval from my draft board. I asked my company about this, and they gave me a letter of availability to take to civil service, but the draft board did not approve, because the same day I had asked my company for a letter of availability they also sent a letter to my draft board telling them to disregard my deferment. So, instead of getting the job at the navy yard I received a 1-A and was sent for a pre-induction examination and will be inducted in about two weeks. All this, with the newspapers and radio begging for skilled men. You figure it out, I can't.

G. O. P.'S COUNTY ASPIRANTS TOUR WARD MEETINGS

Dempsey Says Crowds Show Party Unity.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Republican candidates on the Cook county ticket became active last night at 16 ward meetings, the 11 regular organization aspirants making the rounds individually or in pairs to save time and to hold the attention of the scattered crowds. The dozen candidates for Municipal court judgeships joined in the tours.

John T. Dempsey, candidate for state's attorney, said the attendance at the ward meetings proved that hard work of the thousands of precinct captains was effective. Unity of the party is undented by the flurry of scraps over ward committeeman posts, he said.

More ward meetings will be held each night this week.

Campaign Set for Next Week.

Gov. Green, Richard J. Lyons, candidate for United States senator, and State Sen. Arnold P. Benson, candidate for secretary of state, will launch their portion of the Cook county campaign at the 33d ward headquarters of Dempsey on Tuesday. They will break ranks to rotate to the scores of ward and township meetings.

State candidates will interrupt the seventh and final week of their downstate tour tomorrow to attend the 50th anniversary convention of the John Ericsson Republican League of America in the Palmer House.

Watson Tells of Support.

Deneen Watson, a rival of Lyons, announced that Miss Ruth Hypes, president of the Women's Republican club of Evanston, had pledged him the support of her organization.

Dr. Alex J. Prominski, slate candidate for coroner, was left unopposed yesterday by the withdrawal of two independent candidates, Cecil D. Johnson and Joseph F. Haas.

9 Lake Forest Officials to Run Again Unopposed

Nine candidates for city offices in Lake Forest yesterday filed petitions for reëlection April 11, when they will be unopposed. The candidates are Charles F. Clarke, mayor; Edward Lindenmeyer, treasurer; William H. Harding, marshal; Roy S. Wells, city supervisor; Garrit M. Bax, police magistrate, and four aldermen, William E. Davis, Edward K. MacDonald, Elliott Donnelley, and Edward K. Welles.

RATION TOKENS STOLEN.

Burglars took $105, 750 red ration tokens and 1,000 brown ration stamps from his butcher shop at 3340 N. Clark st., Gunnar Lamberg reported to police yesterday.

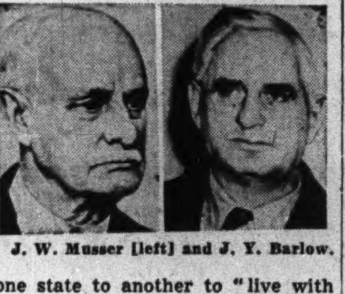
RAIDS TO STAMP OUT POLYGAMY NET 50 ARRESTS

Utah Authorities and FBI Open Drive.

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 7 (AP).—Federal and state authorities arrested more than 50 persons in raids in Utah, Idaho, and Arizona today in a move which John S. Boyden, assistant United States attorney, said was designed to stamp out polygamy.

Six persons were named in seven federal grand jury indictments charging violation of the Mann act. In each case the defendant was accused of taking a woman from one state to another to "live with him as his mistress and concubine."



J. W. Musser [left] and J. Y. Barlow.

One indictment charged use of the mail to send allegedly obscene matter and another charged violation of the Lindbergh kidnaping law.

Twelve persons were named jointly in another indictment charging conspiracy to use the mails to circulate the pamphlet Truth. The pamphlet, the indictment said, appealed "to natural sexual instinct and appetites for unlawful and immoral indulgences under a cloak of religious sanctity and approbation."

State Authorities Act.

Simultaneously Utah state authorities in Salt Lake and Washington counties made arrests on complaints charging unlawful cohabitation and conspiracy to advocate and practice polygamous or plural marriage.

Virtually all those named in the federal indictments were included as defendants in the state cases. The latter also included a dozen women.

Six were apprehended at a Salt Lake City residence which Boyden described as cult headquarters.

Harold E. Wallace, Salt Lake county attorney, said one man was known to have had five wives.

A Coöperative Drive.

"This is a coöperative effort of the state and federal government and with the complete coöperation also of the Latter-Day Saints [Mormon] church," Boyden said.

During its early colonization days the Mormon church advocated the practice of polygamy. It was outlawed before Utah was admitted to the Union in 1896.

The conspiracy indictment named 12 persons. Seven, John Y. Barlow, Joseph W. Musser, Charles F. Zitting, Louis A. Kelsch, Dr. Legrand Wooley, J. Marion Hammon, and Leroy Johnson, were described in the indictment as "self-styled and by their followers denominated as 'the priesthood council'." The others, Arnold Boss, Rulon T. Jeffs, Guy H. Musser, Rulon C. Allred, and David W. Jeffs, were termed by the indictment "brothers of the 'priesthood group' or 'fundamentalists'."

Renew Zuckerman Inquest at County Morgue Today

An inquest into the death of Ben Zuckerman, one time bootlegger and gambling czar of the 24th ward, who was slain by gangster gunmen in front of his home at 4042 Wilcox st., last January, will be reopened in the county morgue today. Zuckerman was slain shortly after he left the offices of the Central West Beer Distributors, Inc., 2408 S. Pulaski rd., where he had been closeted for several hours with three strangers.

COURTNEY READY TO OPEN OFFICES IN HIS CAMPAIGN

Courtney for governor headquarters in the Burnham building will be opened with ceremony tomorrow, it was announced yesterday, concluding a period of uncertainty occasioned by war time difficulties in getting telephones and other office equipment.

State's Atty. Courtney, the unopposed entry for governor in the Democratic primary, will welcome the other party candidates and friends in the quarters, on the first floor of the building, at 11 a. m. He will speak informally and thus will open the campaign, which will start in earnest with a 15 day downstate tour opening in Harrisburg next Monday.

Others Invited to Speak.

Others invited to speak tomorrow include Mrs. Paul H. Douglas, candidate for congressman at large; Assistant State's Atty. William J. Tuohy, candidate for state's attorney; Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board; the Rev. Preston Bradley, pastor of the Peoples' church; Joseph L. Keenan, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and John Morrell, chairman of the Independent Business Men's Committee for Courtney for Governor.

Two withdrawals, which in effect were switches, were made by Democratic candidates for sanitary district trustees yesterday, the last day for withdrawal. Neal T. Kelley and John A. Szumnarski, both of whom had filed for both the six year full term and the four year vacancy, swung it around so that Kelley remains the candidate for the four year term and Szumnarski for the six year.

Woodhull May Retire.

The illness of Ross A. Woodhull, president of the sanitary district, who is a candidate, remained critical yesterday and the report persisted that even tho his name was left on the ticket past withdrawal date he would find it necessary to retire from the race.

Thomas E. Furlong withdrew yesterday as Democratic candidate for clerk of the Circuit court, leaving John E. Conroy unopposed.

Henry Sonnenschein, clerk of the Superior court and member of the Democratic county advisory committee, gave the first inkling yesterday of results of the canvass to bring out Presidential preference as well as to determine registration. Voters are asked if they favor Roosevelt, if they oppose him, and if they are not for him to state their choice.

"So far it's Roosevelt beyond our expectations," he said. "Especially in the last few days. I believe it shows in my ward, the 22d, that the 1940 vote, which was 18,000 for Roosevelt and 1,200 for Willkie, will be repeated."

M'NARY'S SENATE SUCCESSOR NOT DECIDED ON '44

Asserts Cake, Willkie Backer, Is Friend.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Guy Cordon, Roseburg, Ore., attorney, appointed last week to serve the remainder of the unexpired term of the late Charles L. McNary, Republican senior senator from Oregon, has not decided on his choice for Republican Presidential candidate, he said in an interview today.

"I feel my immediate duty is to try to fill Sen. McNary's place in the Oregon congressional delegation between now and next January," Cordon said. "I don't think the time is ripe for me to discuss national politics."

Friend of Cake.

Cordon's installation as a senator awaits the return of the Oregon delegation from Salem, Ore., where its members attended Sen. McNary's funeral last Friday. His certificate of appointment will be presented to the senate early next week, it is believed at the capitol, after which he will be sworn in.

Altho Cordon declared he was not backing any candidate for the Republican nomination, he said he was a friend of Ralph Cake, Republican national committeeman from Oregon and leader of the Oregon faction supporting Wendell L. Willkie for the nomination.

Active in Organization.

"I have known Mr. Cake for many years," Cordon said. "But I am active in his organization only insofar as I am a Republican."

Cordon said he had not decided whether to campaign for the full six year senatorial term, beginning in January, 1945.

The only public offices previously held by Cordon were those of county assessor and district attorney in Douglas county, Ore.

VICTIM HELD UP BY FIVE MEN.

John Schroeder, 1651 W. 82d st., reported to police that five Negroes last night held him up in front of 60 E. 31st st., and robbed him of $14 and a watch valued at $50.

REGISTRATION LISTS OPEN UNTIL MONDAY TO SIGN NEW VOTERS

Fire engine house registration starts today, with facilities available to sign up new voters or those who have changed homes since the last election. The neighborhood service will continue each day from noon until 10 p. m. thru Monday, except Sunday. In some areas stores and ward offices also will have this service.

Those eligible to register must be citizens 21 years of age now or before April 11 [primary day] and must have lived in Illinois one year, in Cook county 90 days, and in their precinct 30 days before April 11.

More than 400,000 Chicago citizens will be self-disqualified to vote unless they register by March 13, it was disclosed in a survey by the Citizens' Association of Chicago. These potential voters exceed the combined populations of Peoria, Rockford, Springfield, Rock Island, Joliet, and Quincy.

The Chicago Citizens Committee of 1,000 and the National Negro council will have 2,000 women volunteers in the field starting today to draw into the voting registration system an estimated 72,000 Negroes not now qualified to vote. No Negro should be a "vote slacker" in the state of Abraham Lincoln, placards of these organizations proclaim.

CITY THREATENS TO TAKE ON JOB OF SCAVENGERS

The city council subcommittee on refuse yesterday warned garbage disposal handlers under contract to the city that, unless they reduce their charges by at least 12 per cent, the city may take over the entire garbage disposal job.

The contractors charge 19½ to 22½ cents per cubic yard for the use of dumps, and up to 35 cents per cubic yard for the use of loading facilities whereby refuse is entrained to be carried out of the city. The city pays them more than $800,000 a year. The contractors handle refuse collected by city trucks.

PHONE WORKERS TO BEGIN STRIKE BALLOT TONIGHT

Leaders Hit AFL and CIO Influence on NWLB.

A strike vote will be started tonight by 5,000 members of the Illinois Union of Telephone Workers who are employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone company in the state and in Lake and Porter counties, Indiana. Six local unions of maintenance workers, installers, and repairmen will vote nightly thru next Monday night, Charles H. Formby, president of the union, said yesterday.

The strike action resulted from the national war labor board's refusal to allow the union to argue its appeal for a $2 increase for the workers.

That the workers will approve a strike was indicated by the action of 100 stewards who voted 89 to 11 for such a move at a meeting which ended yesterday, Formby said.

Service Faces Paralysis.

If the workers vote to strike, federal agencies will be notified immediately, Formby said, and if no relief is given the strike will be started and will paralyze three-fourths of the company's phone service in the Illinois-Indiana area.

The stewards drafted a protest to President Roosevelt asking that the NWLB be "disestablished" on the ground that the AFL and CIO members are "using their positions to the detriment of independent unions."

A statement prepared by the stewards charged that the AFL and CIO board members "used their prestige as a double-barreled shotgun, one barrel aimed at congress with threats to go along with the CIO and AFL or lose their scalps and the other barrel aimed at independent laborers who do not choose to belong to either the CIO or AFL."

5,000 Excluded on Raises.

Of the company's 23,000 Illinois employes all except 5,000 members of his union received wage increases during the past year, Formby said.

When the case was appealed from the regional war labor board to the NWLB last September, the union charged collusion between the company and the regional board. The company denied the charge and said yesterday the only part the company had taken in the entire dispute was to present its statistics for the board's consideration.

Crane Operator's Slaying Written Off as Unsolved

The fatal beating of Melvin Nicoll, 28, a crane operator who had worked on the Alaskan highway, whose body was found Jan. 3 in a vacant lot at 217 Englewood av., went into the list of unsolved Chicago murders yesterday. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that Nicoll was murdered by a person or persons unknown.

STEEL WORKERS GRANTED WAGE BOOST BY WLB

The war labor board yesterday announced it had settled a labor dispute, 15 months old, between the Pullman-Standard Car Mfg. Co. of Hammond and the United Steel Workers of America, CIO, involving 4,166 workers.

Edgar L. Warren, WLB regional chairman, said an increase of common labor rates, from 70 to 78 cents an hour, would be retroactive to Dec. 19, 1942, and would include an additional 5 cents an hour for second and third shift workers. The board also ordered formation of a joint committee to arbitrate inequities. Industry members of the board, Warren said, dissented.

Other decisions included increases for 313 employes of C. P. Clare & Co., 215 of the Gaertner Scientific Corp., 210 of the Caspers Tin Plate Co., 263 of the Chicago Thrift Co., and 400 miscellaneous employes of members of the Building Managers association, all of Chicago.

Raises also were granted to employes of the Island Wool Co., Baraboo, Wis.; J. I. Case Co., Rockford, and Wisconsin Bridge & Iron Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

ERNEST O. TAVENER

"ALL-WEATHER" MAN ON THE RAIL FRONT

● Here's another "North Western" 30-year service man—Freight Brakeman Ernest O. Tavener.

Belying his pleasant exterior, Tavener is tough—tough in the sense that the elements mean nothing to him when there's work to do. Snow may beleaguer a city, bitter cold may nip ears and noses, yet Brakeman Tavener stays on the job. As he says, "My work helps to keep trainloads of war materials on the move, therefore it's important . . . the war must be won."

The war must be won!—that, too, is the motivating thought of Tavener's sons. Lieutenant Gene, with special training in radar, has had over six months service in Iceland. Lieutenant Ernest is a bombardier, now on duty in the South Pacific. Caryl, the youngest, is an aviation cadet, completing his training in Texas.

The Taveners are loyal Americans. But war isn't a glamorous thing to them. They're fighting because their way of living is endangered; because they feel, as do millions of others, that peace can come to this war-torn world only through the united efforts of all. "Braking" trains is one way of helping—fighting on the battle front is another.

"North Western" gratefully acknowledges the efforts of its thousands of patriotic employes. Like Tavener they have accepted the added responsibility of war—and are coming through gloriously.

The Truth about Water-Mixed Paints

★

THERE have been so many so-called water-mixed paints introduced recently, and so little information offered regarding their stability and comparative merits, that The Glidden Company offers the following answers to specific questions in the public's mind.

1. Are Water-Mixed Paints a Wartime Emergency Product? Definitely not. For example SPRED, Glidden's own water-mix paint formula, was in development four years before Pearl Harbor. It is a new paint invention—the fore-runner of a whole series of new style paints Glidden will introduce after the war. It's the paint of the future—available now!

2. Is the Water used as a Substitute for Oil? No. SPRED contains the same kind of pigments and oils as old fashioned wall paint . . . but in SPRED the oils are in emulsion, requiring no turpentine or thinners. The water used in mixing SPRED acts only as the "vehicle" or lubricant—one of the big reasons it is easier to paint with SPRED.

3. Aren't all Water-Mixed Paints about Alike? Again the answer is definitely "NO". For example, SPRED is the only washable water-mixed paint made from soy beans. It contains *Alpha Protein—an ingredient obtained from soy beans by a patented Glidden process—which gives SPRED a number of distinct advantages not found in any other brand of water-mix paint now on the market.

4. How Does SPRED Differ? SPRED is an "homogenized" paint in which the emulsion of oil particles floats on a "vehicle" of water. This is responsible for SPRED's ease of application—its marvelous self-leveling action—its toughness when dry. In fact, SPRED is so durable it will take repeated washings!

5. Is SPRED Economical? Yes. One gallon of SPRED mixed with one-half gallon of water makes six quarts of rich, full-bodied paint—enough for an average room. Yet one gallon of SPRED costs only $2.98.

6. Are SPRED Colors Unusual? Yes. Because Glidden has its own color-manufacturing facilities, SPRED is offered in an exclusive range of exceptionally clear, beautiful, pastel tones.

7. Other SPRED Advantages. One coat of SPRED covers wallpaper, wallboard, or plaster. SPRED dries to a smooth, durable film in 30 minutes. Never any disagreeable painty odor. Brushes or rollers can be quickly cleaned with water.

SIZE OF GARDEN ONE FACTOR IN WHAT TO PLANT

Corn, Squash, Melons Not for Small Plots.

BY BEN MARKLAND.

Once the gardener knows the location of his 1944 garden, the next steps are those of determining what vegetables he wishes to grow and plotting the rows. The selection of crops naturally depends mainly upon the preferences of the family. Other factors include the adaptability of the soil and the size of the garden.

Here are some points to remember in deciding which vegetables to grow and their location in the garden:

1. If your garden plot is small, concentrate on vegetables which return a large volume of food per square foot of garden space. These include tomatoes, bush beans or pole beans, root crops such as carrots and beets, and such leaf crops as spinach, Swiss chard and lettuce.

Sweet Corn Out of Place.

Conversely, the gardener who has only a small plot should forget the vegetables which produce a small volume of food per square foot. Sweet corn and members of the squash and melon families are among the garden crops which are too often planted in small gardens. Sweet corn, for example, produces only about 20 per cent as much volume of food, as do tomatoes and snap beans in the same amount of growing space.

2. In planning to plant, remember that vegetables vary greatly in hardiness. Peas should be the first major crop planted, since this crop must be planted before April 15 in northern Illinois or not at all. Early spring snows and light freezes do not affect pea seeds in the ground. Similarly, such hardy vegetables as onions, lettuce, beets, carrots, radishes, and spinach may be planted as early as the first week in April in gardens which are well drained and in full sunlight.

Early June for Some.

The more tender vegetables, especially corn, beans, and cabbages, should not be planted until late April or early May. The very tender crops [especially tomatoes, peppers, and eggplants] should not be transplanted into the garden until late May or early June.

3. Plant tall crops in positions where they will not shade low growing vegetables.

Model garden layouts, which can be used as planting guides, will be published in later articles in this series.

CURRENT KILLED NOXON INFANT, EXPERT STATES

Pittsfield, Mass., March 7 (AP).—Declaring that some portions of the skin on the forearms of mentally deficient Lawrence Noxon had a "cooked appearance" and that others were "completely destroyed," Dr. Alan R. Moritz, eminent pathologist, told a Berkshire county jury late today that he believed the child died from acute heart failure "due to the passage of electric current from forearm to forearm."

A professor at Harvard medical school, Dr. Moritz, was the chief witness in the ninth day of the murder trial of John F. Noxon Jr., lawyer,

The pathologist asserted that the lesions were caused by electrothermal injury—the passage of electric current thru the skin—that the area was sufficiently small that heat was produced and that the skin was burned, cracked, and shrunk.

FIRM ALLEGES THREATS; SUES TO ENJOIN WLB

Because the national war labor board exhibited a "threatening attitude" toward Mills Industries, Inc., during a hearing in Washington, D. C., last week, the corporation has filed suit in federal District court "to enjoin the NWLB and other federal agencies from imposing penalties upon us," Dennis Donohue, vice president of the company, announced yesterday.

The company was summoned to show cause why it had not put into effect a WLB directive relating to union maintenance, checkoff and wage adjustments. The company pleaded that it had not been able to put the order into effect among its employes at the plant at 4535 Palmer st.

7 ARAB NATIONS PROTEST SENATE HELP FOR JEWS

Object to Any Action by U. S. Group.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 7 (AP).—Seven Arab-speaking nations have now protested to Washington against the pending senate resolution favoring extended immigration of Jews to Palestine, and the situation in Palestine proper is being closely watched to prevent active trouble.

The latest move in the pyramiding protests came today when Nahas Pasha, premier of Egypt, sent a letter to Gen. Jan Christian Smuts as "a friend to a friend" objecting to the South African prime minister's letter to the United States favoring the same aims as the senate resolution.

Envoy Visits Nahas Pasha.

United States Minister Alexander C. Kirk visited Nahas Pasha earlier to deliver a verbal reply to the Egyptian protest to Washington. It is understood Kirk said the congressional resolution did not necessarily represent the position of the administration.

Egypt took the lead in the wide protest by the Arabic nations.

Similar action by Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan, Saud Arabia and Yemen followed.

The Pan-Arab federation, which is a growing unofficial power in middle east affairs, likewise entered a protest, as did the Arab Women's federation.

Want Jews Kept Out.

It is the position of Egypt and the Pan-Arab federation, both now led by Nahas Pasha, that the Arab countries are strongly opposed to Palestine becoming a Jewish country in the middle of an association of Arab states.

Under the terms of a British white paper, 75,000 Jewish immigrants were to have been admitted by March 31, 1944, but last Nov. 15 the British government took the position that Jewish immigration into Palestine should continue after this date because only about 50,000 Jews had entered the country, due to war conditions.

At present Palestine is populated by approximately 1,000,000 Arabs and 500,000 Jews. This two-to-one ratio has changed from the old ratio of ten-to-one favoring the Arabs in recent years.

ASSAILS BRITISH 'DICTATION' OF U.S. POLICIES

Compton Hits Stand on Palestine.

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—Rep. Compton [R., Conn.], who wants congress to go on record as favoring keeping Palestine open to Jewish immigrants, notwithstanding provisions of a British white paper which would close that area to such migration at the end of this month, told the house today:

"We can be a good neighbor and a stanch ally without submitting to dictation from 10 Downing st."

Compton claimed the floor to assert the United States house and senate had been subjected to "pressure" by the war department and "Arab legislators in the countries under British control" to take no action on pending keep-Palestine-open resolutions which Compton has joined others in sponsoring.

Hits "Wealthy Arabs."

He asserted "a few wealthy Arabs under British domination in Palestine, Syria, Iraq, Lebanon, and Egypt have indicated their displeasure" with the resolutions and said the war department "indicates a desire to appease this Arab minority, even tho such appeasement presents a challenge to our national honor."

"I think it fair," said Compton, "to ask who inspires this pressure for appeasement from our war leaders. Presumptuous dictation from foreign legislators should be resisted and resisted unanimously. . . . If we have no foreign policy of our own I am against continuing to borrow from some other country."

Sen. Nye [R., N. D.] of the senate foreign relations committee said last week that Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of the staff, had urged action on the resolutions be postponed, for military reasons.

Backed by Stimson.

Marshall's views were said to have been backed up by Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of State Hull in letters to the senate committee.

Meanwhile at Baltimore Rep. Celler (D., N. Y.) asserted in a speech before the Jewish National Fund council that "it suits England's convenience not to keep the pledge she made to 52 nations when she received and accepted the mandate over Palestine."

"The failure of our state department to protest this violation . . . remains 'a mystery neatly wrapped inside an enigma.'" Celler said.

The British policy, he continued, "to all intents and purposes appears to have become the policy of our state department."

COURT REFUSES KIDNAPING WRIT AGAINST LANGAN

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—Joan Manners, former Hollywood actress, failed to obtain a kidnaping warrant against her former husband, John Langan, in today's phase of their legal battle over custody of Joan Langan, 11.

The child, who had been living with Langan for the past two years, was placed in the custody of her mother on Feb. 25 by a Maryland court. Later the same day Langan took the girl away.

Miss Manners sought to have Langan arrested on a charge of kidnaping, but Chief Judge William E. Richardson of the Municipal Court of Appeals declined to direct Judge Thomas D. Quinn of Municipal court to issue the warrant.

Langan was to resume testimony today in District court on difficulties between himself and Miss Manners.

FIRST NIGHTER SHOW EXPANDS; CHANGES TIME

First Nighter, which started on the air 14 years ago to see whether the public would like radio drama, will expand, effective tonight, to cover one of the most extensive areas of any radio show in history. Thru W-G-N and the Mutual network it will be heard henceforth from 8:30 p. m. Wednesdays [instead of 5 p. m. Sundays] over 208 stations in 42 states and the District of Columbia. This represents an addition of 88 stations. Barbara Luddy will play the starring role in "The Only Girl for Me," a story of a bride left waiting at the church while the bridegroom, played by Olan Soule, calls on several former sweethearts.

Jewelry valued at $316 was taken from a truck belonging to Saks-Fifth Avenue, 669 N. Michigan av., at Division and Sedgwick sts., it was reported to police yesterday by the driver, Angelo Bonjiorno.

CHICAGO DIFFERENT TO NAVY VETERAN BACK AFTER 3 YEARS

First Class Signalman John Birmingham, 25, of the navy, came home yesterday for the first time in three years to a Chicago that looked strangely different.

Signalman John Birmingham.

Birmingham, who escaped injury aboard the repair vessel Vestal in the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, remarked on the number of women evident compared with men and the lessened number of autos, and couldn't get over the complexities of rationing. His mother, Florence, operates a grocery at 6500 Woodlawn av.

Birmingham, who is finishing his sixth year in the navy and will sign up for another four year stretch in August, said he got copies of THE TRIBUNE in batches of 15 or 20, and that "everybody read 'em. THE TRIBUNE is doing a great job of keeping the boys in the Pacific supplied with news about the home front and the war."

KILLED BY LOCOMOTIVE.

Angelo Brantan, 51, father of an overseas soldier, was fatally injured yesterday when, with his earlaps down during a snow storm, he failed to hear an approaching locomotive in the Lehigh Stone company quarry near Kankakee, and was struck down.

LEARN EINSTEIN THE EASY WAY: JUST DIAL W-G-N

The University of Chicago is ready to spring a new theory on the American public, with the aid of W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system. This theory holds that today almost every one can understand the Einstein theory of relativity.

There was a time when only seven men in the world could understand the Einstein proposition. But that day is long past and the University of Chicago says its freshmen now master the theory in two weeks.

The university proposes to explain the theory thru drama and narrative on the program, the Human Adventure, over W-G-N—Mutual at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Walter Yust, editor of the Encyclopedia Britannica, will be on hand to lift listeners over any troublesome spots.

The broadcast will start off with the statement of equation one of the Einstein theory: U-sub-X equals quantity U-sub-X primed plus V times quantity one minus V times U-sub-X over C squared. All divided by one minus V squared over C squared.

The university expects some listeners may want to turn the dial at this point. So Mr. Yust will reassure them that those who pay attention will grasp the essence of the theory.

DOG GUARDS BODY IN SHACK.

Joseph Saso, 57, a laborer, was found dead yesterday in his one room shack at the rear of 1347 Peoria st. Police said he had died about three weeks ago and his mongrel dog had stood guard over the body. The dog ran away when police arrived.

Young Actress Found Ill in Hotel; Poison Blamed

Miss Wendy Sandra Arden, 20, an actress, was found semi-conscious yesterday in her room in the Allerton hotel, 701 N. Michigan av. She was given first aid in Wesley Memorial hospital, then removed to County hospital. Chicago av. police said Miss Arden evidently had swallowed poison. Police records showed that on Jan. 4 Miss Arden swallowed a quantity of poison in a taxicab, and was taken to Wesley Memorial hospital. She was then described as an unemployed actress from New York.

Art Benefit for Chinese Relief to Be Held at Saddle April 22

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Saddle and Cycle club has three parties on its calendar for the coming few weeks, ending with one of the first of the post-Easter benefits, a sale of paintings, April 22, to raise funds for Chinese war relief. The party will be similar to one held at the club last year, which was an outgrowth of the gay parties held at the Merrill Shepards' home for many years when Chicago artists gathered to paint pictures which were auctioned later the same day.

Mr. Shepard, now a lieutenant in the navy in the South Pacific area, will not be available to act as auctioneer as he did last year. Therefore the committee is in search of another auctioneer, one who knows art. Taylor Poore is chairman of the benefit. He and the participating artists will gather at the club at 1 p. m. to start painting, and the auction will follow that night. Rainey Bennett, Edgar Miller, Hester Murray, Suzanne Suba, Joseph Feher, Nicky Strobel, Edward Boehmer, David Mink, and Mr. Taylor are the artists who will contribute their work.

Also on the Calendar.

Members of the club will gather there Saturday night for a St. Patrick's day party, with shamrock decorations and a real orchestra to provide the dance music instead of the usual "canned" music. Some of those with reservations are the Louis Watermulders, who are entertaining at cocktails beforehand; the Winfield Durbins, the Theodore Garys, the Louis Sudlers, the Thomas Underwoods, the John Roots, and the Herbert Stratfords.

On March 26 the Jingos will give a luncheon at the club, followed by paddle tennis, ping pong, and dancing. Their guests will be midshipmen from the naval reserve training school at Northwestern university.

When the Friends of Orphans meet for luncheon today at the home of Mrs. Clarence H. Shaver in Glencoe they will be congratulating themselves on netting $3,600 at the group's spring benefit March 1 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. The money will be used in part to purchase new spring outfits for the boys and girls at the Lake Bluff orphanage, the Lydia Children's Home of Chicago, and the Central Baptist Children's home in Maywood.

The board of directors of the Garden Club of Illinois will meet for luncheon March 20 at Marshall Field & Co. to make last minute plans for the club's spring flower show, "Fashions in Flowers," to be held in the store from March 27 to April 8.

Miller attended the University of Illinois and just has returned from 23 months' duty in the South Pacific.

500 Workers Mark U. S. O.'s Third Birthday

BY DOROTHY JOHNSON.

Mrs. Adolph R. Klein.

More than 500 workers for the United Service Organizations, including staff members, volunteers, and contributors, met at luncheon yesterday in the grand ballroom of the La Salle hotel to celebrate the third anniversary of the U. S. O.

Mrs. Adolph R. Klein, chairman of the U. S. O. serve-a-camp committee and president of the women's division of the Jewish Charities, was chairman of the luncheon.

Dr. Lindsley F. Kimball, administrative vice president of the national organization, in his keynote address tracing the expansion of U. S. O. service, noted that 25 million men in uniform were guests at 2,879 U. S. O. clubs in January.

"U. S. O. is not merely a recreational facility, nor does it provide only service," Dr. Kimball said. "It is a service man's home away from home, the heart of America reaching out to its own men and women in the United States and overseas."

He paid special tribute to the thousands of volunteers, mostly women, upon whom U. S. O. depends for service, and called attention to the coöperation of the six member agencies: The Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic Community Service, the Jewish Welfare Board, the Salvation Army, and the Travelers Aid association.

Nicholas T. Young, director of the overseas division, who recently returned to the United States after two years in the field in Jamaica and Trinidad, B. W. I., and South America, brought the greetings of soldiers, sailors, and marines in overseas stations who have appreciated the clubs' facilities.

Jeffrey R. Short, president of the Chicago council, presided at the meeting and introduced Frank Fay, comedian of stage, screen, and radio, who acted as master of ceremonies. Gypsy Markoff, accordionist and singer and one of approximately 100 professional artists who have gone overseas with U. S. O. troupes, told the audience of her experiences. She survived the Lisbon Clipper crash last year.

High Schools' Paper Salvage Is 855,107 Lbs.

BY JEANNE McCARTHY.

A total of 108,260 pupils in 39 Chicago high schools collected 855,107 pounds of waste paper last Friday in the first large organized paper salvage drive among high school pupils, Joseph L. Marcus, secretary-manager of the Chicago waste paper campaign committee, announced yesterday. The per capita collection was approximately eight pounds.

The largest collection was at Kelly High school, 4200 S. California av., where 2,300 pupils brought in 121,195 pounds of paper for a per capita contribution of approximately 53 pounds. Mrs. Mary R. Prendergast, war coördinator at the school, said the collection was aided by a school-sponsored dance, for which 50 pounds of paper was a ticket of admission.

Organized efforts on the part of several pupils also boosted the total. For instance, Gerald Leider, 2807 W. 38th st.; James Charnas, 2913 W. 38th st.; Roy LaFlamme, 2918 W. 38th st., and Tom Langdon, 2913 W. Pershing rd., all members of company E of the school's R. O. T. C. unit, spent $3 and four and a half hours one day to collect a total of 11,000 pounds of waste paper. They rented a horse and buggy and canvassed the community's business and residential areas. Other pupils hitched their pet dogs to wagons and had them haul the paper to school. Still others borrowed their fathers' automobiles or trucks, and many hauled heavy bundles on the street car.

Salvage officials said Kelly High school's record is the best in the nation in the 2,000 student class. John G. Sheldon, executive secretary of the salvage division of the war production board, said he has appealed to Donald Nelson, WPB director, for a special citation for the school. In a recent scrap metal drive, Kelly pupils collected 311,316 pounds to place first in Illinois and second in the nation.

Amundsen High school, 5110 N. Damen av., collected the second largest amount of paper. Its 2,168 pupils gathered 95,000 pounds for a per capita contribution of 43.4 pounds.

Other collections included: Harper High school, 6520 S. Wood st., 1,687 pupils, 47,570 pounds, 28.2 per capita; Gage Park, 5600 S. Rockwell av., 2,029 pupils, 53,980 pounds, 26.6 per capita; Hirsch, 7740 Ingleside av., 2,004 pupils, 48,200 pounds, 24.1 per capita; Steinmetz, 3030 N. Mobile av., 3,585 pupils, 75,900 pounds, 21.2 per capita, and Foreman, 5100 W. Belmont av., 1,964 pupils, 41,265 pounds, 21 per capita.

Only two of the city's high schools failed to collect 1,000 pounds or more, George F. Cassell, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of high schools announced.

Waste paper has been cited as the No. 1 critical war salvage material. More than 600,000 vital war items are made from it.

Lenten Lecture Series to Deal with Psalms

The women's federation of the Fourth Presbyterian church has arranged for a series of four Lenten lectures by Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson on "The Psalms in War Time," the first of which will be given at 11:30 a. m. today in the church chapel.

Women in War Work

At home in Chicago on her first leave since entering the WAVES, Ensign Bernice Stevens is giving friends enthusiastic accounts of navy life.

Ensign Stevens.

"One of the nicest things about being a WAVE officer," she says, "is the equality one has with men in the service. There is no distinction made between the sexes. Even our commissions read 'he.'"

Ensign Stevens is stationed in New York City and is doing navy work, the nature of which she is not at liberty to reveal. She resides in Greenwich Village.

After being sworn into the navy a year ago, Ensign Stevens had officer training at the WAVE midshipmen's school at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., and was commissioned last August. Before enlisting she was a free lance writer, a contributor to many national magazines and trade journals, and a Chicago correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor.

Miss Stevens was educated at Northwestern university, and is a member and past president of the Matrix club, 75 E. Wacker dr., an organization of women who write professionally. Her family home is in Maywood. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Stevens.

The complete confidence which high ranking officers of the army place in the WAC was reflected Monday by Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commanding the 6th service command, at the monthly conference for WAC and men officers of command headquarters, held in the Civic theater.

Gen. Aurand announced that, effective this week, the assignments of all WAC officers at headquarters become permanent, and he has instructed commandants of army posts, stations, and camps in his command to survey WAC personnel in their activities with a view to making the women's posts permanent.

The rôle of the WAC in army duties will become increasingly important, Gen. Aurand said, now that all officers and enlisted men under 38 who are eligible for overseas service will be leaving.

The Rev. Dudley S. Stark of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, Dearborn pkwy., last night gave awards for outstanding service to two of the 150 young women who act as hostesses at the church's service men's center. Miss Dorothy Wilkinson and Miss Norma Dickinson received the recognition at a dinner for the entire volunteer personnel, held in the parish house.

The center, which has been extending hospitality to men in uniform for 18 months, is under the direction of Emery Kelley and George Kubitz and is open every night, except Monday and Tuesday, from 7 to 11 o'clock. The average attendance is 125.

Basketball, volley ball, and badminton facilities are available to service men in the church gymnasium. Ping pong and shuffle board are played in the basement recreation rooms, and the guild room is used for social gatherings. Women of the church provide refreshments. The hostesses are recruited from among young women of the parish and their friends.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Mr. Beery's adventures as a babe in the forest primeval of ration regulations where, eventually, he meets and conquers the horrible monster known as BLACK MARKET, strike a responsive chord in each observer who has known the terrors and bewilderment of point rationing.

As Ben Barton, owner of a small town general merchandise store, he has a perpetual headache with the likes of which we are familiar. . . . And when the pain would ease a bit—why there is the town postmistress [Marjorie Main], who also is supervisor of the rationing board, right on hand to give him a jolt that starts the throbbing all over again. . . . The fact that Iris Tuttle's daughter and Barton's son are in love makes no impression on their ancient grudge which thrives and grows thistles, and, at last, blossoms into—you'd never guess. Or would you?

Ben may be just a home town guy, but once he was a top sergeant and fought in the first World war with another home town guy who, at the time of this yarn, is a senator. The kind of a senator to whom old friendships mean something. . . . So, when out of them there dark rationing woods stalks the BLACK MARKET menace, the senator answers the "Hi, Rube!" call.

Mr. Beery and Miss Main have a high old time co-starring in this wacky comedy and audiences love 'em both. . . . Pleasing enough in the romantic roles are Dorothy Morris and Tommy Batten. Henry O'Neill is affable and smart as the senator, and Gloria Dickson portrays a vampish lady barber with a heavy—but acceptable—touch.

The picture isn't long.

"HENRY ALDRICH, BOY SCOUT," starring Jimmy Lydon, presents Henry in the new capacity of senior patrol leader in Centerville Boy Scout Troop No. 1. . . . As such he is able to straighten out the problem child son of a friend of his father and bring great pride and joy to the hearts of his own so often tried mother and father. . . . The story pattern provides opportunity for presentation of Scouts at work and play, and the well acted little movie is, all told, human, interesting, and informative.

See you tomorrow.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

Many of my readers will gasp at the two bids made by North, and will be even more incredulous that I should have designated him an expert. The fact remains that the final contract was correct and was easily fulfilled after West's normal lead of a club, whereas four spades could not have been made against reasonably good defense.

There was considerably more method in North's apparent madness than some critics will observe. On the first round, North was distinctly too strong for a single raise, but not quite strong enough for the double raise that was almost sure to commit the partnership to a four [or higher] spade contract. Hence he made the "in between" response of two diamonds. The fact that he had nothing in that suit was comparatively unimportant—if South vigorously raised diamonds North always could return to the higher ranking spade suit.

On the second round North merely had the courage to follow up his previous diagnosis of the situation. Surely, five spade tricks would be just as valuable at no trump as at a spade contract, and it looked highly probable that South might be able to produce four other tricks at no trump, whereas he might not find the five outside tricks needed at spades.

'Good Night, Sweet Prince'

. . . By Gene Fowler

(Copyright: 1943-'44; By Gene Fowler; Published by Arrangement with Viking Press, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS: "He looks like little Greengoose, the pretty lad in the storybook," said Mrs. Louisa Lane Drew as she held her new grandson, John Barrymore, on Valentine's day, 1882. The father, Maurice Barrymore, was born Herbert Blythe, but selected his professional name from an old playbill in an English theater. Shortly after coming to the United States he met and married Georgianna Drew of the famous theatrical family, despite the opposition of Mrs. Drew. Soon Lionel, Ethel, and John were born.

INSTALMENT III.

THE TOMB OF THE CAPULETS.

Mrs. Drew's S. 10th st. house was near St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church, where she had been a communicant since 1835. The Drew children were christened there. Georgia Drew taught Sunday school in this church, before her conversion by Mme. Helena Modjeska to Catholicism.

Mrs. Drew appeared at services with Victorian propriety on the arm of son John, a handsomely mustached young man in morning coat, pin striped trousers, a flower in his lapel. The daughters demurely followed after them, like ladies in waiting. Sidney Drew customarily was late for church, possibly because of his exacting labors at the billiard parlor.

Mrs. Drew was a burden bearer. No matter how many relatives or waifs thronged her household, she never complained. When the increase became a strain on domestic comfort, she promptly moved to more commodious quarters.

Lionel and Ethel were born at 119 N. 9th st. Neither of them remembers this house at all, nor does Lionel recall anything of the Columbia av. birthplace of his brother John, other than one yammering incident at a time when John was learning to walk. The future Hamlet fell from the second floor nursery window upon an array of flower pots. He cut his chin and banged his head. His howls were horrendous. He bled like a sacrificial goat. Uncle Googan set off with such speed for Dr. Mitchell's office that John Drew remarked: "Heavens! What a magnificent quarter miler was lost to the University of Pennsylvania when Sidney decided to stay illiterate."

The children, all three, remembered best the next house leased by Mum Mum. That was 140 N. 12th st., the largest of all the Drew residences, a three story building with cavernous halls, monastic rooms, a nursery known as "The Annex," and two attics. The boys sometimes slept in one of the attics.

A stonecutter did business across the street from the house in N. 12th st. This Sicilian Phidias, a sallow dwarf with a weather vane mustache, was a carver of tombstones. Numerous pieces of his handiwork, stolid angels and emaciated doves, occupied the sidewalk in front of his establishment. In deference to this morbid bric-a-brac, Georgie Barrymore named their new home "The Tomb of the Capulets." This house no longer is standing except in memory.

The Drew-Barrymore family was not a brawling clan, notwithstanding the long list of physical clashes attributed to their men folk. These individualists were unusually polite in their own home, almost formal. Maurice, altho by nature a firebrand, could reveal the manners of a gentleman of abundant native charm.

It just seemed to happen that when these outward Victorians got in the way of adventure, gunpowder began to explode. These turbulences usually occurred during chivalrous crises, such as the incident of an injury to John Drew's eye. According to Jack Barrymore, Drew lost the sight of his right eye while fencing. Yet here we encounter a surge of poetic license on the part of our legend loving protagonist.

Drew didn't have a sword with him; not even a poniard. He had been skylarking with cronies, and on his way home encountered a gentleman jabbing a lady with a walking stick. Mr. Drew made gallant remonstrance. His intentions earned the sudden ire of both parties, as often happens when a stranger seeks to solve the planetary relationships of Mars and Venus. The lady rewarded Mr. Drew's efforts with an eloquence usually associated with the fo'c'sles of cattle ships. Her escort turned the ferrule of his cane from its soft target to Mr. Drew's eye.

This injury might have permanently retired from the boards any other leading man, but nothing less than the grave has ever been known to snuff out a Drew or a Barrymore. Uncle Jack's sightless eye went unnoticed by most playgoers, so diverting was his theatrical craftsmanship.

This was not the only mishap to the family's men folk during the season. Papa returned home with a dented noggin after a tour with Lillie Langtry. Maurice and Robert Hilliard had been supporting the "Jersey Lily" in repertory during her Canadian triumph.

While in the city of Toronto, Mrs. Langtry received a round robin mash note from all the members of a visiting hockey team. It was beneath this titled beauty, a former protegee of Edward, prince of Wales, to reply to a letter written by amorous commoners.

That evening after the play—and also after the hockey game—Barrymore and Hilliard were having nightcaps in the hotel bar. The hockey team, carrying sticks and other equipment, entered for a drink before train time.

One of the players, said to be the goalie, suddenly announced to his colleagues in a loud voice: "I think I'll let you fellows take the train without me." He squinted toward the ceiling. "I plan on going upstairs to call on Lillie Langtry."

Mr. Hilliard had had enough drinks to feel a spell of nobility coming on. "That is not a gentlemanly remark," he admonished the goalie, "and I shall ask you to retract and apologize at once."

Hockey sticks began to fall against Mr. Hilliard's ribs. His friend Barrymore joined the fight, managed to floor the pleasure loving goalie; but a few whacks on the head put him out of the lists.

At matinee time next day the Jersey Lily looked with genteel amazement at her battered actors. She discharged them on the spot.

"That," said Barrymore, "is poetic justice. We never should have gilded this Lily."

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 7.—Ernst Lubitsch wasn't fooling when he said he was going to find a picture for Tallulah Bankhead. She'll play Catherine the Great in "The Czarina." He and Joe Mankiewicz are both working on the script, and when the picture goes into production, they'll reverse the order of things, with Lubitsch producing and Mankiewicz directing. It will be Joe's first directorial effort. . . . Talked with Irving Berlin at the Sam Goldwyns. Irving and Ellin are here on vacation. Irving didn't come to work but to rest and see his friends. Very soon he'll be en route to North Africa and Italy with his soldier show "This Is the Army." He's trying to put on weight. His face is getting so thin it's fast disappearing. . . . No, Ginger Rogers isn't going to have a baby. At least, not in the near future. . . . Gypsy Rose Lee has a marvelous sense of humor. The other night a friend barged up to her to say, "I've never seen you look so well." Gypsy smiled and replied, "Why shouldn't I? I'm wearing my new teeth!" . . . I can't believe the rumor going around that Sol Wurtzel, who's leaving Twentieth Century-Fox, is broke. Wurtzel's been there 26 years getting big pay. It just isn't possible.

It's a Great Idea.

How would you like to see Joan Crawford play "Nurse Kenny?" She wants to do it so badly. Joan has always been interested in the suffering of others. She pays for two rooms at a local hospital, has for a long time. She started the "I want to adopt a pilot" movement here. Dr. William Branch and Jack Warner are members. Idea is to pay for operations for prospective pilots and fit them for training. The other day she had a letter from a loyal fan wanting to join one of Joan's projects, so Joan suggested she adopt a pilot—only this particular boy's operation would cost $90. In the next mail came a check for $100, with the note, "I was going to buy a new spring outfit with this, but this is much more important. Am only too happy to help out." Fan's name is Mollye Spaelti.

Yes, It Needed Airing.

I wrote the other day about R. K. O. and treatment Harriet Parsons had been given—that she dug up "The Enchanted Cottage," then it was taken away from her. Well, since my article, they've done a complete reversal. They've given it back to her. She'll produce the picture under the watchful eye of Jack Gross. . . . Beulah Bondi and Ida Moore team up as a couple of eccentric, but not pixilated, gals in "Soldiers in Slacks." They're kind of up against it for cash, are forced against their will to take in defense workers, which makes them realize they can contribute something to the war.

Putting B Before A.

It always surprises me how studios succeed in spite of outsmarting themselves. Warners put on a regular campaign to find an unknown to do George Gershwin. They found Robert Alda, who turned in a terrific performance, so good that they're going to roadshow the picture. But now they've rushed him into "Cinderella Jones" with Joan Leslie, and that picture will hit the theaters before the Gershwin opus is released in October. . . . Bing Crosby's still trying to talk his bosses at Paramount into letting him go to the South Pacific before starting his next. . . . I can't tell you what fun it was doing G. I. Journal with Bing. That's another recorded show for our men overseas. Kay Kyser started them, then he was taken sick. Bing carried on. Bob Hope's done a few, so has Jack Carson. Linda Darnell's done the most—26. Once when she was ill, she sent Susan Hayward as her substitute.

Bigger Than Expected.

Twentieth Century has a sleeper in Henry Hathaway's "Home in Indiana" with little Lon MacAllister and Jean Crain. The surprise of the opus is Charlotte Greenwood who plays a straight character role. It will put her in a whole new classification. It's one of the best things Walter Brennan ever did. . . . The Dave Chasens and Mrs. Chasen's daughter, Kay, are at Arrowhead Springs hotel, Kay recovering from pneumonia. Dave is feeding the huge civilian project at San Bernardino army air base—13,000 daily. . . . Dottie Lamour's mother-in-law is visiting them again. . . . Edward Arnold was a guest there over week-end, so were the Joe Pasternaks. . . . Joe Schenck proved that he still does a mean rhumba, and stopped dancing long enough to congratulate Garwood Van and his orchestra. . . . Wounded soldiers at Corona hospital dubbed Ida Lupino their "Sulpha sister." . . . Otto Kruger comes up with this slogan, "Jay-walkers who are prone to be careless usually end up prone."

[ADVERTISMENT]

This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Truly Surprising

So Easy. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it can't be beaten.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Plan to Write? It Means Work and More Work

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

on the SOLID side

So you want to be a writer! At the moment the idea of writing a full length novel or even a long short story seems rather king-sized. But you do have that urge to get things down on paper. Every day incidents form themselves into story plots in your mind; people who sit next to you in school or in street cars seem to have the makings of colorful characters, you find your mind conjuring up words to describe ordinary things you see around you—you have a writer's "awareness." You know that some day you and the right typewriter can do big things together. And in the meantime, you're getting in what practice you can by working on the school paper, slaving over your English themes, and jotting down private ideas just for your own pleasure. Well, you're on the right beam—that's just how Mary Roberts Rinehart got her start!

At 15 she was editor of her high school paper and ran the debating society; she began to write then and is still writing. Today she has almost 30 novels, 10 produced plays, and innumerable short stories and poems to her literary credit. Her first short stories sold for one dollar each — three column-length narratives for a daily newspaper. Her next salable work, two poems, sold for $22 and was followed by a short story which merited a check for $32. In the next few months her income swelled to $1,800—the total return for 45 short stories!

Mrs. Rinehart remembers the difficulties of being a new and young author—those days of rejection slips and "heavy" envelopes that meant returned manuscripts. But she taught herself the hard way, learning by repeated rejections just what stories magazines wanted. There were no sales arranged thru friends, no inside pull. The name of her first book publisher was determined simply by pulling a book at random from the bookshelf. But even now, when she is one of the country's top-notch yarn spinners, she still calls writing "hard work." Her wastebasket sees more words than the public ever does; once she burned half a completed novel because she wasn't satisfied with it.

The difference between a gal who likes writing for the glamor it might bring and a real writer is that the latter never gives up. If your ambitions lie in the literary line, now is the time to get to work. Practice makes perfect so why not get in that practice early? Mary Roberts Rinehart did.

Thru the Looking Glass

If you've a distaste for using heavy creams to lubricate the skin, we'd suggest that you try using a light oil to do the job. It's true that while many women delight in using rich creams and have no objection to wearing a light coating of them at night, others have a positive dislike for them and would almost rather let the skin stay dry and develop wrinkles than resort to using them. Fortunately for these fussy ones there are efficient, easy to use oils on the market that soothe and soften the skin beautifully.

The list of such oils has been increased lately, a newcomer having been added to the ranks, and a most worthy addition it is. This is a particularly rich product, made of oils that approximate the natural oils of the skin and act as instant balm on the parched surface. It seems to go to work instantly in relieving the tenseness that is so annoyingly a part of dryness and under its beneficent action the skin becomes soft and pliable. The preparation is unbelievably light and not a bit thickish or sticky feeling. It slides on easily and practically spreads itself.

The oil is to be used sparingly. Only a few drops are required and if more is used, it is a deliberate waste for the skin can use so much and no more. Pour the oil into the palm of one hand, smooth between both hands, and then apply it to the face and throat. Massage lightly until the oil disappears and any excess may be used with good effect on hands and elbows. It's a complete lubricating treatment and will delight women who object to wearing a greasy mask when they sleep. And, happily, the oil has no strong, offensive odor. It's delicately perfumed and leaves only a fine, fragrant film on the skin.

Jews to Begin Observance of Purim Tonight

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

As Jews of the world begin the annual observance of Purim tonight they will be in the midst of a struggle for a new Purim to save their brethren from extermination in Nazi occupied lands, just as the book, Esther, in the Bible, tells how that good queen saved her people from the threat of Haman in old Persian days.

Central to observances which extend from home to synagogue will be a Purim luncheon tomorrow at the Standard club, when Judge Morris Rothenberg, president of the Jewish National Fund of America, and A. H. Rosenberg, president of the fund's Chicago council, will be honor guests. The occasion will be Judge Rothenberg's first appearance as national president outside of New York.

Judge Rothenberg also is national co-chairman of the United Jewish Appeal and a member of the National Refugee service and Jewish Welfare board. The work of these agencies extends the Purim story into the plight of the Jews of central Europe. This story, dramatically told in the Bible, relates how Haman, the grand vizier, felt affronted because Mordecai, a Jew, had refused him obeisance at the palace gate. This incident aroused resentment against all the Jews of Persia, and Haman influenced the king, Ahasuerus, to accomplish their ruin.

Destruction was averted thru the intercession of Esther, who had displaced Queen Vashti in the king's favor. Haman met an ignominious end, and Mordecai was elevated to high office in the realm. The festival came to have a strong popular appeal and inspired courage in those under oppression. Thruout the ages, the festivities, with masquerades and dramatics, illumined the gloom of many European ghettos.

The word purim is the Hebrew plural of the more ancient Assyrian word puru, meaning a stone. Pebbles were used in ancient times for the casting of lots and it was by this method that Haman had determined the date of the extermination of Jews in Persia. Purim often is spoken of as the feast of lots.

Women Learn War Is Job of Every Chinese

BY HARRIETT PRIBBLE.

Add to solutions for world peace: Henry Peterson's suggestion that we do as Chinese mothers do and beat our children for stealing, lying, and gossiping. Mr. Peterson free lance journalist, son of a Danish father and a Chinese mother, spoke yesterday morning at the Woman's Athletic club on the provocative subject, "Confucius Versus Confusion," and so captured the imagination of his audience that he was recalled to the lecture platform for a 20 minute question period.

China has been able to withstand Japanese aggression for six and a half years, Mr. Peterson said, because each individual considers the war his personal responsibility. In answering questions from the audience Mr. Peterson stated that he believes Germany will suddenly crack within five months after we invade from the west, but that the Japanese war will continue until 1949.

Over a luncheon of southern fried chicken, fresh peas, and peach tarts, many of the guests sympathized with the 18 families residing at 60 and 70 Scott st., who have been given 60 days' notice to move so that the buildings may be turned into small apartments. Dr. and Mrs. Selim McArthur, their daughter, Mrs. William E. Dunshee, and her baby daughter, Joan, already have started scouting around for new quarters. Moving from one address to another may bring Mrs. Frank Porter home at an earlier date than expected from Pasadena, Cal., where she and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lefens Porter, and the latter's little daughter are staying with Mrs. Porter's sister, Miss Kate Lefens, while Lt. Lefens Porter is on duty in the Pacific.

Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, one of Chicago's most beloved dowagers, amused her luncheon companions with a description of her recent return from Buffalo, N. Y., in an upper berth. Her grandson, Lt. Henry Bartholomay III., just has left after a visit at home, having received his commission in the army air forces last week in Texas. His fiancee, Miss Judy Adams, came from Vassar college to be here during his visit.

Last night Mrs. Bartholomay's niece, Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr., left to spend a week at Sinnissippi farm, the Oregon, Ill., home of her father, the late Frank O. Lowden. Mrs. Madlener is substituting this stay for her usual Florida visit, resting up for the start of the 1944 Seeing Eye campaign, of which she is co-chairman. The first committee meetings will be held on March 20, and the drive will start on April 18.

Others who heard yesterday's talk included Mrs. Edwin McGinnis, Mrs. James Thompson and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Smythe; Mrs. John Clarkson, Mrs. John Slade, Mrs. Mark Trude, Mrs. Arthur Wakeley, Mrs. Herbert Butz, Mrs. Averill Tilden, Mrs. Margaret Pope Hovey, Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, and Mrs. Rawleigh Warner. One of the club's "regulars," Mrs. Charles Ward Seabury, missed the meeting as she is vacationing in Phoenix, Ariz.

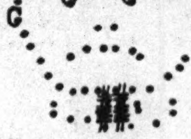
White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

The Boss.

We have not heard of Nosey Parker since his recent report on the boss' wife, so we presume Nosey is working on his income tax. However, we wonder if he could not conduct an investigation to discover what sort of jobs these fortunate girls have who draw typewriter pictures.

TWO SECS.



P. S. You can see for yourself how our boss would look if we tried it!

It Comes to Every One.

What does one do about 32? Thirty-two is an age which, due to the passing of years, I have reached. Offhand one scarcely would think of being 32 as an impediment, but wait! Service man: "Er-um-would you pardon me a moment, Miss Brown?" Exit Pvt. Smith for the balance of evening walking, when last seen, with stars in his eyes toward a group of adolescents. Saleswoman: "If Modom will just step this way, please." I step, we stop, we have arrived. The sign reads: "Youthful hats for the matron." Prospective Boss [grasping hand and pumping it vigorously]: "Good morning, Miss Brown! We're so happy to have you come to join our little family. . . . Have a chair . . . have a cigaret . . . have a chocolate . . . pardon me while I glance at your application—just a form you know, ha ha!" [Glance falls on line marked "age."] Removes feet from desk, removes chocolates, removes smiles from face: "Miss Brown, ahem, I—that is — we — that is, the position doesn't—what I mean is, we'll certainly keep your application on file. Good day, Miss Brown." Piano teacher: "I know, Miss Brown, that you're tired of 'Happy Little Fingers' but surely you understand that learning anything at your age is . . ."

I rebel. I am not 92. My voice does not quaver, my legs do not totter. I am 32. What does one do about 32?

TAKEALETTER MISS BROWN.

Feminine First.

Evelyn Martin, the first girl engineer in a large Michigan av. firm, studied medicine at the University of California and has a California license in bacteriology. Along with her study of medicine she took courses in art and, as tho that weren't sufficient to crowd her day, she was a member of the school diving team. When, for reasons of health, she decided to give up the study of medicine she studied engineering and later, when her husband went to Africa, began her engineering work in a California aircraft factory from which she recently came to her Michigan av. job. Now, war time manufacturing and post-war peace products are her prime concern. So readily did she make herself acceptable in what was formerly a man's field, the company has added several more girl engineers.

If You Intend to Buy Cottons —Do It Now!

BY REA SEEGER.

Cotton collectors are due for a shock! The first colorful showings are here now and they're making sun worshipers not only discontented with the prospect of March and April rains, but starting them off to plan and buy for sunny summer weather.

Furthermore, the warnings of shortages are true. American women are going to feel the war time limitations on cotton this spring and summer. What's available now just about represents the season's supply. Chambray, dotted Swiss, gingham, all imported materials, are rare as precious silks. Shop now and decide while they're within your reach if you would find smart dresses of such cottons.

Seersucker also is high on the list of limited cottons. One piece dresses, two piece suit dresses, and smart tailored suits of this material are to be found in many bright and neutral colors. Butcher's linen is another tried and time honored cotton that takes the place of hard to find real linen. This is the stuff to be used for slim, smart jackets, for coats, and dashing costume accessories such as bags, big hats, gloves, waistcoats, and skirts.

Smooth mixtures of cotton and rayon complete the immediate cotton collections. Unusual prints and colors, effective stripes, checks, and plaids, and some of the best looking border prints ever designed will make cool summer dresses. The border prints are used this season in soft dressmaker suits with some very distinctive results. Heretofore, the border prints were used exclusively for dresses.

Native Music Given Hearing in Piano Recital

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Altho we fly Shostakovich's music from Russia on microfilm, we often wait a lifetime to hear that of our next door neighbors. John Kirkpatrick, a pianist who champions the American composer despite his French background of study, attempted to do something about it at Orchestra hall last night when he invaded the Musical Arts Piano series with music of Theodore Chanler, Charles Ives, and the early Roy Harris, with a dash of MacDowell to placate the ear intent on recognizable tunes. As a defense of the native composer it was more courageous then persuasive, a rather dull recital paved with good intentions.

Mr. Kirkpatrick chose as his backlog Ives' "Concord" Sonata, composed about 30 years ago in an effort to capture the spirit of transcendentalism in music. It is a curious and complex score, reaching out for the searching boldness of Emerson, turning the Hawthorne episode into a kind of Debussy crossed with "Alexander's Ragtime Band," finding in the home life of the Alcotts a touching and communicable simplicity, and ending with tribute to Thoreau in the hazy somnolence of an autumnal scene that vanishes with the faraway sound of a bell. It manages to be both brilliant and flatulent, potent and pretentious, a turgid witches' brew of a score, not much clarified by the composer's highflown prose.

Chanler's three compositions, written in the last decade, were provocative hints that stirred curiosity. A Prelude and Fugue in D major and a Prelude in C minor were scarcely more than sketches by a reticent talent that could easily slip into the precious, but they were followed by a Toccata in E flat major that had brilliance and a taut kind of skill that meant something to say and the craftsmanship to say it.

The Harris Sonata, an impressive Opus 1, was a bold knock on the door of the future. Vital, crude, individual, with a firmness of structure that presaged the Third Symphony, it is as sharply of the west as the music of Ives is rooted in New England.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, a tall man with long, loose wristed hands, played all this, and the excerpts from MacDowell's Woodland Sketches, Fireside Tales and New England Idyls, with almost negligent ease, and added encores from Stephen Foster, Arthur Farwell, and others.

Household Forum

—By Louise Bargelt—

Mrs. F. A. Niver, 3120 Lafayette av., Omaha, Neb.—A thumb tack thru the bottom of the boxes you have in drawers for various articles will keep them from sliding to the back when you open drawers.

Mrs. Ted S., Chicago—Here's a good tip if you live in a house which isn't any too warm in winter. For several years I've kept my babies' skins in good shape this winter in spite of a coolish house and cold weather by use of plenty of a good baby oil or vegetable oil. Helps a lot to keep tender skin from cracking.

Evy S., Peoria, Ill.—I have long since stopped throwing away a towel just because it's a bit worn. It will pinch hit, cut down and mended, as a wash cloth or a feeding bib for the baby, or even take the place of rubber panties. And edges are easily finished with bias mending tape or a crocheted colored edge.

Too Practical Parent Cause of Misbehavior

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you're too practical, too efficient, too systematic with the children and your house in general you'll lose a lot. For one thing you won't get nearly so much out of having your children.

The other thing is that, oddly enough, if you are too practical in your handling of the children and in your attitude toward them, you are apt to have trouble with them. Sometimes they sprout behavior difficulties that you would never ordinarily connect with such a cause as just being too practical.

You see, children need a lot of warmth, a love they're actually conscious of, a feeling they're important enough, so that your sweeping, dusting, baking, marketing, and all your other concerns don't seem always and eternally to come first in everyday life.

When I receive letters which read, "I'm a busy person and have to hustle most of the time. My little boy, 2½ years old, is, on the whole, a good little fellow, but he does torment me greatly by whining around after me as I go from room to room getting everything straightened up for the day. He's perfectly well, so that isn't the trouble."

I can readily see that the child isn't getting the real wholehearted attention from his mother which is such a vital factor. The housework and everything else seem to come first.

It isn't sentimental to say that children need, actually need, unmistakable signs that their mother loves them, and is interested in them under all circumstances. If they don't get it, all kinds of "misbehavior," as it's called, begin to appear. Trouble with all the routines is one sign.

Children discover that if they whine, if they're slow to eat, or don't seem able to sleep, or keep on having "accidents," mother simply has to put aside the carpet sweeper, needle, bed-making, or cooking. She simply has to stop ignoring or neglecting their deep need, and give them some attention. "Anything is better than nothing." They feel subconsciously, and if they can't have the tender, happy, warm attention they need, they'll take whatever they can get, be it unpleasant or just surface attention.

It isn't the last word in modern training if you're too practical with your children. This is a hint that some of our young mothers, who want to be modern, should take to heart.

39 PLAYERS AWAIT CALL TO WHITE SOX CAMP

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

FOOTBALL coaches and athletic directors of the Big Ten conference area will meet in Chicago this week-end to discuss rules changes and problems connected with the continuation of intercollegiate sport. . . . Four years ago the directors resolved that in event of war they would turn over their entire resources to the government. . . . This meant, of course, that they could not operate athletics as in normal times, but would think only in terms of the contribution they might make in the way of equipment, instructors, training classes, and recreation. . . . Their record from 1940 to 1944 is evidence they have kept their pledge and there is little likelihood that any of them will suggest a change in the adopted policy at this week's session. . . . The matter of keeping intercollegiate sport going has been increasingly difficult with each season. . . . The spring semester at some universities ends in mid-April, which brings shifts in personnel on all spring athletic squads, but the directors and coaches will figure out ways to keep the various activities alive. . . . The operation of sport is no different these days from any other enterprise dependent upon man power.

Ray Schalk.

Manuel de la Torre.

Sgt. Manuel de la Torre, former Northwestern golfer and finalist in the 1942 National Collegiate golf championship tournament, is stationed with an anti-aircraft unit in England. . . . National league managers know better than to save up their left handed pitchers for assignments against the Cincinnati club. . . . The Reds have beaten southpaws 75 times and lost to them only 37 in the last six seasons. . . . The Arlington Park-Washington Park organization is the first association ever to schedule three $50,000 added races during one meeting, all for one division only. . . . They are the Stars and Stripes Handicap, which will headline the week of charity racing; the Arlington and Washington Park Handicaps. . . . Ray Schalk rates the 1933 Columbus team of the American association the strongest the minor leagues have developed, but Helper Jerry Healey rises to remark there was nothing wrong with the 1937 Columbus outfit. . . . That's the one that included Pitchers Morton Cooper, Max Lanier, and Max Macon; Outfielders Enos Slaughter and Johnny Rizzo and Infielders Dick Seibert and Skeeter Webb. . . . Burt Shotton, now coach for the Cleveland Indians, was manager. . . . All clubs that finished the 1943 season in the Southern league will start this spring. . . . Among the movies Frank Leahy of Notre Dame is taking on his overseas U. S. O. tour is the Georgia Tech-Tulsa Sugar bowl game.

I dread to see the evening paper come—
Each night, it seems, another boy or two
Are added to the roster of the dead,
Most of them lads whom all the neighbors knew;
Ed Connolly, Johnny Williams, Tom Purcell—
And now tonight a boy scarce out of school,
And so lately came a letter full of cheer,
From this same youth, gay carefree Bob O'Toole.

I dread to see the evening paper come—
I turn with deep foreboding to the page
On which appears the list of those gone on,
Who shall this tragic loss e'en try to gauge?
So often as the early spring light wanes
Into a hushed and deepened twilight glow,
Dimly I see those pale white crosses gleam
Off on some lonely outpost, row on row.

O, may we ever see them in our minds,
May vivid memory of them ever stay,
For those white gleaming crosses, row on row,
Are the purchase price of our way of life today!

Beware!

King David was a holy man, they say,
Perhaps the holiest the world has known,
And yet a woman led him far astray
Because he craved her beauty for his own;
King Solomon, the wisest man on earth,
Met pagan women from a foreign sod,
And captivated by their charm and mirth
He was persuaded to adore their god.

Sampson, the strongest man of olden days,
Was hoodwinked by a woman and betrayed;
And we who follow them adown life's ways
Had best be wary of the comely maid;
Have we more wisdom, holiness and power
Than these men who were shipwrecked in an hour?

17 PITCHERS ON ROSTER; DRILLS OPEN MARCH 16

Signed Contracts Raised to 19.

Sports Preview

JIM GALLAGHER, vice president and general manager of the Cubs, and Charley Grimm, vice president and manager of the Milwaukee Brewers, will be guests on Arch Ward's Sports Preview over W-G-N and the Mutual network tonight. The program will be heard on W-G-N from 9:15 to 9:30 o'clock. Ward also will comment on the week's sports developments. The broadcast is announced by Guy Savage and produced by Mary Afflick.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

There'll undoubtedly be some changes, what with Uncle Sam calling 'em in from all points, but for the time being there are 39 candidates for the attention of White Sox Manager James J. Dykes come March 16 at French Lick, Orange county, Ind.

Edited by Uncle Joe Barry, the club's traveling secretary, the official 1944 roster went into circulation yesterday and the above number of players were enrolled, the division being four catchers, 10 infielders, eight outfielders, and nothing fewer than 17 who either are proved pitchers or suspected of possessing such talents. And the same coaches—Herold Ruel, George Haas, and Edmund Miller—and the same arnica expert — Edward Schwartz—are listed.

One Shortstop on Roster.

Strange feature of the winter ivory collection is that the Sox have only one man listed as a shortstop, the job Luke Appling handled so neatly until Uncle Sam called. The lone candidate is Joe Cannizo, signed as a free agent, but this doesn't mean he is not going to have competition. Jim Webb, for instance, can play short altho he now is tabulated as a second baseman.

Presumably Dykes' eventual choice for his infield, if the men are on hand, will be Hal Trosky at first, Leroy Schalk, who was with Little Rock before a stretch in the army, at second, Webb at short and Grey Clarke from the Milwaukee Brewers at third.

Then There's Dickshot.

There is likely to be considerable expenditure of Dykes' gray matter before he can settle on his outfield. He still has Guy Curtright, Wally Moses, and Thurman Tucker, who comprised last season's fly chasing trio. He also has Ralph Hodgin who hit .315, so the fellow will have to be reckoned with either in the outfield or at third, both of which positions he handled last season. And some thought will have to be given to the possibilities of Johnny Dickshot, who batted .356 for Hollywood in 1943, and Ed Carnett, who did a .301 hitting job for Seattle.

The list of Sox under contract was boosted to 19 yesterday when Vice President Grabiner revealed signed contracts had been received from Webb, Schalk, and Cannizo.

Recent reference by Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, to the office of Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis as a police department, was reported to have been the main cause of a more or less secret session in Landis' headquarters yesterday. In attendance, it was reported, were Will Harridge, president of the American league, Ford Frick, president of the National, and Giles. The only announcement made claimed that the business at hand pertained to the war relief games this coming season.

In his talk, delivered at the Old Timers' gathering in Cincinnati, Giles declared: "Over the years the game has come to be policed too much, from the men in blue [umpires] on up to Commissioner Landis. . . . The commissioner's office has become a police department because of the infractions of the players, managers and, yes, the general managers, fellows like myself."

The Sox and Cubs originally were booked for four pre-season games, all in Chicago, but a fifth has been added. They'll play nine innings of entertainment for the flying men at Freeman field, Seymour, Ind., on March 29. Along with this announcement of this booking, James Gallagher, Cub vice president, included the fact that the team's spring games will be handled by Lynton [Dusty] Boggess, a new member of the National League's umpire staff.

The Sox roster, thru error, lists Richard Bonne, one of several boys taken from the farm-owned Waterloo club when it disbanded for the duration, as missing in action. It should be Joe Harney, who was in the Italian campaign.

PEORIA HAS EYES ON FIRST GOLDEN GLOVES TROPHY

Cleveland, Chief Rival, Has 6 Team Titles.

1936—Cleveland and Omaha [tie]

1938—Cleveland
1939—Detroit
1940—Fort Worth
1941—Cleveland
1942—Fort Worth
1943—Cleveland

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer boxing team's perennial supremacy in Golden Gloves warfare will be threatened Friday night, when the 1944 finals of the sport's biggest show will be waged in the Chicago Stadium ring. All seats for the 32 battle program, from which will emerge this year's eight champions, have been sold. General admission tickets selling for one dollar, including tax, will be on sale at the Stadium Friday night.

Cleveland teams coached by Johnny Papke have won six trophies since the first team award was put up in 1933. They came out of last week's Tournament of Champions with four survivors, but that total was matched by the Peoria Journal-Transcript team's surprising performance, and closely pressed by threesomes from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Title Is Worth Five Points.

The record of survivors representing other centers in Friday's fighting follows:

Chicago, 2; Gary, Ind., 2; Kansas City, Mo., 2; Milwaukee, Wis., 2; Omaha, Neb., 2; Chanute Field, Ill., 1; Columbus, O., 1; Fort Wayne, Ind., 1; Los Angeles, Cal., 1; Memphis, Tenn., 1; Minneapolis, Minn., 1; Pensacola, Fla., 1, and Sioux City, Ia., 1.

The team trophy is awarded on a point scoring basis, with five points being given to the winner of a championship, three to a runnerup, and one to each of the beaten semifinalists.

Chicago Team Now Eligible.

Cleveland won the team trophy first in 1934, repeated the next two years, and then returned to capture it in 1938, 1941, and last year. It should be pointed out, however, that until 1941 Chicago did not compete on the same eight man numerical basis as the out-of-town entrants. Prior to that year a separate local trophy was given to that boxing club or organization in the city which scored the most points in the finals. Now that Chicago is competing on the same basis as the visitors, it is eligible to win the team trophy also.

The first team trophy was won in 1933 by the squad representing the Davenport, Ia., Times. Cleveland then began a three year reign by sending up four champions in 1934 in Jesse Levels, Troy Bellini, Danny Farrar, and Frank Bojack. Mike Gamiere and Joe Bauer were the Plain Dealer's champions in 1935, but in 1936 the Ohioans were forced to share the trophy with the Omaha World-Herald team when each wound up with 13 points, Cleveland's Ted Kara and Jackie Wilson being matched in championship performance by Omaha's Paul Hartnek and Carl Vinciquerra. Duplicate trophies were awarded to the two teams.

Fort Worth Wins Twice.

The Detroit Free Press then entered the lists, winning in 1937 with a team that included Jimmy Urso and Ed Kozole. Cleveland followed with its fourth victory in 1938, but the Detroit squad, headed by Vic Saccoia and Tony Ancona, repeated in 1939 after a thrilling fight which saw it score 11 points to 10 for Kansas City and nine for Cleveland.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram made its debut in 1940 with a delegation that included Morris Corona, Tom Attra, and Dick Menchaca. Cleveland then scored victory No. 5 in 1941, but Fort Worth, with Corona and Attra returning, was the winner in 1942. Last year the Plain Dealer squad regained the trophy.

GLOVERS MIX WORK WITH PLAY

Operating on the theory that all work and no play may deprive a boxer of the sharp edge he will need to win a Chicagoland Golden Gloves championship, the three Fort Worth, Tex., survivors in Friday's finals in the Stadium relax in the Illinois Athletic club. Here (left to right) Corp. Dick Young, 160 pounds; Aviation Cadet Orlan Ott, heavyweight, and Sgt. Manuel Ortega, 126, indulge in billiards.

The same three battlers fill up a phone booth. While Young (center) talks to a Chicago girl friend, Ortega (left) and Ott listen in.

Sports After Peace

Dutton Sees Athletics as Boon in War; Predicts Big Expansion

[This is another of a series in which sports leaders are giving their conception of Sports After Peace.]

BY EDWARD PRELL.

MERVYN [RED] DUTTON, managing director of the National Hockey league, was with the Princess Pats in World War I., was wounded in action, and decorated for valor. Two of his sons, members of the Royal Canadian air force, have been killed in this war. A third son is in the Canadian navy.

This qualifies him to answer a question at least indirectly associated with Sports After Peace. It is: What of sports in war time?

William J. Tobin.

Red Dutton.

"It always has been my contention," he answers, "that sports should be carried on in war time. You may have your diversion and I mine. Yours might be a movie and mine might be a bottle of Scotch [if I can get it], but a great many people want to give vent to their enthusiasm by attending sports events.

No Better Way to Relax than at Sports Spectacle.

"It is folly to expect all people to seek relaxation in the same type of amusements, but there is no cleaner way, or better way, to do it than at a sports spectacle. I know from my experience in the last war that I looked forward to the mails, and after my letters from home in importances were the papers, so I could find out where the various clubs stood and how the sporting events turned out."

Dutton, who in his playing days with the Montreal Maroons and New York Americans was a rugged sort on the Ernie Shore type, sees a tremendous growth for hockey in the United States.

"This country will develop hockey players on a scale equaling that of Canada," he declares. "I can visualize rinks and stadia springing up all over the country. The American boy loves bodily contact and the sport teaches young players to use their initiative to a marked degree."

Dutton is confident there will be a network of minor leagues and has ambitious plans for the future. Hold your hats on this one:

"I hope to live to see the day when each hockey club will own its own plane and when we will follow much the same policy as baseball, carrying 25 or 26 men so that we will play in different cities every night of the week. Distance will mean nothing at all and a club could play in Los Angeles and New York on successive evenings."

Hockey Fastest Growing Sport in American History, Says Tobin.

William J. Tobin, president of the Chicago Blackhawks and also a veteran of World War I., in predicting an intensification of hockey interest along the lines suggested by Dutton, pointed out that hockey has been the fastest growing sport in American history.

"It was only 18 years ago that Maj. Frederic McLaughlin introduced big league hockey in Chicago, said Tobin. "Crowds of 1,500 were considered big ones in the Coliseum. This year we'll set an all time league attendance record for our 25 home games. [A conservative estimate is 325,000.]

"The striking thing, to me, is the tremendous interest of the women. The WAVES and WACs have gone for it in a big way. We turn over 500 tickets to the Service Men's center for each game and the number of girls in service who attend is remarkably high.

"Right now, however, we're in a war. And winning it is far more important than getting in the Stanley Cup playoffs. But when peace comes, just watch us grow!"

CANADIENS BOOM OWN GOALIE FOR THREE AWARDS

The Montreal Canadiens, who will meet the Blackhawks tomorrow night in Chicago Stadium, long since have clinched the National Hockey league championship. With this out of the way and pending the Stanley Cup play-offs which follow the regular season, the Canadiens and their followers are whooping it up for their star goalie, Bill Durnan.

They are nominating Durnan for three league trophies which are presented annually. These are: the Vezina, which automatically goes to the net minder who yields the lowest number of goals; the Hart, awarded to the player adjudged of most value to his team, and the Calder, yearly award to the outstanding rookie.

Campaign Meets Opposition.

If Durnan wins all three, it will be the first time for this to happen in league history. W. J. Tobin, president of the Blackhawks, and Frank Selke of the Toronto Maple Leafs, are among those who believe only one trophy, the Vezina, should be awarded to a goalie, even tho he admittedly is the outstanding factor in his team's success.

The Hawks have six remaining games and now are shooting in earnest at second place, altho beating the Canadiens, who have lost only four games this season, will be a difficult job. The Hawks are six points, or three games, behind Detroit, against whom they close the season with a two game series on successive nights. The Hawks' remaining schedule:

Tomorrow—Hawks vs. Canadiens in Stadium.
Sunday—Hawks vs. New York Rangers in Stadium.
March 14—Hawks vs. Bruins in Boston.
March 16—Hawks vs. Canadiens in Montreal.
March 18—Hawks vs. Red Wings in Detroit.
March 19—Hawks vs. Red Wings in Stadium.

Another to play a prominent part in the decisive Detroit triumph was Carl Liscombe, who collected four assists to raise his season's point total to 65. This boosted him to third place on the league's list, behind Boston's Herb Cain with 71 and Doug Bentley of Chicago who has collected 68.

South Shore [south] vs. Austin [west] at De La Salle, 8 p. m.

Final berths in the playoffs for junior and senior division championships of the City High School league will be at stake today in four basketball games.

The feature junior contest will involve Marshall, the defending champion, and Parker in the St. Sabina Community center, 78th st. and Racine av., with the tip-off scheduled for 4 p. m. The other junior encounter will bring together Lake View of the north section and Hyde Park of the south side at Mount Carmel High school at 3:30.

South Shore Plays Austin.

In the senior division semi-finals, South Shore, south section champion, and a strong favorite to reach the finals, will oppose Austin of the west section in De La Salle gymnasium, 35th st. and Michigan av., at 8 p. m. Wells' scrappy west section quintet will meet Harper of the south section at Tilden Tech at 3:30.

Marshall's Commandos represent the west section and to date the winning streak of this quintet, which started late in 1939, has reached 98 consecutive games. Parker, south section champion, is expected to give the Commandos one of their most severe tests of the season.

Senior Winner to State Meet.

Winners of the two junior division semi-finals are expected to meet next week to decide the representative of the City league against the Catholic league junior title holder in Mayor Kelly's second annual double header program in Chicago Stadium on Saturday, April 8. Catholic High of Joliet and Weber High are fighting for the Catholic league junior title, while the senior representative will be either Mount Carmel or Weber.

The City league senior championship will be decided either Monday or Tuesday of next week to permit the victor to compete in the state tournament at the University of Illinois later in the week.

TITLE GAME SUNDAY

Weber High school, north section champions, and Mount Carmel of the south section, defending league and city champions, will meet at 8 p. m. Sunday in De La Salle gymnasium to determine the 1944 Catholic league title holders, it was decided last night by the athletic directors in a meeting at the Atlantic hotel.

The junior championship game, involving Weber and Joliet Catholic will be played March 17, on the Lane Tech floor, also starting at 8 p. m.

EX-CAMP GRANT BASKET STAR IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Marshalltown, Ia., March 7 (AP).—Lt. Ernest L. Hebrechtsmeier, 26, star center on the Camp Grant basketball team for two season and a former player at Iowa State Teachers' college, was killed in an auto-train crash near here last night, which also claimed the life of his father.

The 6 foot 5 inch soldier, who was stationed at Northington General hospital, Tuscaloosa, Ala., was en route to his father's home at Hubbard to spend part of his leave. His father's car was struck by a Minneapolis and St. Louis train during a heavy snowstorm.

Hebrechtsmeier died last night and his father, H. G. Hebrechtsmeier, a farmer, died from his injuries today. The officer's mother is in a Marshalltown hospital in a critical condition.

Hebrechtsmeier enlisted in the army in September, 1940, during his senior year at Iowa State Teachers. He was stationed at Camp Grant. Last September he was commissioned a second lieutenant and subsequently stationed at St. Louis. He was transferred from there to Northington General hospital.

MICHIGAN TRACK TEAM HEADS FOR BIG TEN CROWN

Looks Like the Class of Saturday's Meet.

Michigan's unbeaten track team, fresh from its 66 to 37 victory over Illinois last week, is expected to romp off with the team championship in the Big Ten conference indoor meet in the University of Chicago fieldhouse Saturday. This year's meet will be a one day affair, with preliminaries in the afternoon and finals at night.

Bob Ufer.

Altho the Wolverines lost several top notch performers in the recent shifting of military trainees, they still pack enough punch to rank head and shoulders over the other entries. Only Illinois, paced by Claude [Buddy] Young, freshman star from Wendell Phillips High, appears to have a chance to finish close to the leader.

Ufer, Kelley to Meet Again.

In the dual meet with Illinois the Wolverines won eight of the 12 first places. Heading the Michigan array of talent is the veteran Bob Ufer, who will defend his 440 yard dash championship. His strongest competition is expected to come from Bob Kelley of Illinois. Kelley beat the Ann Arbor star in the outdoor meet last spring but trailed him in last Saturday's meet.

The half mile shapes up as another probable Wolverine triumph, with Ross Hume overshadowing the field. His brother, Bob, is expected to carry off top honors in the two mile run. Both boys are entered in the mile and it will not be surprising if they finish one-two in that event.

Swanson Leads High Hurdlers.

Elmer Swanson of Michigan is the leading entrant in the high hurdles. He won the event against Illinois in :08.8, and placed second to Young of the Illini in the lows. Other potential point winners for the Wolverines are George Kraeger, shotput; Bill Dale, high jump; Robert Segula, pole vault, and Jim Pierce, quarter mile.

Big 10 Officials to Talk Over Spring Sports

Directors of athletics and coaches of the Western conference schools will gather for the regular winter meetings in Chicago tomorrow and Friday. The conference indoor track meet is scheduled Saturday in the University of Chicago fieldhouse.

Coaches Face Problem.

The directors will select the date and place for the outdoor track meet. With coaches in the sports they also will discuss plans for baseball, golf, and tennis despite a growing man power shortage and the staggered closing dates at the universities for the spring terms.

"The spring terms at some universities close in the middle of April," Maj. John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Big Ten, said yesterday. "It is difficult for the coaches at these universities to know whether they will have sufficient material."

Discuss Football Drill.

The football coaches undoubtedly will discuss summer football practice. Last year the faculty committee permitted four weeks of summer drills which were not contiguous to the start of fall practice. Only four universities—Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, and Purdue—plan to hold spring football drills.

The directors and football coaches will hold their annual dinner Friday night.

CLASSIC LEAGUE BOWLERS SEEK TO BOOST LEAD

Jerry Skovie's Washington Shirts will be striving to increase their one game lead in the Classic league when they bowl Eddie Krem's Thompson Restaurants, a team from which they have won seven of 12 games this season, on the Gold Coast Recreation alleys tonight.

The Meister Braus, winners of the league's first half championship, and the Monarch Beers, defending champions, are to be opponents tonight. They now are tied for second place. A third match will pit the United States Brewery team against National Bowling Equipment. The bowling begins at 9 p.m.

BADGERS NAME RAY PATTERSON TEAM CAPTAIN

Madison, Wis., March 7 [Special].—Ray Patterson, high scoring University of Wisconsin basketball center, was elected captain of the Badgers for the 1943-'44 season tonight at the annual banquet tendered the squad by the Madison Gyro club.

DE PAUL GAME OFF.

A basketball game between De Paul university and Camp Ellis, scheduled for Camp Ellis last night, was canceled at the request of De Paul. The Demons will play Concordia of St. Louis, Mo., at De Paul, Friday, in their last home contest.

Fight Decisions

Majors Given O.K. on Spring Service Games

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—Major league baseball clubs may play pre-season exhibition games with service teams without restriction, the office of defense transportation said today, as long as the games are held near the ball teams' spring training camps.

Play in North Only.

This means that the pre-season exhibitions will be viewed only by those soldiers and sailors quartered north of the famed "Landis-Eastman line."

The line was established last year by Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, with the approval of ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman. Landis ruled that the ball clubs must do their spring training north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and east of the Mississippi, where big league baseball is concentrated.

Rule Is Self-Imposed.

Aside from this rule, which is not an ODT order but baseball's own contribution to the elimination of unnecessary travel, ODT said there was nothing to prevent the playing of exhibition games or to hinder service men from going to them if transportation is available.

He'll Bowl and Teach

NED DAY.

Ned Day, national match game bowling champion, will appear in a series of exhibition matches tomorrow and Friday at the Bryn Mawr recreation, 2015 E. 71st st. He will bowl against John Willoughby, Joe Harris, and Claude Gordon, Bryn Mawr Major league stars. After each match Day will give instruction to bowlers. The champion now is on a national exhibition tour.

RING OFFICIALS TO HOLD ANNUAL DINNER TONIGHT

More than 200 are expected to attend the annual banquet of the Illinois Boxing Officials' association in the Morrison hotel this evening. Principal speakers will be Judge Joseph Graber of the Superior court and Judge Gibson Gorman, Municipal court. Also at the speakers' table will be the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, founder and director of the Catholic Youth organization; Gen. John V. Clinnin, former head of the National Boxing association and the Illinois Athletic commission, and Col. William Troxell, acting secretary of the athletic commission. John Carmichael will be toastmaster. Rube Metz, Golden Gloves judge and vice president of the association, is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Chicago Bids for Meeting of Turf Body

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN.

The Illinois Racing board, in line with its avowed policy of seeing that nothing but the best is provided for Chicago racing patrons, made a couple more worthy contributions yesterday at a meeting to clear the track for another successful series of meetings in the Chicago area which open April 29 and close next Nov. 4.

May Meet in Chicago.

As a starter, Maj. Ednyfed H. Williams, chairman of the board, announced the National Association of State Racing Commissioners has been invited to hold its annual convention in Chicago during the Tribune's charity meeting at Washington Park which opens July 3 and ends July 7. The Massachusetts board also has extended an invitation to the association to meet in Boston.

The second item will make it exceedingly difficult for undesirables, from owners to stable boys, to participate in any way with thorobred racing in Chicagoland.

More Stringent Licensing.

The board, consisting of Maj. Williams, William Fay, and Frank Mandel, agreed that a more stringent licensing of owners, jockeys, trainers, and others connected with the racing of horses, is desirable and to that end A. J. Meserow, attorney for the board, and Secretary Clement Nance were instructed to draw up suitable forms to be returned to the board for action within three days. The form is to be a thoroly searching questionnaire of the applicant's record and reputation and will in the case of owners of horses, amount to an affidavit of ownership, precluding the use of assumed names.

All members of the board and Margaret Hughes, assistant secretary, and Harry Potter, special assistant to the board, were present. Nance was unanimously reëlected secretary for another year.

ANGOTT DEFENDS TITLE TONIGHT AGAINST ZURITA

Los Angeles, Cal., March 7 [Special].—Sammy Angott today was pronounced ready for the first defense of his newly won National Boxing association lightweight championship against Juan Zurita in a 15 round bout at the Hollywood baseball park tomorrow night.

Angott, a 1 to 4 favorite to turn back his little Mexican challenger, put the finishing touches to his condition in a final workout this afternoon in the Main st. gymnasium.

Sam, who regained N. B. A. recognition by beating Luther [Slugger] White in Hollywood last October, will weigh 134 pounds for the impending match, one under the required poundage. Because Zurita has been doing well against local competition this season, fans here are backing him to score an upset and relieve Angott of his title.

Promoter Joe Lynch is making arrangements to handle a $40,000 gate.

JOSEPH GALVIN, 44, RADIO MAKER, IS FOUND DEAD

Joseph Galvin, 44, vice president of the Galvin Manufacturing corporation, radio makers at 4545 Augusta blvd., was found dead yesterday in the bathroom of his home at 1035 Forest av., Oak Park. Dr. Hugh T. Dorsey, the family physician, said death was caused by heart disease.

Mr. Galvin was the brother of Paul V. Galvin, president of the company, whose wife, Lillian, was shot to death with her maid, Miss Edna Sibilski, Oct. 22, 1942, in the Paul Galvins' home at 3038 Normandy pl., Evanston. The double murder has never been solved.

Surviving Joseph Galvin are his widow, Myrtle, a son and two daughters. The funeral will be held at 9:45 a. m. Friday from the chapel at 5350 North av. to St. Giles church, Oak Park.

The foregoing balance sheet and statements are taken from the annual report, dated March 2, 1944 to stockholders of Celanese Corporation of America, and should be read in conjunction with such report which contains the certificate of Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Auditors, attached to such financial statements. A copy of the report to stockholders may be had upon application to the Corporation. The said balance sheet, statements, and report are not intended to constitute an offer, solicitation of offer, representation, notice, advertisement, or any form of a prospectus in respect of any security of Celanese Corporation of America.

Summary of 1943 Operations

CELANESE CORPORATION OF AMERICA continued to expand its operations during 1943. The sales volume reached a new high of $94,584,909.59. Consolidated net income for 1943, after provision for Federal income and excess profits taxes, amounted to $6,275,592.64, equal to $2.83 per common share.

Federal, state and local taxes on 1943 income amounted to $11,945,962 or $8.67 per common share.

THE OUTLOOK FOR SYNTHETICS

IN THE YEAR JUST PAST, Celanese Corporation of America, so long a pioneer in the fields of synthetic textiles, plastics, chemicals, has made many important contributions to the nation's war effort. It is a happy circumstance that the versatility of synthetics is such that the Company has no reconversion problem to complicate its planning for the transition to peacetime production—when victory is won. For many Celanese* products now serving on the war fronts, are basically the same as those which will be required by manufacturers of civilian goods to add to the beauty and comfort of peacetime living.

For example, Lumarith*, the modern plastic, which is now being used extensively in planes, gas masks, first aid kits and field ration containers, will in peacetime find wide application in a great diversity of fields such as aviation, automotive, electrical equipment and applications, packaging, building and many items of house furnishings, cold frames, hot beds and poultry houses, hand tools and builders' hardware, transportation and communication equipment and many others.

Similarly, Fortisan*, by far the world's strongest yarn, now in service to make jungle snipers' suits, flare parachutes and shroud lines, will, in the future, be important in uses where fabric of great strength and lightness is desired. Among these are men's and women's apparel, upholstery, beltings and lacings, and other industrial uses.

In the field of chemicals, Lindol*, a Celanese plasticizing chemical, is now a primary ingredient of flame-resistant insulating coatings for battleship cables, waterproofing for tents and military equipment. But this versatile chemical will fill important peacetime jobs as a component of plastics, waterproofing and insulating compounds, lubricant additives for motor oils, in varnishes and lacquers, as well as a wide range of new uses.

This is but a cross-section of Celanese contributions to synthetic textiles, plastics, chemicals. Many other products, some of which have had no civilian life as yet, will be available for a broad range of uses which will include, besides those already listed, men's and women's wear, hosiery, floor coverings, draperies, footwear.

Celanese research and planning are continuous. Celanese Butadiene for synthetic rubber, and Lumarith V.N. plastics are two recent developments. Celanese research has discovered new and economical processes for producing numerous chemicals from petroleum base materials. A new plant under construction in Texas close to the raw material supply, for the production of many vital chemicals including dyestuffs, formaldehyde and tricresyl phosphate, is expected to be completed this year. Sales of chemicals will be handled by Celanese Chemical Corporation, a newly formed sales division.

The research and development initiated to provide vital materials for the Armed Services and other wartime needs, has enabled the Company to go forward with many new products and many new uses for present products which should be extremely useful in the post-war period.

An illustrated booklet, "The Celanese Family—Textiles, Plastics, Chemicals" has just been published. It will gladly be sent on request.

FIGHT TO BLOCK TAX SQUEEZE IN 'LIFO' REVISION

Revenue Unit Asks Reinterpretation.

A bitter tax fight involving a number of the country's largest corporations is nearing the decisive stage in Washington, D. C., it was learned yesterday.

The bureau of internal revenue is attempting to force the payment of substantial additional sums in corporate taxes thru its reinterpretation of "lifo," popular accounting term for the "last-in, first-out" method of inventory valuation.

Steel companies, packers, tanners, cotton textile mills, smelters, and other interests are pushing the fight. Some of the groups have filed briefs with the revenue bureau and others are preparing legal moves, it was learned.

Tax Restatement Opposed.

Companies that had found in "lifo" protection against rising and falling prices are opposing the bureau's attempt to force a restatement of taxable earnings for the last several years in order to exact higher taxes.

"Lifo" was written into the internal revenue code of 1938. Since then it has been broadened thru revisions and has become applicable to corporations handling almost any type of raw material.

Thru it corporations have been able to balance current costs against current selling prices, reduce the speculative element in business, and present what accountants term a "more realistic" statement of earnings to stockholders.

Paper Profits Produced.

Under "last-in, first-out," as the expression implies, inventories are valued at the close of the taxable year on the basis of current replacement costs. It is the opposite of "first-in, first-out," the method previously in common use. In a period of rising raw material prices, the latter method frequently produced "paper profits" because inventory values at the close of the year were higher than at the beginning.

Corporations using "lifo" construed it as a hedge against the rise and fall of raw material prices. Thru it "inflationary" profits, which might be wiped out thru a fall in prices soon after the close of the fiscal year, were avoided.

Furthermore, corporate proponents of "lifo" explain, such inventory "profits" never did stockholders any good because they appeared only on paper. They disappeared in periods of rising raw material prices when inventory was replaced at higher cost. Over a long period, the rise and fall of market prices tended to balance, so that the government did not benefit in taxation, it was said.

Ambiguity Stirs Fight.

Behind the current tax fight is the ambiguous wording of the "lifo" provision, corporation accountants say. The companies wish to continue reducing inventory values to their equivalent in raw materials. They maintain that any other system would be impractical. The government, in its reinterpretation of the law, wishes the companies to itemize and classify each unit of year-end inventory according to its value in finished or semi-finished form.

The government's system would nullify the advantages of "lifo," result in a higher inventory valuation, and put the companies at a disadvantage in replacing inventory. If the government succeeds in its efforts, many companies will abandon "lifo" and return to the former system, it was said.

U. S., Britain Will Discuss Oil Problems

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—An Anglo-American conference on world oil problems is scheduled for Washington soon, it was disclosed here and in London today.

This second in the series of discussions between the two nations on various problems of post-war economic policy was announced by Acting Secretary of State Stettinius.

Currency questions already have been discussed and conferences with Britain and other allied nations on monetary matters, trade, aviation, and shipping are in preparation.

Hull to Head Committee.

Secretary of State Hull is to head the committee of six American policy makers named to conduct the petroleum talks for this country, with Petroleum Administrator Ickes as vice chairman.

Altho Stettinius said all petroleum questions of mutual interest to the United States and Britain could be brought up at the talks, it is expected that the rich fields of the near east, where both British and American firms have concessions, will form the major topic.

There have been reports of British opposition to the projected American pipe line from the Persian gulf to the Mediterranean.

AIR LINES DECLINE BID

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—This country's air lines have decided to remain away from a conference of air transport companies scheduled in London March 28, it was learned today. Meanwhile a senate subcommittee outlined the course to be followed in considering post-war aviation policies.

Acting thru the Air Transport association, which includes all United States air carriers, the companies agreed that no representatives would be sent. Several individual carriers previously had turned down the invitations because of travel difficulties and the time involved.

The senate commerce subcommittee statement came from Senators Clark [D., Mo.], Bailey [D., N. C.], and Brewster [R., Me.]. It expressed an intention to examine proposals for a single American international air line, or so-called "chosen instrument"; a system of regional monopolies; "freedom of the air," and "right of innocent passage" clauses in agreements.

COURT APPROVES FINANCE PLAN OF NEW HAVEN ROAD

New Haven, Conn., March 7 (AP).—Federal Judge Carroll C. Hincks, calling the terms "fair and equitable," today approved an amended plan of reorganization for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad that would wipe out present common and preferred stock values and set a new price for the Old Colony railroad, now under 99 year lease to the New Haven.

Under the terms, an additional $1,631,327 in first and refunding bonds and $1,422,459 in income bonds will be issued for the purpose of buying the Old Colony at a cost of $7,111,622. In addition, $857,143 in first and refunding bonds and $642,857 in income bonds will be reserved for Old Colony creditors contingent on 1943 earnings.

Premium writings of the Allstate Insurance companies, automobile insurance subsidiaries of Sears Roebuck & Co., in 1943 totaled $7,348,169, an increase of $147,689 over 1942, despite lower rates and decline in auto registrations, the companies reported yesterday. The gain marked the 12th consecutive yearly increase in volume.

Calvin Fentress Jr., president, said assets of Allstate Insurance company increased $728,738 to $10,560,522, and those of Allstate Fire Insurance company increased $419,702 to $2,685,274. Herbert F. Walton has been elected vice president and controler of both companies.

COURT DECISION HELD AID TO SUITS AGAINST BANK STOCKHOLDERS

The Supreme court decision that stockholders of a holding company owning shares of a bank that has failed are subject to assessment on their stock was viewed in Chicago yesterday as strengthening the position of creditors suing Chicago bank stockholders. The court held that stockholders of the Banco Kentucky company, which owned stock in the defunct National Bank of Kentucky are subject to assessment.

W. S. Ritman, receiver for the Peoples National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, which closed June 20, 1932, said the decision should aid the suit filed against 600 stockholders of the National Republic Bancorporation, which owned stock in the Peoples National. Ritman seeks to collect about $500,000 from the Bancorporation stockholders.

Samuel Ballis, receiver for the United American Trust and Savings bank, held similar views as to the effect on the suit brought against stockholders of Bancorporation which also owned stock of United American and other banks.

Stocks Swing Up Abruptly in Broad Trade

New York, March 7 (AP).—Stocks, led by high grade issues, had one of the broadest and liveliest upward swings of the last several months in today's market. Favorites set peaks for a year or longer with gains of fractions to 2 or more points.

Investment demand apparently revived on the belief a real reaction hardly was likely and that those waiting for bargain prices may be disappointed. It was observed that consistent dividend payers were among the most popular issues. Stepping up of allied raids on Germany particularly aided securities with good post-war prospects.

The direction was upward at the start. Rails, lagging most of the day, advanced in the final hour. Aircrafts were apathetic. Closing quotations were at or near the top.

Stock Average Gains.

The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 0.4 to 52, the largest gain since Jan. 5 and a new 1944 top. Transfers totaled 1,206,830 shares compared with 751,240 Monday and were the largest since Dec. 8.

Advancing into the "new high" division were General Motors, Chrysler, White Motors, Goodyear, Goodrich, United States Rubber, General Tire, du Pont, American Telephone, Western Union "A," American Power & Light preferreds, Houston Oil, Wilson & Co., and Bendix.

The exchange announced that 1,240 stock issues were listed as of Feb. 29. They aggregated 1,491,580,259 shares with a total market value of $48,494,092,518 and average price of $32.51. As of Jan. 31, there were 1,237 stock issues aggregating 1,490,445,442 shares with a total market value of $48,396,650,695 and average price of $32.47.

BOND PRICES GAIN.

New York, March 7 (AP).—A late rise in low priced rails and a steady demand for investment rated issues thruout the session pushed the bond market slightly higher today. There were scattered losers in all sections, however, and trading remained quiet.

Investment loans selling in some cases far above par drew most attention.

The Associated Press averages of all four major domestic groups ended unchanged. The 10 foreign bonds moved up 0.3 to 64.8. Sales of $10,651,200 compared with $8,572,200 yesterday.

CHICAGO VOLUME RISES.

Strength in prices on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday was accompanied by an increase in volume to 39,000 shares. Seven issues sold at new 1943-'44 highs, including General Motors, Peoples Gas, Cudahy Packing, Peter Fox Brewing, Middle West corporation, Domestic Industries A and Potter. Chicago corporation, the volume leader, gained ⅛.

NORTH ILLINOIS PUBLIC SERVICE PROFITS MOUNT

Power Sales Show Gain Over 1942.

Net income of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois in 1943 amounted to $3,669,954, equal to $5.48 a share, compared with $3,237,447, or $4.83 a share, in 1942, the annual report, issued yesterday, disclosed. Operating revenues increased to $52,977,734 from $50,717,685. Taxes, including state, local, and federal, took $9,993,133, compared with $9,318,784.

Kilowatt hours of electricity sold rose to 2,927,764,487 from 2,690,147,090 in 1942. Therms of gas sold amounted to 235,933,609, compared with 216,493,232. Fifty-two per cent of electric output was used for war production, compared with 44 per cent the year before, the report said.

24,400 Rural Units Served.

Charles Y. Freeman, chairman, noted that the company now has 6,212 miles of rural electric lines serving approximately 24,400 farms and other rural units. More than 85 per cent of all farms and rural units in its territory are using electricity or have service available from adjacent lines.

Barnsdall Oil company's consolidated profit in 1943 rose to $3,602,764, equal to $1.62 a share, from $2,801,846, or $1.26 a share, a year earlier. Crude oil production totaled 8,982,445 barrels, an increase of 16.3 per cent.

Eagle-Picher Lead company's sales during the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 totaled $44,185,653, a new high, against $40,272,209 in the preceding fiscal year. Net income, however, was only $1,160,241, equal to $1.27 a share, against $1,250,173, or $1.37 a share. Lowered earnings were shown after appropriating a reserve of $500,000 for contingencies and $300,000 for inventory, compared with $500,000 for inventory the year before.

Bucyrus-Erie Reports Gain.

Bucyrus-Erie company's profit in 1943 amounted to $2,104,797 after deducting $800,000 as a reserve for contingencies. This compared with $1,683,996 in 1942, when the deduction for reserve was $774,500. Renegotiation of 1942 war business resulted in a refund of $2,100,000, involving a net payment, after tax credits, of $385,452 to be charged to reserve.

Pressed Steel Car company's output of freight cars for domestic railways and industries increased over 1940 volume and present unfilled orders assure car building operations until late summer, J. F. MacEnulty, president, informed stockholders in the annual report. Profit in 1943 was $2,076,503, against $1,728,786 the preceding year. Last year's profit was shown after deducting 1 million dollars as a reserve for post-war adjustments and contingencies, compared with $800,000 in 1942.

Electric Bond and Share company reported net income of $5,441,107 for 1943, against $5,659,041 in 1942. The statement showed market value of investments in stocks and option warrants had increased to $110,381,000 on Dec. 31 from $51,961,900 a year earlier.

WPB ASKS PAPER BOX MEN TO SWAP ORDERS UNDER WAR IMMUNITY

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—Ten thousand manufacturers and distributors of containers, pulpboard, paperboard, and boxboard were urged by the WPB today to take advantage of war time immunity from anti-trust prosecution by swapping orders among themselves to save rail and truck transportation.

WPB said it was "absolutely necessary to eliminate all wasteful and unnecessary transportation immediately" by having orders filled by the producers nearest to the purchaser.

Under the agreement between WPB and the justice department, such voluntary exchange of orders is exempted from anti-trust regulation for the duration.

Shortage of 20 Million Tons of Coal Next Year Predicted

The nation will be 20 million tons short in meeting its bituminous coal needs next year, Dr. Charles J. Potter, deputy administrator for the solid fuels administration, predicted yesterday at a conference in the Stevens hotel under the auspices of the Chicago Coal Merchants association. He said careful estimates by the government indicate total requirements of 620 million tons and production probably not exceeding 600 million.

Potter said consumption during the last year amounted to 610 million tons. He explained that in making its production estimate the government took into account such factors as man power, absenteeism, congested transportation facilities, and seasonal letdowns in production.

Warns Users to Conserve.

He declared that coal consumers next year will have to pay more attention to conservation, indicating that home users should try for a savings of at least 10 per cent of their normal consumption.

Industries must make every effort to keep their stockpiles as high as possible, Potter said, altho he doubted that there can be much increase because of the high rate of consumption. He added that it would be well for large consumers to store the more desirable coals and to use coal currently that will not store readily.

Potter urged dealers to deliver as much coal to home users during the summer as possible and to accept substitute coals when necessary for the fuels they were accustomed to selling. He said the fuels administration is considering an order requiring coal producers to inform dealers how much they can expect to get during the year so that dealers can shop around to make up deficits.

Expects Post-War Problems.

James L. Newbold, vice president of the American Retail Coal association, Washington, told the group that the industry will have to consider carefully the many problems which will arise after the war ends. Among these will be re-adjustment of the price structure, probably gradual easing of delivery restrictions, and changes in the buying habits of customers as a result of the war.

G. Griffith Johnson, chief of the price division of the office of price administration, told of the problems met in adjusting prices at the mines which would be fair to all. He said that high cost mines were faced with additional difficulties when wage increases were granted. Because of the serious war need for coal, special price concessions were given individual high cost mines to enable them to keep operating.

Hogs Highest in 4 Months; Receipts Low

A large decrease in hog receipts sent the market at the Chicago stock yards yesterday to the highest level in four months. Receipts were the lowest for a Tuesday since early last October, when the office of price administration price ceiling on live hogs cut volume temporarily.

Snowstorms in some parts of the country, coupled with the fact that hogs left on farms are in hands much stronger financially, accounted for the drop in volume, members of the trade said. Supplies the first two days of this week were well below packer requirements. Twenty major markets received 79,000 fewer hogs than on Monday and Tuesday of last week. Many farmers are holding back hogs on the hope the market may soon move up to the $14.75 ceiling.

Top Sales Reach $14.10.

Top sales reached $14.10 a hundred pounds, the highest figure since Nov. 8 and 35 cents above the "floor." This price was paid for stock weighing 200 to 259 pounds. The average was raised 20 cents, to $13.85, the largest one day rise since Sept. 10.

A large share of good 270 to 350 pound butchers cashed at $13.90 to $14.00. The latter price was paid for stock averaging 377 pounds. Gains of 15 to 25 cents were general in most hogs over 200 pounds and some of the lightest showed advances up to 50 cents. Sows rose 15 to 25 cents.

Butcher Stock Sought.

Cattle buyers preferred butcher stock, such as beef cows, canners, and cutters, at strong to 25 cent higher prices. Little change resulted in better grades of steers, yearlings, and heifers. Most steers and yearlings sold within a range of $13.25 to $16.25. Best available sold at $16.90.

Scant supplies of sheep and lambs sold readily at steady prices. The best lot cashed at $16.35. Old ewes were quoted up to $9.00.

FTC ASKS POWER TO RULE PRICING TO WHOLESALER

Washington, D. C., March 7 (AP).—W. T. Kelley, chief counsel for the federal trade commission, proposed legislation today which would give that agency authority to regulate price differentials granted by manufacturers to wholesale buyers.

He suggested to the senate banking committee that it give the FTC authority to investigate actual manufacturing costs and revise price differentials—such as percentage reductions for quantity buying—if it believes they are discriminatory or monopolistic.

CORN SUPPLY'S ALLOCATION IS HELD POSSIBLE

Receipts in Market Are Too Small.

Canada Sends Wheat

Buffalo, N. Y., March 7 (AP).—Canada is prepared to send, via the Great Lakes, approximately 65 million bushels of wheat and coarse grain to the United States between the opening of navigation and July 1, a Canadian wheat board official said today. He said 12 million bushels of grain have been moved to the United States in a program calling for rail delivery of 40 million bushels before the end of July.

Government allocation of cash corn to industries and other essential users is inevitable soon unless there is a material increase in the movement of grain from farms, leading brokers on the Chicago Board of Trade said yesterday.

Altho brokers said they had no official information on which to base their views they explained the Commodity Credit corporation was unable to purchase 600,000 bushels of cash corn late last week for immediate shipment. Warehouse men who were called in by the CCC requested 30 to 45 days in which to obtain the grain.

Cause Oats, Barley Demand.

Belief that corn would not be available has resulted in a big demand for cash oats and barley. However, offering of these grains are extremely small. The bulk of the oats in the Minneapolis market is controled by an elevator firm which is holding its supplies. Comparatively little oats and barley in Chicago remain unsold.

Farm and terminal market supplies of corn and oats on Jan. 1 were estimated by the department of agriculture at 68 million tons, a decrease of 11 million tons, or 14 per cent below a year earlier.

Wet and warm weather in the corn belt recently has hampered shelling of cash corn and also slowed the movement to country elevators.

Futures Markets Stronger.

Short covering and professional buying resulted in a stronger undertone in grain futures. Wheat closed ⅜ to ½ cent higher, oats gained ⅛ to ⅝ cent, rye was up ¼ to ⅝ cent, and barley closed ⅜ to ½ cent higher.

Demand for flour was slow and some sales were made in the east below the ceiling price by mills seeking to reduce their stocks and provide more storage room for flour sold to the government.

POST-WAR

He who aspires to govern others and who brings great talents to great issues must be careful not to make an issue of his talents.

Ambition is not inconsistent with a political career, but the spirit of dedication must be uppermost in heart and mind.

The Times-Herald believes that only a revival of that spirit in Washington can cope with the enormous problems of the post-war era.

STOCK SPLIT.

Please inform me as to the reasons for the proposed split of Hart, Schaffner & Marx stock.—E. H.

Answer: It is a market theory that stock splits, by bringing down the price per share, increase the number of possible buyers and thus tend to improve the marketabilitv of the issue.

A letter addressed to stockholders by the company explains: "It is believed that some advantages will accrue to the company and its stockholders from a more widespread distribution of its common stock and that the proposed recapitalization will facilitate such a distribution."

It has been announced that some of the company's larger stockholders intend to sell for public distribution a substantial part of their shares after the splitup, under arrangements whereby other stockholders may join in the sale if they wish.

The recapitalization plan to be voted on by stockholders March 17 provides for the conversion of each present common share of $20 par value into 2½ shares of new $10 par stock.

RUSH EXPECTED TO BEAT RISE IN LUXURY TAXES

Levy on Gems, Furs, Liquor Up April 1.

Chicago merchants and trade associations reported yesterday that there has been no rush yet by the consuming public to buy such merchandise as jewelry, cosmetics, furs, luggage and liquor in advance of sharply higher federal excise taxes on these items April 1. Store executives agreed generally that the buying tempo undoubtedly will increase the last few days of this month, or after March 15, when income tax bills are settled.

H. W. Rieger, executive secretary of the State Street council, said loop store buying was brisk, but light compared with the purchasing that preceded excise tax impositions in previous years. Joseph T. Meek, executive secretary of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, said the present heavy buying indicated that expanded national income had made higher taxes less important to consumer budgets.

Expect Rush on Whisky.

Liquor dealers predicted a rush to buy bourbon, rye, and scotch ahead of the new taxes—if these types of spirits are available in sufficient quantities. Irving J. Wilchins, chairman of the Illinois Liquor Stores association, said proration of scarce bourbon and scotch by distillers and wholesalers had prevented consumers, retailers, taverns, and night clubs from buying ahead to any extent.

In addition to so-called "luxuries," April 1 will bring higher taxes on amusement admissions, dues, membership and initiation fees, light bulbs, telephone and telegraph service, and transportation. Increased postal rates become effective March 26. The higher excise tax rates are designed to raise $1,051,300,000, while the postal boosts are to bring in $96,900,000.

Mail Rates Increase.

First class local mail will be raised from 2 cents to 3 cents an ounce, and air mail rates will go up from 6 to 8 cents. Money order fees will be increased from a range of 6 to 22 cents to 10 to 37 cents; registered mail from 15 cents to $1 to 20 cents to $1.35; insured mail from 5 to 35 cents to 10 to 70 cents; C. O. D. mail from 12 to 45 cents to 24 to 90 cents, and fourth class mail up 3 per cent.

The new excise taxes, compared with the former rates, follow:

BOIL CITY WATER OR RISK TYPHOID, SOUTH SIDE TOLD

Chicago's 1,400,000 south siders will have to continue boiling their drinking water or risk deadly typhoid fever. This was the consensus of water purification experts yesterday.

The only hope of solving the northern Indiana sewage problem lies with President Roosevelt, said Atty. Paul Darrow, chairman of the City Club committee on lake pollution.

"And he won't act," Darrow said. "He refused the City club, and he refused Mayor Kelly no longer than two months ago. He will be morally responsible when, one of these days, we have an epidemic of typhoid and deaths."

H. P. Ramey, engineer for the sanitary district, said no results are expected for nearly a year on the hearing conducted Monday at Gary, Ind., by Col. H. J. Woodbury, United States district engineer.

Dr. Irving S. Cutter, medical adviser of THE TRIBUNE and dean emeritus of Northwestern university medical school, said the best way to insure the purity of water is to boil it in a covered container for 20 minutes, cool it in a covered container, and keep it in a covered receptacle.

COURT APPOINTS MASTER IN LAKE POLLUTION CASE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 7.—The Supreme court today appointed Luther Ely Smith of St. Louis as special master in chancery to investigate a complaint by the state of Illinois against the dumping of untreated sewage into Lake Michigan.

The complaint, filed last Oct. 18, charges the state of Indiana and the cities of Whiting, East Chicago, Gary, and Hammond with polluting the water of Chicago and other Illinois communities. It asks relief thru an injunction.

Indiana's motion to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the state was not responsible for the actions of its cities was recently denied by the court.

Decree Set Aside

MRS. BEATRICE BLACKER.

Mrs. Beatrice Blacker, 29, of Monticello, Ill., who obtained a divorce from her husband, Sgt. John Blacker, now in the South Pacific, on a charge that he deserted her on the date he entered the army, was arraigned before Judge Joseph A. Graber in the Superior court yesterday for a contempt hearing.

Earlier the judge had set aside the divorce on a showing, which she admitted, that she had not lived in Cook county a full year but only six months. She gave her address as 3915 Ellis avenue. The case came to Judge Graber's attention thru Warren H. Orr, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, whose son, Wallace Orr, is a lieutenant colonel of Sgt. Blacker's division.

Mrs. Blacker testified that she sued for divorce on the strength of letters from her husband stating that he had no objections, and on the further ground that her husband expressed doubts whether his previous marriage to another girl had been annulled. Her attorney, Gene J. Giacomelli, also was in court, facing possible contempt action. Judge Graber deferred further hearings to April 5.

7 COUNTY TOWNS OUT OF 100 TO ASSIST SHERIFF

Mulcahy Hopes for More Help.

Replies from the hundred or more letters written by Sheriff Michael F. Mulcahy to the presidents of suburban village boards asking their coöperation in law enforcement totaled seven up to yesterday. Sheriff Mulcahy said he hoped that before the year ended all country town officials would be working with him.

Mulcahy was elected sheriff last Dec. 20 by the county board to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Sheriff Peter B. Carey. The new sheriff said he would need help in the territory policed by him. The Capone-Guzik-Vogel gambling and vice syndicate has been active in the county area.

Letters Bring 7 Replies.

On Feb. 4 Mulcahy mailed the first batch of letters to village presidents. The others were dispatched in the same week.

Quotations from the seven replies were obtained yesterday. They follow:

E. F. Cornelius, Evergreen Park—"I wish to assure you of the full support of my office as well as that of our chief, and we will give every assistance possible to eliminate crime in the village, as well as in Cook county."

Albert W. Goedke, Arlington Heights—"Your letter was read at a recent council meeting and the board, like myself, experiences a very favorable reaction to same."

Homewood to Coöperate.

Fred H. Borgwardt, Homewood—"I am certain that the coöperation you desire will be given you by the chief of police and myself."

Robert F. McMaster, Oak Park—"Thank you very much for your letter of Feb. 5 concerning crime and law enforcement in Cook county."

Samuel McNab Campbell, Northbrook—"I won't hesitate at any time to avail myself of your offer to coöperate with our community."

Ira J. Hastings, Dolton—"Be assured our coöperation in any of your endeavors."

Harry C. Kinne, Wilmette—"We shall be glad to coöperate with you and assist in any and every possible way."

The sheriff said his enforcement endeavors would in no way be affected by the number or character of the replies received.

POLICE CHARGE EXTORTION TO CAPTURED PAIR

Matthew Breen, 41, of 1356 E. 61st st., an ex-convict, and Lawrence Byrnes, 41, of 6240 S. Kedzie av., who were trapped Monday in an alleged effort to extort $2,500 from Anthony J. Hoffman in Hoffman's restaurant at 501 Garfield blvd., yesterday were charged with extortion and extortion by threat of kidnaping.

Judge Cecil C. Smith of Felony court fixed bond for Byrnes, who also spells his name Burns, at $5,000 cash or $7,500 real estate on each charge. No bond was set for Breen, who was shot twice and is in Bridewell hospital. Hearing was set for March 22.

Police, who list Breen as a suspect in the shooting of John J. Williams, south side gambler, also held Edward Casper, 34, of 1502 W. 62d st., and Stanley Levicke, 28, of 5822 S. Sacramento av., for questioning in the Williams shooting. A shotgun they carried when they allegedly attempted to rob a filling station at 336 W. 47th st. will be given ballistics tests. A charge of disorderly conduct against Williams was continued in Stock Yards court to April 7.

● The red dots and red stars on the accompanying map indicate a great majority of the cities, towns, and industrial centers in Germany and German-occupied territory of Central Europe that have been bombed by American and British air fleets from bases in England since the beginning of the great air offensive against the Nazis in 1942. Targets thus indicated on the map are from a list provided by the Associated Press and from other sources. Enemy cities and other centers bombed by allied planes based upon air fields in Italy are not shown in this map, as no comprehensive list now is available in America.
